NOTIFICATION—No. 5228J.

The 31st December 1894.—IN continuation of the Notification of the 12th April 1887, and the notification of the 3rd September 1894, No. 3831J., the following rules, regarding the administration of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund, which have been prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the authority vested in him by section 65 of Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 as amended by Acts I (B.C.) of 1871, 1886 and 1892, are published for general information:—

1. The assets of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund constituted under section 42 of the Act will ordinarily consist of (a) fines and penalties levied under sections 8, 27, and 38, and (b) such sums as may from time to time be allotted to it by the Inspector-General of Police from the annual Provincial grant under the general head of Rewards. Such allotments will be drawn on enfaced bills.

2. Subject to the provisions of section 3A, the power to fine chaukidars departmentally under section 38 is vested in the District Magistrate. A copy of every order passed under section 8 or 38 by any officer to whom the District Magistrate has delegated his powers under section 3A shall be forwarded at once to the District Magistrate. On receipt thereof the particulars shall be entered in Register A prescribed by rule 6.

3. An appeal from any order imposing a fine under section 8 or 38 and passed by any officer other than the District Magistrate shall lie to the District Magistrate if lodged within 30 days from the date on which such order was communicated to the panchayat or chaukidar fined. Subject to the provisions of section 64, no appeal shall lie from any such order passed by the District Magistrate.

4. (a) All fines imposed under sections 8 and 38, and penalties imposed under section 27, and realised by a tahsildar appointed under section 46A, shall, on realisation, be at once deposited in the District or Subdivisional Treasury to the credit of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund by means of duplicate chalans.

(b) Penalties under section 27 realised by panchayats should be entered in their Register II (as prescribed by Rule VIII of the rules issued in the notification of the 12th April 1887) and sent at the close of each quarter to the officer in charge of the police-station, who will grant a receipt for the amount and deal with it under the preceding clause of this rule.

5. The Treasury Officer will retain one of the chalans and return the other, duly receipted, to the official depositing the money, who will forward it, together with the fine statements prescribed by rule 7, for entry in the accounts of the Fund.

6. Two registers, A and B, in the forms given in the appendix, shall be kept in the office of the District Magistrate (or of the District Superintendent of Police) showing the details of the operation of the above rules.

7. One clear week before the date fixed for the quarterly payment of chaukidars' salaries, the District Magistrate shall send to the officer in charge of each police-station a consolidated statement showing the fines recoverable from the chaukidars of such station. The officer in charge thereof shall thereupon at the time of the payment of salaries realise such fines and forward them under duplicate chalans for credit in the District or Subdivisional Treasury, together with any sums received by him from panchayats or tahsildars as penalties levied under section 27 of the Act. On receipt from the treasury of the duplicate chalans referred to in rule 5, he will return them, with the fine statement above mentioned, to the Magistrate with an explanation of his inability to recover any particular fine, or part thereof.

8. (a) The only officers authorised to grant rewards to chaukidars are District Magistrates, Subdivisional Magistrates, and District Superintendents of Police.

(b) Such rewards should not ordinarily exceed the sum of Rs. 5, but the District Magistrate may, if the state of the Chaukidari Reward Fund justifies it, sanction a reward of not more than Rs. 25. For any amount exceeding Rs. 25, the sanction of the Commissioner should be obtained.

(c) Rewards should, wherever possible, be paid by the District Superintendent in person, and in his absence by an officer not lower in rank than an Inspector. They should, as a rule, be presented at chaukidari parades, and in all cases with as much publicity as possible.

9. Rewards should ordinarily be given for—

(i) Information leading to the prevention or detection of crime.
(ii) Seizure or recovery of stolen property.
(iii) Arrest of offenders or absconders.
(iv) Personal courage shown in resisting dacoits or in capturing thieves or other offenders.
(v) Meritorious conduct not included in the above clauses which the District Magistrate with the concurrence of the Commissioner considers deserving of a special reward.

10 Fifteen days from the last day of each quarter the office of the District Magistrate (or of the District Superintendent of Police) shall prepare, in the form marked (C) in the appendix, an abstract account of the transactions of the Chaukidari Reward Fund during the said quarter. Such account shall be audited and compared with the Treasury accounts by an officer nominated for the purpose by the District Magistrate, to whom the result of such audit shall be duly certified.

NOTIFICATION—No. 4988J.

The 18th December 1894.—Under the provisions of section 45A. of the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act X of 1882, as amended by Act X of 1894, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to frame the following rules under which District Magistrates may appoint village headmen for the purposes of section 45 of the Code in any village for which there is no such headman appointed under any other law :—

1. In all villages in which Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 has been introduced, the Magistrate of the district may appoint the principal member of the chaukidari panchayat, or the collecting member where there is one, to be village headman.

2. In villages where Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 has not been introduced, the Magistrate of the district may appoint the principal resident landowner or rent-receiver, or his representative, or the principal resident cultivator to be village headman.

3. In the case of a principal or collecting member of a chaukidari panchayat, a clause shall be added to the appointment order under section 3 of the Chaukidari Act, to the effect that he has also been appointed to be village headman under section 45A. of the Criminal Procedure Code. When a person other than a member of a chaukidari panchayat is appointed, he shall receive a special sanad from the Magistrate.

4. The Magistrate shall keep a register of all persons who have been appointed village headmen, showing their names and fathers' names, and the villages for which they are responsible, and shall take measures to effect mutations in this register from time to time when one headman dies and is succeeded by another.

The above rules extend only to the districts of the Patna, Dacca, and Orissa Divisions, excluding the sub-division of Khurda in the district of Puri, and will come into force with effect from the 1st January 1895.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

Public Debt.

The 28th December 1894.

No. 6318-A.—The attention of holders of Government Promissory Notes, who hold them as an investment of more or less permanence, and not for the purpose of immediate sale, is called to the advantages afforded by the system of registration in Book Debt Account.

Registration and issue of Stock Certificate.

2. Government Promissory Notes of the 3½ per cent. loans may, at the option of the holders, be registered in Book Debt Account, non-transferable stock certificates being issued in lieu.

3. Government Promissory Notes intended for conversion into Book Debt must be surrendered either at the Public Debt Office, Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or at the Treasury at which interest is payable, together with a written application, forms of which will always be available at the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and may be obtained through the Treasury Officer.

4. The holder will receive in exchange for the consolidated amount of such Notes a stock certificate of the loan to which the Notes appertain, or of any other loan to which he may (subject to the conditions set forth in Notification No. 5288 A., dated 19th October 1894) desire to transfer his holding.

Reconversion into Promissory Notes.

5. A holder of a stock certificate wishing to reconvert the whole or any portion of the sum it represents into Promissory Notes of the relative loan, may do so by tendering it either to the Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or at the Treasury at which the interest is payable, endorsed thus :—

"Received in lieu of this stock certificate Government Promissory Notes of ₹ each (together with a new stock certificate for the balance amounting to ₹)."

But Promissory Notes can be issued only in sums of ₹100 or in multiples of that sum.

Sale or transfer of Stock.

6. All sales or transfers of Government stock registered in the Book Debt Account must be made in even hundreds of rupees, and by transfer to be executed in the Books of the Bank by the registered holder or his duly constituted Attorney. Such transfer is exempt from stamp-duty. Deeds of transfer forms can be obtained from the Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay directly or through the Treasury Officer.

7. When the transfer has been duly executed and the original certificate lodged at the Bank, the transferee will receive a new certificate.

8. In cases where only a portion of the stock is transferred, the portion so conveyed will be noted on the back of the original certificate, and the purchaser will receive a certificate for an amount corresponding to the portion transferred.

9. Forms of transfer and of special Powers of Attorney for effecting sales or purchases are always available at the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay on payment of a trifling fee.

Transfer to London.

10. Proprietors of stock certificates who may be desirous of transferring the whole or any portion of the amount to England can, on application, obtain from the Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay a non-transferable certificate, on production of which at the Bank of England the amount of stock so advised will be registered in the name of the payee and a certificate issued for the same.

Fees.

11. No enfacement or renewal fees will be levied in respect of the issue of stock certificates; but each such certificate issued by the Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay will be chargeable at the rate of one rupee for every ₹5,000 or part of ₹5,000.

12. A fee of four annas per cent. is chargeable on each Note issued in lieu of a stock certificate, if the Note does not exceed ₹100, and of one rupee, if it exceeds that sum.

Payment of Interest.

13. Warrants for the interest due on Registered Debt may be made payable at a Public Debt Office or at any Government Treasury.

14. In the absence of any special arrangement, the interest warrant will, if payable at the Public Debt Office, be delivered, on or after due date, to the Registered Proprietor or his Agent or to the bearer of a letter from either of them on personal application for it. If it is payable at a Treasury, it will be sent to such Treasury, and will be similarly delivered by the Treasury Officer to the Registered Proprietor or his Agent or to the bearer of a letter from either of them.

15. But, if preferred, the warrant will be sent by post to the Registered Proprietor or his Agent at any address mentioned in a written application which may be made once for all, and will be acted upon until it is revoked.

16. The warrants will be paid on presentation at the Public Debt Office or the Treasury, as the case may be.

Form of Certificate.

17. The form in which stock certificates will be issued under this Notification is printed below.

18. This Notification supersedes paragraph 1 of the Notification of this Department, No. 4565 A., dated the 20th October 1893.

STEPHEN JACOB,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

4. Deed to be executed by Principal, or by Attorney under Power of Sale properly stamped.
5. Deeds and forms of Powers are procurable at Public Debt Office, Banks of Bengal, Bombay, and Madras.
6. In case of sale, certificate to be surrendered.
7. Stock may be converted into Government Promissory Notes in even hundreds of rupees, and for this purpose may be surrendered either at the Public Debt Office or at the Treasury where interest is payable.
8. When Stock is required to be converted into Promissory Notes, certificates to be receipted "Received in lieu of this stock certificate Government Promissory Notes of ₹ each (together with a new stock certificate for the balance amounting to ₹)."
9. A fee of four annas per cent. is chargeable on each Note issued in lieu of a Stock Certificate, if the Note does not exceed ₹400, and of one rupee if it exceeds that sum.
10. No enfacement or renewal fees charged for issue of Stock Certificates; but each such certificate issued by the Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay to be charged at the rate of one rupee for every ₹5,000, or part of ₹5,000.
11. Interest may be drawn on such stock by Principal, or his Attorney under properly stamped power.
12. Interest warrants will be issued on due date without previous tender of Stock Certificate.
13. Interest warrants will be made payable either at a Government Treasury or at one of the Public Debt Offices, Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, and will be delivered either to Principal or Attorney, or to bearer of a letter from either of the former, or will be sent to the Treasury at which payment is required or direct by post to the Proprietor or his Attorney on written application being made to that effect.
14. Stock may be transferred between Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras by surrender of the Stock Certificate which will be exchanged for another of which the interest is payable at the specified Public Debt Office.
15. Stock is transferable to London by the Bank of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay and in even hundreds.
16. Promissory Notes of the 3½ per cent. Loans of 1853-54 or 1893-94 will be taken in exchange only for Stock Certificates of the 3½ per cent. Loan of 1893-94. Notes of the other 3½ per cent. Loans will be taken in exchange for Stock Certificates of any of the 3½ per cent. Loans of 1842-43, 1854-55, 1st May 1865, and 1879.

No 5894*M.*—The 22nd December 1894.—Whereas a Notification No. 3431M., dated the 20th August 1894, was published at page 202, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd idem, declaring the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to confirm the rules set forth below, which were framed by the Commissioners of the Jagdispur Municipality, in the district of Shahabad, under section 3 of Act XX of 1887, for the protection of wild birds and game, and whereas no valid objections have been raised to the proposal within one month from the date of the publication of the above notification within the Municipality, it is hereby notified that the said rules are confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor under clause (4) of the said section of the Act and are published for general information under clause (5) of section 6 of the General Clauses Act I of 1887:—

Rules.

1. "Wild birds" for the purposes of these rules shall include jungle-fowl, pheasants, partridges, plover, jays, doves, egrets, golden oriel and green fly-catchers.

2. The Local Government having by Notification No. 3428, dated the 20th August 1894, declared that the provisions of section 3, Act XX of 1887, shall apply to hares, the following rules shall apply to that animal also as well as to wild birds.

3. The "breeding season" for the purposes of these rules shall extend from 15th March to the 1st of October.

4. Whoever during the breeding season has in his possession within the limits of the Municipality of Jagdispur any wild bird or hare recently killed or taken, or exposes for sale any such bird or animal living or dead, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for each such bird or animal.

5. Whoever during the breeding season imports into the town the plumage of any kind of wild bird recently killed or taken, or the fur or skin of any hare recently killed or taken, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for the plumage of every such bird or the fur or skin of every such hare. In the case of a second conviction the fine may extend to Rs. 10 for each such bird or animal.

6. A reward not exceeding half the fine imposed and realized under rules 4 and 5 may be granted by the adjudicating Magistrate to any person who has afforded information leading to conviction for a breach of any of the above rules.

CHINA SEA—HOSSACK AND DOROTHEA SHOALS.

Non-existence of these shoals.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 634 of 1894), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information :—

Between the years 1857 and 1886 three reports were made respecting the existence of a shoal or breakers to the north-eastward of the Pratas.

1. DOROTHEA SHOAL reported in North China Mail of August 22nd 1857, by Captain Van den Kolk of the Netherlands barque Dorothea. The Dorothea was lost on a rock stated to be 9 or 10 feet below the surface, and with deep water around, in latitude 21° 5′ N., longitude 116° 40′ E.

2. HOSSACK SHOAL reported by Captain Hossack of the British ship Cyclone, originally in the Straits Times of 1861 and subsequently in the Nautical Magazine—

Captain Hossack's report was that on the 9th August 1861 two patches were seen in latitude 21° 31′ N., longitude 117° 7′ E. The easternmost patch appeared to be very shoal, and about 400 feet in extent: it was marked by breakers, and the position was ascertained by astronomical observations.

3. ALDEN BESSE SHOAL.—In Notice No. 24 of 1886, issued by the United States Bureau of Navigation, it is stated that Mr. J. A. O'Brien, Master of the barque Alden Besse, reported that on April 6th, 1886, he saw a shoal, of small extent, over which the sea was breaking, in latitude 21° 11′ N., longitude 116° 24′ E. Mr. O'Brien further stated, in answer to enquiries, that when 3 days out from Hong-Kong breakers were seen between 2 P.M. and 3 P.M.; the N.E. monsoon was blowing moderately at the time from E.N.E., the ship's speed being about 5 knots. The sea broke heavily on one particular spot and the breakers were distinctly heard; elsewhere no breaking waves were seen. The ship passed within 1½ miles of the breakers, which were estimated as 150 feet in extent. Good astronomical observations were obtained.

It will thus be seen that the descriptions given by Captain Hossack and Mr. O'Brien are very similar, but the positions differ widely; whilst the positions of Captain Van den Kolk and Mr. O'Brien agree fairly well, but the descriptions differ.

These reported dangers were searched for by H.M.S. Serpent, Commander Bullock, in 1866; by H.M. Surveying Vessel Rambler, Captain the Honourable F. C. P. Vereker, in 1889; and by H.M. Surveying Vessel Egeria, Commander A. M. Field, in 1891 and 1892, the latter search occupying 11 days. No danger has hitherto been discovered.

Whilst searching for these reported shoals both Captain Vereker and Commander Field report that the currents in the neighbourhood are exceptionally strong, and that tide rips are frequent. They have been occasionally seen like breakers over a shoal; in fact once on the night of the 22nd March 1889, Captain Vereker reports "Breakers were distinctly heard, with regular intervals between the breaks, and altering course I steamed towards them, carefully sounding. There was a fair amount of moonlight, and I was nearly convinced we had discovered the shoal until I obtained a sounding of 202 fathoms, muddy bottom, in the centre of the breakers, and found it was a small, but heavy tide rip travelling to the north-westward."

It seems probable that both Captain Hossack and Mr. O'Brien were deceived by appearances similar to that experienced by Captain Vereker, and that the breakers they saw were simply heavy tide rips.

With respect to the report of the Dorothea, which appeared in the China Mail, it is believed some error has been made; for enquiries addressed to the Netherlands authorities have elicited the information that Captain Van den Kolk reported on his arrival at Batavia, in 1857, that the Dorothea had been lost on the Pratas on the night of July 9th, 1857.

A careful consideration of the various reports made respecting the existence of dangers north-east of the Pratas, combined with the reports of the surveying officers when searching the locality, leads to the conclusion that these reported dangers need no longer remain on the Admiralty charts, and they have been accordingly expunged.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—SUMATRA, WEST COAST.

Reefs and shoals on the west coast of Atjeh and near Simaloer island.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the Vice-Admiral Commanding the Naval Forces in Neth.—India, No. 34, dated Batavia, the 22nd November 1894, is republished:—

Information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander J. P. Van Rossum, H. M. Benkoelen, of the existence of the undermentioned rocks and shoals on the W. coast of Atjeh and near Simaloer island:—

1. The bay of Laboean Hadji is north of the line "W. extreme of the bay W. N. W.," nearly full of stones.

Ships must keep the W. extreme of the bay north of the bearing W. N. W.

2. A breaker was seen on little distance north, when the ship was in approximately lat. 2° 36′ N., long. 97° 17′ E.

3. A shoal with a depth of 10 fathoms hard ground on it in approximately lat. 2° 34′ N., long. 96° 45′ E. Westward of this shoal depths of 20 to 17 fathoms have been obtained at a distance of about 1,100 yards.

4. A shoal with a depth of 5 fathoms stones on it has been obtained on the bearings: Cape Lentang N. 9° W. and Cape Toebah S. 82° W.

A reef of great extent exists here with less water, apparently connected with the island Simaloer.

The shoal lies in approximately lat. 2° 25′ N., long. 96° 25′ E., and is to be known by discoloring water.

5. A depth of 8 fathoms stones has been obtained on the bearings: Cape Lentang N. 6° E. and Cape Kakat N. 70° W.

Also a reef of great extent with discoloring water exists here, apparently with less water.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 21′.5 N., long. 96° 23′.5 E.

There is a fairway between the reefs 4 and 5 with more than 20 fathoms water.

It is advisable not to approach the S. E. coast of Simaloer island within 4 sea miles.

6. A wooded island, named Sevelak, lies north, distant about 2 sea miles from Tapak island.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 29′.5 N., long. 96° 8′ E.

7. A depth of 8 fathoms stones has been obtained on the bearings:—

N. E. extreme Tapak	S. 83° E.
S. W. extreme Tjoet (Mintjau)	S. 40°.5 E.
Sevelak island (centre)	N. 68° E.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 28′ N., long. 96° 4′.5 E.

8. A shoal, on which the sea breaks, on the bearings:—

N. E. extreme Tapak	S. ¼ E.

or in approximately lat. 2° 29′ N., long. 96° 8′.5 E.

9. A reef with a depth of 5 fathoms on it on the bearings:—

Cape Lambaja	N. by W. ¼ W.
S. extreme Simaloer Tjoet	W. ⅛ N.

or in approximately lat. 2° 29′.5 N., long. 96° 3′ E.

In this vicinity breakers were seen, so that there is perhaps less water on the shoal.

10. A shoal with breakers lying N. W., distant about 2 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 32′.5 N., long. 95° 55′.5 E.

11. A shoal with breakers, lying S. W., distant about 4 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 29′ N., long. 95° 54′ E.

12. A reef of great extent lying W. by N. ½ N., distant 5 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Ujoet.

The reef on which the sea always breaks is about 2 sea miles long., E. N. E. and W. S. W., and about 1 sea mile broad, N. N. W. and S. S. E.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 33′ N., long. 95° 52′ E.

Further deterioration of the Guptakhally Crossing.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 234, dated the 30th ultimo, issued by this office, the Port Officer, Chittagong, has given further notice that the soundings over the Guptakhally Crossing have again deteriorated, and only 10 feet reduced can be depended upon. The sand has also extended considerably into the channel between the Guptakhally buoys, and a cask buoy has been laid in 12 feet reduced to mark the same. Great caution must be used in navigating the river in this vicinity, as the sand is evidently in a state of transition.

AUSTRALIA.—TORRES STRAIT, INNER ROUTE.

Rocky patch south-westerly from Claremont island light-ship—Rocky patches west of Eel reef (c)—Amended position, northern extremity of Eel reef, and beacon thereon.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 21 of 1894) that a depth of 26 feet at low water, with rocky bottom, has been found to exist where 5¼ fathoms is shown on the Admiralty Chart south-westerly from the Claremont island light-ship.

Position—

Latitude	...	...	13° 29′ 30″ South.
Longitude	...	...	143° 41′ 15″ East.

Chart affected, No. 2921 and Australia Directory, volume 2.

As there may be a little less water hereon, care must be taken to avoid passing too near this position.

A 4-fathom rock, small in extent, has been found west of Eel reef, in the following position—

Latitude ... ... 12° 26′ 40″ South.
Longitude ... ... 143° 19′ 55″ East, with Middle Reef Beacon bearing S E. by S. ½ S., distant 5 3/10 miles. From this rock two pinnacle rocks lie N. 42° W. distant 4 cables, and N. 32° W. distant 3 cables, having depths of 4½ and 5½ fathoms respectively over them, with deep water between and around.

The position of Eel Reef Beacon has been ascertained to be 7 cables S.W. by S. ½ S., and the extremity of the reef 5 cables W. by S. ½ S., from the position of the beacon shown on Chart No. 2920.

From the beacon the reef trends in a S. E. ¼ S. direction.

Bearings are correct magnetic.

Chart affected, No. 2920, and Australia Directory, volume 2.

The foregoing positios are approximate only.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 1st January 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 29TH OF DECEMBER 1894.

A BAROMETRIC depression which had advanced from North-Western India had affected the province during the previous week, but quite at its close its effects had passed away. Hence weather was again fine and settled in Bengal on the 23rd, or the first day of the week under review, and pressure had risen rapidly, while temperature had fallen briskly. The sky was also almost cloudless, and there was a complete absence of rain. On this day, however, a feeble barometric depression had crossed the North-West Frontier and had advanced into South-West Rajputana, moving probably in an easterly direction. On the 24th the depression had again advanced rather rapidly in an easterly direction, and was near Nowgong in Bundelkhand, while a shallow secondary depression had formed in the Central Punjab. In Bengal on this day a further rather brisk fall of temperature had occurred except at a few of the western stations where temperature was rising, and which were thus beginning to be affected by the depression. The pressure also on the 24th showed the influence of the advancing depression, and it had fallen briskly, particularly at the western stations, where the fall equalled about 0·08". On the 25th the depression had again advanced eastwards, but it had become diffused and ill-defined, while the secondary depression in the Panjab had also commenced to fill up. In Bengal pressure had continued to fall rapidly owing to the advance of the depression, and had become below the normal, while the temperature changes were variable. Skies had, however, commenced to cloud over, specially at the western stations where a few rain showers were also recorded. On the 26th pressure had again fallen slowly in Bengal and was in distinct defect. Temperature, on the other hand, had risen rather rapidly, owing to the influence of the depression, and skies were moderately clouded, though only a few local showers were reported. On the 27th a brisk increase of pressure occurred in Bengal, and the effects of the depression to a great extent passed away, as pressure had become above the normal. Temperature had commenced to fall very rapidly at the western stations, where the fall in the mean temperature ranged from 6° to 9°, while at the central and eastern stations temperature was still rising and cloud proportion and humidity began to decrease and weather became more settled. In the hills however, on the 27th conditions were still disturbed, and both Darjeeling and Gnatong, reported snowstorms during which about a fifth of an inch of rain was received and which was reported on the 28th. On the 28th the cold wave of air had swept over the whole province, and the mean temperature fell usually by from 3° to 7°, while humidity also decreased rapidly and skies became cloudless. The changes of pressure, on the other hand, were rather variable. On the 29th, or the last day of the week under review, fine settled weather prevailed over the whole province, and pressure was high, while temperature and humidity were unusually low, the mean temperature being in defect by amounts ranging up to 5° at some of the south-western stations.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been above the normal at all stations except those in the hills. The excess has usually equalled from 0·01" to 0·03", and the excess amounts have been fairly equally distributed over the whole province.

Temperature.—The average mean temperature for the whole province for the week has been in defect by about 0·3°. Orissa, however, has shown a slight excess temperatue, but the variations have been in all cases small.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variations from the normal temperature of the present season are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The variations, it will be seen, have been considerable in the day or maximum temperatures, which have been generally in defect by about 1° or 2°, while the night or minimum temperatures have usually been in excess, the excess ranging up to from 3° to 4° at such stations as Patna and Purnea.

Table showing the excess or defect of the actual mean temperature from the normal for the week ending Saturday, the 29th of December 1894.

Rainfall.—Beyond a few local showers of little or no importance in the districts of Darjeeling, Gaya, Patna, Shahabad, Saran, and Sonthal Parganas, the whole province has again been rainless during the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 29th of December 1894:—

NOTIFICATION—No. 5228J.

The 31st December 1894.—IN continuation of the Notification of the 12th April 1887, and the notification of the 3rd September 1894, No. 3831J., the following rules, regarding the administration of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund, which have been prescribed by the

Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the authority vested in him by section 65 of Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 as amended by Acts I (B.C.) of 1871, 1886 and 1892, are published for general information:—

1. The assets of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund constituted under section 42 of the Act will ordinarily consist of (a) fines and penalties levied under sections 8, 27, and 38, and (b) such sums as may from time to time be allotted to it by the Inspector-General of Police from the annual Provincial grant under the general head of Rewards. Such allotments will be drawn on enfaced bills.

2. Subject to the provisions of section 3A, the power to fine chaukidars departmentally under section 38 is vested in the District Magistrate. A copy of every order passed under section 8 or 38 by any officer to whom the District Magistrate has delegated his powers under section 3A shall be forwarded at once to the District Magistrate. On receipt thereof the particulars shall be entered in Register A prescribed by rule 6.

3. An appeal from any order imposing a fine under section 8 or 38 and passed by any officer other than the District Magistrate shall lie to the District Magistrate if lodged within 30 days from the date on which such order was communicated to the panchayat or chaukidar fined. Subject to the provisions of section 64, no appeal shall lie from any such order passed by the District Magistrate.

4. (a) All fines imposed under sections 8 and 38, and penalties imposed under section 27, and realised by a tahsildar appointed under section 46A, shall, on realisation, be at once deposited in the District or Subdivisional Treasury to the credit of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund by means of duplicate chalans.

(b) Penalties under section 27 realised by panchayats should be entered in their Register II (as prescribed by Rule VIII of the rules issued in the notification of the 12th April 1887) and sent at the close of each quarter to the officer in charge of the police-station, who will grant a receipt for the amount and deal with it under the preceding clause of this rule.

5. The Treasury Officer will retain one of the chalans and return the other, duly receipted, to the official depositing the money, who will forward it, together with the fine statements prescribed by rule 7, for entry in the accounts of the Fund.

6. Two registers, A and B, in the forms given in the appendix, shall be kept in the office of the District Magistrate (or of the District Superintendent of Police) showing the details of the operation of the above rules.

7. One clear week before the date fixed for the quarterly payment of chaukidars salaries, the District Magistrate shall send to the officer in charge of each police-station a consolidated statement showing the fines recoverable from the chaukidars of such station. The officer in charge thereof shall thereupon at the time of the payment of salaries realise such fines and forward them under duplicate chalans for credit in the District or Subdivisional Treasury, together with any sums received by him from panchayats or tahsildars as penalties levied under section 27 of the Act. On receipt from the treasury of the duplicate chalans referred to in rule 5, he will return them, with the fine statement above mentioned, to the Magistrate with an explanation of his inability to recover any particular fine, or part thereof.

8. (a) The only officers authorised to grant rewards to chaukidars are District Magistrates, Subdivisional Magistrates, and District Superintendents of Police.

(b) Such rewards should not ordinarily exceed the sum of Rs. 5, but the District Magistrate may, if the state of the Chaukidari Reward Fund justifies it, sanction a reward of not more than Rs. 25. For any amount exceeding Rs. 25, the sanction of the Commissioner should be obtained.

(c) Rewards should, wherever possible, be paid by the District Superintendent in person, and in his absence by an officer not lower in rank than an Inspector. They should, as a rule, be presented at chaukidari parades, and in all cases with as much publicity as possible.

9. Rewards should ordinarily be given for—

(i) Information leading to the prevention or detection of crime.

(ii) Seizure or recovery of stolen property.

(iii) Arrest of offenders or absconders.

(iv) Personal courage shown in resisting dacoits or in capturing thieves or other offenders.

(v) Meritorious conduct not included in the above clauses which the District Magistrate with the concurrence of the Commissioner considers deserving of a special reward.

10. Fifteen days from the last day of each quarter the office of the District Magistrate (or of the District Superintendent of Police) shall prepare, in the form marked (C) in the appendix, an abstract account of the transactions of the Chaukidari Reward Fund during the said quarter. Such account shall be audited and compared with the Treasury accounts by an officer nominated for the purpose by the District Magistrate, to whom the result of such audit shall be duly certified.

NOTIFICATION—No. 4988J.

The 18th December 1894.—Under the provisions of section 45A. of the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act X of 1882, as amended by Act X of 1894, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to frame the following rules under which District Magistrates may appoint village headmen for the purposes of section 45 of the Code in any village for which there is no such headman appointed under any other law :—

1. In all villages in which Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 has been introduced, the Magistrate of the district may appoint the principal member of the chaukidari panchayat, or the collecting member where there is one, to be village headman.

2. In villages where Act VI (B.C.) of 1870 has not been introduced, the Magistrate of the district may appoint the principal resident landowner or rent-receiver, or his representative, or the principal resident cultivator to be village headman.

3. In the case of a principal or collecting member of a chaukidari panchayat, a clause shall be added to the appointment order under section 3 of the Chaukidari Act, to the effect that he has also been appointed to be village headman under section 45A of the Criminal Procedure Code. When a person other than a member of a chaukidari panchayat is appointed, he shall receive a special sanad from the Magistrate.

4. The Magistrate shall keep a register of all persons who have been appointed village headmen, showing their names and fathers' names, and the villages for which they are responsible, and shall take measures to effect mutations in this register from time to time when one headman dies and is succeeded by another.

The above rules extend only to the districts of the Patna, Dacca, and Orissa Divisions, excluding the sub-division of Khurda in the district of Puri, and will come into force with effect from the 1st January 1895.

C. W. ODLING,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 2nd January 1895.

No. 1 Marine.—It is hereby notified that, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 11 of the Petroleum Act, 1886, and in supersession of the rules sanctioned under notification No. 103Marine, dated the 1st November 1892, which was published in Part I, page 976 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd idem, the Lieutenant Governor proposes to sanction the following revised rules for regulating the grant of licenses to possess and transport petroleum in the Lower Provinces of Bengal. The rules will be taken into consideration on the expiry of a month from the date of their publication in the Gazette, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to consider any suggestions or observations that may be made by any person concerning them within that period.

C. W. ODLING,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Preliminary.

1. THE following Rules shall extend, so far as they apply to dangerous petroleum, to all the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor, and, so far as they apply to other petroleum, only to those local areas to which the rest of the Act has, for the time being, been extended by a notification of the Local Government under section 1, sub-section (3) of Act XII of 1886 as amended by Act XII of 1891.

2. In these Rules, including the forms annexed thereto,—

I. All words and expressions defined in the Act shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Act:

II. "the town of Calcutta" means all places within the local limits of the original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal; and

III. "the Municipality of Calcutta" means the municipal limits of Calcutta as defined in the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888.

Possession of Petroleum.

3. Licenses for the possession of petroleum within the town of Calcutta shall be granted only when (1) the quantity of petroleum to be kept in one place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, and (2) the place intended to be used for the keeping of the petroleum fulfils the following conditions, namely: (a) if the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 5,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire; (b) if the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place exceeds 5,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than three feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least three feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire, and there shall be a clear open space of at least twenty feet round the building.

4. Licenses for the possession of petroleum in places outside the town of Calcutta, and which are not situated within any Municipal limits shall, if the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, be granted on the same terms as those granted in the town of Calcutta for the possession in one place of not more than 5,000 gallons. If a license for the possession in one place of a larger quantity than 50,000 gallons be required, the license shall be granted on the same conditions as those granted in the town of Calcutta for the possession in one place of petroleum exceeding in quantity 5,000 gallons: provided that, if the place in which the petroleum is to be kept is situated within one hundred yards of the river Hooghly or Tolly's Nullah, or the Circular Canal, the building shall further be surrounded by a wall or earthen embankment not less than four feet high, with a trench close to, and completely surrounding the building, of sufficient capacity to hold all the petroleum stored, and to prevent its escape beyond the limits of the trench in case of fire.

5. Licenses under Act XII of 1886 for the possession of petroleum are not required in places situated within Municipal limits, other than Calcutta.

6. Notwithstanding anything in rules 3 and 4, and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed in each case, a license may be granted for the possession of any stated quantity of petroleum in a place specially prepared for the storage of petroleum in bulk, in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Local Government. The capacity in gallons shall be conspicuously marked on every storage-tank or other receptacle in such place.

7. The District Magistrate, or, in the town of Calcutta, the Commissioner of Police, or any Police Officer of, or above, the rank of head constable appointed by him in writing for this purpose, may enter any place in respect of which a license for the possession of petroleum has been granted, for the purpose of inspecting the same at any time after sunrise and before sunset.

8. The District Magistrate, Commissioner of Police or any Police Officer as aforesaid, may require a sample to be delivered to him from any tank or other receptacle containing petroleum stored in any licensed premises. The procedure prescribed in sections 12 and 13 of the Act shall apply to any demand for samples made under this Rule, and to the testing of such samples.

9. The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the possession of petroleum under the Act in places situated within the Municipality of Calcutta:—

	Rs.
Licenses for the possession of dangerous petroleum—
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 40 gallons (section 5), for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	5
When the quantity to be stored does not exceed 40 gallons (section 6)	3

Licenses for the possession of other petroleum—

	Rs.
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 500, but does not exceed 1,000 gallons	12
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 1,000 gallons but does not exceed 5,000 gallons	2	extra for each 1,000 gallons or part of 1,000 gallons in excess of 1,000 gallons.
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 5,000 gallons ...	4	for every (additional) 1,000 gallons or part of 1,000 gallons in excess of 5,000 gallons.

10. The fees for licenses for the possession of petroleum in places situated beyond the limits of the Municipality of Calcutta shall be half those prescribed in Rule 9.

11. Every license for the possession of petroleum in any place shall specify the maximum quantity of petroleum which may be stored in that place.

12. Licenses for the possession of petroleum shall be in force for one year from the date of the grant of the license: provided that the Licensing Officer or the Local Government may, at any time, for good and sufficient reason, cancel a license.

13. Any sheds on the land belonging to the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta and appertaining to the Budge Budge Petroleum Depôt, and any sheds used by the Port Commissioners for the temporary storage of petroleum brought into the Port of Calcutta under Rule 3 of the Rules made by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under section 8 of the Act, whether such sheds now exist, or may hereafter be erected, shall be deemed to be places in respect to which licenses for the possession of petroleum have been granted under those Rules.

14. Any tank or other receptacle for the storage of petroleum in bulk that may be erected on the land belonging to the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta, and appertaining to the Budge Budge Petroleum Depôt, shall be deemed to be a place in respect of which a license for the possession of petroleum has been granted under Rule 5 of these Rules.

Transport of Petroleum.

15. (1) Licenses for the transport of petroleum other than dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding 500 gallons may be either general or special. Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum shall be special only.

(2) Licenses for the tranport of petroleum other than "in bulk" shall only be granted if the petrol um to be transported is packed in air-tight tins or other vessels not easily broken, or is contained in bottles securely stopped and carefully packed so as to avoid risk of breakage.

(3) Licenses for the transport of petroleum other than dangerous petroleum in bulk by railway may be granted, if the petroleum is contained in waggons approved by the Railway Administration over whose line it is proposed to transport it.

(4) Licenses for the transport of petroleum other than dangerous petroleum in bulk by steamer or barge may be granted if the vessel is certified to be fit for the service by an Officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf.

16. General licenses for a period of twelve months shall be issued for transport by cart only. Such licenses shall authorise the holders to transport by cart any petroleum, bonâ fide their own property, without restriction as to destination or quantity.

17. The holder of a general license shall, with each consignment of petroleum conveyed under cover of his license, issue a pass in Form G appended to these Rules, specifying the places from and to which the petroleum is to be conveyed, and the quantity of petroleum covered by it. Each pass shall be numbered, and the number of the general license shall be legibly marked on a conspicuous part of the last case on the cart.

18. Special licenses for the transport of petroleum shall be in force for such period not exceeding six months from the date of the grant of the license as may be specified in the license.

19. The Licensing Officer may, for special reasons to be reported to Government, refuse a license in any case. The reasons for refusing a license shall be communicated to the applicant, if a request to that effect is preferred by him.

20. (1) Every special license for the transport of petroleum shall specify the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, the quantity of petroleum covered by the license, and the time for which the license is in force.

*(2) Petroleum transported to Calcutta or Howrah under a license shall be conveyed by land and not by water between Garden House and Cossipur.

21. Applications for special licenses for the transport of petroleum by rail, by cart, by boat, or by steamer, or by two or more of these modes of conveyance, shall specify the description and quality of petroleum to be transported, and the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and shall describe the receptacles in which it is to be contained, or, in the case of petroleum to be transported in bulk, shall state that the waggon or vessel in which it is to be carried has been approved or certified, as the case may be, as required by sub-rules (3) and (4) of rule 14. In the case of applications for licences for the transport of dangerous petroleum under section 5 of the Act, the application shall also contain the particulars required by sub-section (2) of that section.

22. When a license has been granted under these Rules for the transport of petroleum, the District Magistrate, or, in the town of Calcutta, the Commissioner of Police, or any Police Officer of, or above the rank of head constable, appointed by him in writing for this purpose, may, at any time after sunrise and before sunset, and on or before the arrival of the petroleum at its place of destination, board any steamer or boat, or detain any cart, used for such transport, for the purpose of inspecting the license and seeing whether its provisions are being complied with.

23. The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the transport of petroleum under the Act:—

	Rs.
Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum—
When the quantity to be transported exceeds 40 gallons (section 5), for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons ...	4
When the quantity to be transported exceed 3 gallons, but does not exceed 40 gallons (section 6)	2
Special license for the transport of other petroleum—
When the quantity to be transported exceeds 500, but does not exceeds 5,000 gallons	1
For every additional 5,000 gallons or a part of 5,000 gallons ...	1
General license for the transport of petroleum by cart for twelve months	100

General.

24. Licenses for the possession of transport of dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding 40 gallons and licenses for the possession of petroleum in bulk will be granted, subject to the provisions of section 5 of the Act, in the case of dangerous petroleum, under the signature of an Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Police, if the application for the license is made in the town of Calcutta, or of the Commissioner of the Division, if the application is made elsewhere.

*Applications for such licenses should be made through the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, or the Divisional Commissioner, as the case may be.

* NOTE.—This Rule shall not be read as prohibiting the conveyance by water between Garden House and Cossipur of petroleum which is brought under a license from beyond the limits of Calcutta or Howrah, and is not intended to be landed within those limits.

25. Licenses for the possession or transport of dangerous petroleum in quantities not exceeding 40 gallons, and licenses for the possession or transport of other petroleum, except the possession of petroleum in bulk, will be granted in the town of Calcutta by the Commissioner of Police, or Deputy Commissioner of Police, at Budge Budge, by the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate, or by such other Officer as the Local Government may from time to time, by an order in writing, appoint in this behalf.

26. Subject to the restrictions contained in section 5 of the Act and Rules 3 and 4 of these Rules, the Licensing Officer may, in his discretion, grant a license for the possession or transport of such quantity of petroleum as he thinks fit.

27. Licenses granted under these Rules shall be in the forms and shall have endorsed on them the Rules and conditions respectively prescribed for them in the schedule hereto annexed. Every such license shall, on the breach of any such condition, be liable to be forfeited.

28. Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made in the same manner as an application for an original license. Every such application shall be made at a date not less than fifteen days before the date on which the original license expires. The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a license as for a new license.

PART IB.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 6021*M.*—The 31*st December* 1894.—The following revised rule for Rule 8 of the rules framed by the Magistrate of Murshidabad, with the approval of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, under section 15 of the Bengal Ferries Act I of 1885, which were published in pages 157 to 161, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 18th April 1888, has been accepted by the Lieutenant-Governor and is published for general information :—

Revised Rule 8.

8. On the day of the auction the lessee to whom the ferry has been knocked down shall deposit one-fourth of the amount of bid as security for due fulfilment by him of the conditions of his lease. (If the whole deposit is not made forthwith, or as soon after the conclusion of the sale of the ferry as the presiding officer may think necessary, the ferry shall be liable to resale, and any loss resulting on the resale shall be made good by the bidder at the first sale, and any sum deposited shall be forfeited as far as is required to make good the loss. Similarly, if the contract under section 9 of the Act is not executed and filed within a fortnight from the date of sale, the ferry shall be liable to resale, the purchaser at the first sale being liable to make good any loss on the second sale, and the amount deposited shall be liable to forfeiture to the extent of such loss.) This deposit may, however, at the discretion of the Magistrate, be dispensed with in the case of small ferries, in which boats or canoes are not provided by Government.

Blankets and cloth of sorts, wool, ivory, rhinoceri horns, yak tails, musk, honey, wax, lac, ponies, and various other articles from Bhootan and Thibet; and also tea, paddy, rice, tobacco, jute, mustard seed, cotton and other crops which are grown in the Western Duars, will be available at the fair. Alipur is just 11 miles from Kuch Bihar and within easy reach of Jalpaiguri and Kuch Bihar. A good cart and driving road exists all the way. Arrangements for good drinking water and for comfort of strangers will be made. The mela will be held on high ground situate just on a good stream known as the Kaliani river. Houses, &c., will be supplied at Government expense. Police and Government officers will see to the comfort and protecting of all strangers attending the fair.

Small rewards will be paid for approved local agricultural produce exhibited at the fair.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.
BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

PART V.

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 4th January, 1895, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. I OF 1895.

An Act to amend the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882.

XV of 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1895; and

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of April, 1895.

XV of 1882.

Amendment of section 6, Act XV, 1882.

2. In section 6 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, hereinafter referred to as "the said Act," after the words "Code of Civil Procedure" the following shall be added, namely :—

"and to be a Court subordinate to the High Court within the meaning of section 6 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879."

XVIII of 1879.

Amendment of section 7, Act XV, 1882.

3. (1) For the proviso to the first paragraph of section 7 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"Provided that no person shall be appointed to be a Judge of such Court, or be authorised to exercise the powers of a Judge of such Court, unless he is—

(a) an advocate of a High Court of Judicature established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or 24 & 25 Vict., c. 104.

(b) a vakil or attorney of any such High Court, or

(c) a Judge of a Court of Civil Judicature of not less than five years' standing:

and that not less than one-third of the persons so appointed, including the Chief Judge, shall be advocates of one of the said High Courts."

(2) The last paragraph of section 7 of the said Act is hereby repealed.

Insertion of new section after section 8, Act XV, 1882.

4. After section 8 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Performance of duties of absent Judge.

"8A. During any absence of the Chief Judge the Local Government may appoint any of the Judges of the Court who may be qualified for the appointment of Chief Judge to perform the duties of Chief Judge, and may appoint some other duly qualified person to act as a Judge of the said Court until the Chief Judge has returned from such absence, and during any absence of a Judge of the said Court the Local Government may appoint a duly qualified person to act as a Judge of the said Court, and every person so appointed shall be authorized to perform the duties of a Judge of the said Court until the return of the absent Judge or until the Local Government shall see cause to cancel the appointment of such acting Judge."

Substitution of new section for section 9, Act XV, 1882, and temporary continuance of existing procedure and practice.

5. For section 9 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"9. (1) The High Court may from time to time, by rules having the force of law,—

Procedure and practice of Small Cause Court.

(a) prescribe the procedure to be followed and the practice to be observed by the Small Cause Court either in supersession of or in addition to any provisions which were prescribed with respect to the procedure or practice of the Small Cause Court on or before the thirty-first day of December, 1894, in or under this Act or any other enactment for the time being in force, and

(b) cancel or vary any such rule or rules.

"Rules made under this section may provide, among other matters, for the exercise by one or more of the Judges of the Small Cause Court of any powers conferred on the Small Cause Court by this Act or any other enactment for the time being in force.

"(2) The law, and any rules and declarations made, or purporting to be made, thereunder, with respect to procedure or practice, in force or treated as in force in the Small Cause Court on the thirty-first day of December, 1894, shall be in force, unless and until cancelled or varied by rules made by the High Court under this section."

Addition to section 14, Act XV, 1882.

6. To section 14 of the said Act the following shall be added, namely :—

"Explanation.—For the purposes of this section an application for possession under section 41 shall be deemed to be a suit."

Addition to section 18, Act XV, 1882.

7. To section 18 of the said Act the following proviso shall be added immediately before the first Explanation, namely :—

"Provided that where the cause of action has arisen wholly within the local limits aforesaid, and the Court refuses to give leave for the institution of the suit, it shall record in writing its reasons for such refusal."

Addition to section 18, Act XV, 1882.

8. After section 18 of the said Act the following shall be added, namely :—

"18A. The Small Cause Court may allow a plaintiff at or before the first hearing of a suit in which a joint and several liability is alleged on a cause of action arising either wholly or in part within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court to abandon the suit as against any defendant who does not reside or carry on business or personally work for gain within such local limits, and to sue for a decree against such defendants only as do so reside, carry on business or personally work for gain."

Plaintiff may abandon suit against defendant resident out of jurisdiction.

Addition to section 19, Act XV, 1882.

9. To section 19 of the said Act the following shall be added, namely :—

"19A. Whenever the Court finds that for want of jurisdiction it cannot finally determine the question at issue in the suit, it may at any stage of the proceedings return the plaint to be presented to a Court having jurisdiction to determine the question. When the Court so returns a plaint, it shall comply with the provisions of the second paragraph of section 57 of the Code of Civil Procedure and make such order with respect to costs as it may think just, and the Court shall for the purposes of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, be deemed to have been unable to entertain the suit by reason of defect of jurisdiction. When a plaint so returned is afterwards presented to a High Court, credit shall be given to the plaintiff for the amount of the court-fee paid in the Small Cause Court in respect of the plaint in the levy of any fees which according to the practice of the High Court are credited to the Government."

XIV of 1882.

XV of 1877.

Amendment of section 21, Act XV, 1882.

10. In section 21 of the said Act, after the words "or value thereof" the words "and all suits whereof the amount or value of the subject-matter exceeds one thousand rupees" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 22, Act XV, 1882.

11. In section 22 of the said Act, for the words "two thousand" the words "one thousand" shall be substituted.

Repeal of Act XV, 1882, section 23 and second schedule.

12. Section 23 of and the second schedule to the said Act are hereby repealed.

Substitution of new Chapter for Chapter VI, Act XV, 1882.

13. For Chapter VI of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"CHAPTER VI.

"NEW TRIALS AND APPEALS.

General finality of decrees and orders of Small Cause Court.

"37. Save as otherwise provided by this Chapter or by any other enactment for the time being in force, every decree and order of the Small Cause Court in a suit shall be final and conclusive.

New trial of contested cases.

"38 Where a suit has been contested, the Small Cause Court may, on the application of either party, made within eight days from the date of the decree or order in the suit (not being a decree passed under section 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure), order a new trial to be held, or alter, set aside or reverse the decree or order, upon such terms as it thinks reasonable, and may, in the meantime, stay the proceedings.

XIV of 1882.

"Explanation.—Every suit shall be deemed to be contested in which the decree is made otherwise than by consent of or in default of appearance by the defendant.

Removal of certain causes into High Court.

"39. (1) In any suit instituted in a Small Cause Court in which the amount or value of the subject-matter exceeds the sum of one thousand rupees, the defendant or any one of the defendants may, before the day fixed by the summons for the appearance of the defendant or within eight days after the service of the summons on him, whichever period shall last expire, apply ex parte on an affidavit setting forth the facts on which he relies for his defence to a Judge of the High Court for an order removing the cause into the High Court.

"(2) Unless the Judge is of opinion that the application has been made solely for the purpose of delay, the applicant shall be entitled to such order as of right, but it shall be lawful for the Judge, if he shall think fit, in and by such order to require the applicant to give security to a reasonable amount to be specified in the order for the payment of any costs which may become payable by him to the plaintiff in respect of the said suit, and such Judge may also, if he shall think fit, declare that the removal directed by such order shall be conditional upon the completion of such security within a reasonable time to be prescribed in the order.

"(3) If the applicant fail or neglect to complete the required security (if any) within the prescribed time (if any), the said order shall be discharged and the suit shall proceed in the Small Cause Court as if such order had never been made.

"(4) If the plaintiff in any case which has been removed under this section into the High Court has abandoned a portion of his claim in order to be able to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of a Small Cause Court, he shall be permitted to revive the portion of his claim so abandoned.

"40. (1) When a suit has been removed into the High Court under the last foregoing section, it shall be heard and disposed of by such Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, and the said Court shall have all the same powers and jurisdiction in respect thereof as if it had been originally instituted in such Court.

Rules with respect to suits removed under the last foregoing section.

"(2) In every suit so removed as aforesaid the affidavit filed under section 39, sub-section (1), shall be treated as a written statement of the defendant tendered under section 110, of the Code of Civil Procedure unless the Court shall otherwise order. XIV of 1882.

"(3) In every suit so removed as aforesaid credit shall be given to the plaintiff for the amount of the court-fee paid in the Small Cause Court in respect of the plaint in the levy of any fees which according to the practice of the High Court are payable to the Government."

CHINA SEA—Hossack and Dorothea shoals.

Non-existence of these shoals.

The following Notice to Mariners (No. 634 of 1894), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

Between the years 1857 and 1886 three reports were made respecting the existence of a shoal or breakers to the north-eastward of the Pratas.

1. Dorothea shoal reported in North China Mail of August 22nd 1857, by Captain Van den Kolk of the Netherlands barque Dorothea. The Dorothea was lost on a rock stated to be 9 or 10 feet below the surface, and with deep water around, in latitude 21° 5′ N., longitude 116° 40′ E.

2. Hossack shoal reported by Captain Hossack of the British ship Cyclone, originally in the Straits Times of 1861 and subsequently in the Nautical Magazine—

Captain Hossack's report was that on the 9th August 1861 two patches were seen in latitude 21° 31′ N., longitude 117° 7′ E. The easternmost patch appeared to be very shoal, and about 400 feet in extent: it was marked by breakers, and the position was ascertained by astronomical observations.

3. Alden Besse shoal.—In Notice No. 24 of 1886, issued by the United States Bureau of Navigation, it is stated that Mr. J. A. O'Brien, Master of the barque Alden Besse, reported that on April 6th, 1886, he saw a shoal, of small extent, over which the sea was breaking, in latitude 21° 11′ N., longitude 116° 24′ E. Mr. O'Brien further stated, in answer to enquiries, that when 3 days out from Hong-Kong breakers were seen between 2 P.M. and 3 P.M.; the N.E. monsoon was blowing moderately at the time from E.N.E., the ship's speed being about 5 knots. The sea broke heavily on one particular spot and the breakers were distinctly heard; elsewhere no breaking waves were seen. The ship passed within 1½ miles of the breakers, which were estimated as 150 feet in extent. Good astronomical observations were obtained.

It will thus be seen that the descriptions given by Captain Hossack and Mr. O'Brien are very similar, but the positions differ widely; whilst the positions of Captain Van den Kolk and Mr. O'Brien agree fairly well, but the descriptions differ.

These reported dangers were searched for by H.M.S. Serpent, Commander Bullock, in 1866; by H.M. Surveying Vessel Rambler, Captain the Honourable F. C. P. Vereker, in 1889; and by H.M. Surveying Vessel Egeria, Commander A. M. Field, in 1891 and 1892, the latter search occupying 11 days. No danger has hitherto been discovered.

Whilst searching for these reported shoals both Captain Vereker and Commander Field report that the currents in the neighbourhood are exceptionally strong, and that tide rips are frequent. They have been occasionally seen like breakers over a shoal; in fact once on the night of the 22nd March 1889, Captain Vereker reports "Breakers were distinctly heard, with regular intervals between the breaks, and altering course I steamed towards them, carefully sounding. There was a fair amount of moonlight, and I was nearly convinced we had discovered the shoal until I obtained a sounding of 202 fathoms, muddy bottom, in the centre of the breakers, and found it was a small, but heavy tide rip travelling to the north-westward."

It seems probable that both Captain Hossack and Mr. O'Brien were deceived by appearances similar to that experienced by Captain Vereker, and that the breakers they saw were simply heavy tide rips.

With respect to the report of the Dorothea, which appeared in the China Mail, it is believed some error has been made; for enquiries addressed to the Netherlands authorities have elicited the information that Captain Van den Kolk reported on his arrival at Batavia, in 1857, that the Dorothea had been lost on the Pratas on the night of July 9th, 1857.

A careful consideration of the various reports made respecting the existence of dangers north-east of the Pratas, combined with the reports of the surveying officers when searching the locality, leads to the conclusion that these reported dangers need no longer remain on the Admiralty charts, and they have been accordingly expunged.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 655 of 1894) that on 25th October 1894 a light would be exhibited from a light-house recently erected at Funakawa, south-east point of Oga Sima peninsula.

Funakawa light is a fixed light, showing the following sectors:—white, from N. 36° E. to N. 10° E.; red, from N. 10° E., through north, to N. 5° W. (over Akano rock, distant 1 9/10 miles from the light-house); white, from N. 5° W. to N. 66° W.; green, from N. 66° W. to N. 77° W. (over a 2½ fathoms shoal, distant 8 cables, and a 3 fathoms shoal, distant 8¾ cables, from the light-house); and white, from N. 77° W., through west, to S. 22° W. It is elevated 141 feet above the sea, and visible in clear weather from a distance of 6 miles.

The light-house, 13 feet high, is painted white.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—SUMATRA, WEST COAST.

Reefs and shoals on the west coast of Atjeh and near Simaloer island.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the Vice-Admiral Commanding the Naval Forces in Neth.—India, No. 34, dated Batavia, the 22nd November 1894, is republished:—

Information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander J. P. Van Rossum, H. M. Benkoelen, of the existence of the undermentioned rocks and shoals on the W. coast of Atjeh and near Simaloer island:—

1. The bay of Laboean Hadji is north of the line "W. extreme of the bay W. N. W.," nearly full of stones.

Ships must keep the W. extreme of the bay north of the bearing W. N. W.

2. A breaker was seen on little distance north, when the ship was in approximately lat. 2° 36′ N., long. 97° 17′ E.

3. A shoal with a depth of 10 fathoms hard ground on it in approximately lat. 2¾° N., long. 96° 45′ E. Westward of this shoal depths of 20 to 17 fathoms have been obtained at a distance of about 1,100 yards.

4. A shoal with a depth of 5 fathoms stones on it has been obtained on the bearings: Cape Lentang N. 9° W. and Cape Toebah S. 82° W.

A reef of great extent exists here with less water, apparently connected with the island Simaloer.

The shoal lies in approximately lat. 2° 25′ N., long. 96° 25′ E., and is to be known by discoloring water.

5. A depth of 8 fathoms stones has been obtained on the bearings: Cape Lentang N. 6° E. and Cape Kakat N. 70° W.

Also a reef of great extent with discoloring water exists here, apparently with less water.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 21′.5 N., long. 96° 23′.5 E.

There is a fairway between the reefs 4 and 5 with more than 20 fathoms water.

It is advisable not to approach the S. E. coast of Simaloer island within 4 sea miles.

6. A wooded island, named Sevelak, lies north, distant about 2 sea miles from Tapak island.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 29′.5 N., long. 96° 8′ E.

7. A depth of 8 fathoms stones has been obtained on the bearings:—

N. E. extreme Tapak	S. 83° E.
S. W. extreme Tjoet (Mintjau)	S. 40°.5 E.
Sevelak island (centre)	N. 68° E.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 28′ N., long. 96° 4′.5 E.

8. A shoal, on which the sea breaks, on the bearings:—

N. E. extreme Tapak	S. ¼ E.
Sevelak island (centre)	N. W. ¾ W.

or in approximately lat. 2° 29′ N., long. 96° 8′.5 E.

9. A reef with a depth of 5 fathoms on it on the bearings:—

Cape Lambaja	N. by W. ¼ W.
S. extreme Simaloer Tjoet	W. ⅞ N.

or in approximately lat. 2° 29′.5 N., long. 96° 3′ E.

In this vicinity breakers were seen, so that there is perhaps less water on the shoal.

10. A shoal with breakers lying N. W., distant about 2 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 32′.5 N., long. 95° 55′.5 E.

11. A shoal with breakers, lying S. W., distant about 4 sea miles from the W., extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 29′ N., long. 95° 54′ E.

12. A reef of great extent lying W. by N. ½ N., distant 5 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

The reef on which the sea always breaks is about 2 sea miles long., E. N. E. and W. S. W., and about 1 sea mile broad, N. N. W. and S. S. E.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 33′ N., long. 95° 52′ E.

THE MONSOON OF 1894.

THE following report is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

The 7th January 1895. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL SUMMARY FOR THE MONSOON PERIOD OF 1894.

THE following statement is intended to give a brief history of the more important features which have characterized the south-west monsoon period and preceding months of 1894 in Bengal.

January was a month in which the north-east monsoon conditions were not very strongly developed. Although rather numerous barometric depressions appeared in North-Western India, and passed eastwards through Upper India, they all practically broke up before reaching Bengal. The waves of warm moist air, however, in front of these depressions affected Bengal largely during the month, but with one slight exception the depressions themselves did not give any rain to Bengal. Owing, therefore, to this absence of the passage of cold weather storms through Bengal, on which almost the whole of the rainfall of this season depends, the province was practically rainless in this month, except for some light rain in Orissa and some showers towards the close of the month in Bihar and North Bengal. The waves of warm moist air in connection with the depressions, however, caused the mean temperature of the province to be above the normal by about a degree, the excess temperature being largest in the west of the province, while humidity was also decidedly higher than usual during January. Owing to the absence of depressions cloud proportion was unusually low, and only equalled about half the normal amount. In the case of pressure the changes from day to day were on the whole small, indicating the existence of fairly settled weather practically throughout the month, while the mean pressure for the whole period was in defect by about 0·02″ to 0·03″.

In February the number of barometric depressions coming from Western and North-Western India and affecting Bengal was small, and those which occurred were of comparatively little importance. A feeble depression affected the province and gave rain in Bihar and North Bengal on the 2nd and 3rd. A second depression coming from Western India affected Bengal on the 8th, 9th, and 10th, and again gave moderate rain in Bihar. Later on a feeble low-pressure area was formed over Bengal, and conditions became disturbed, and during the week ending the 24th rather numerous local storms occurred, most of them of the ordinary hot-weather type, which gave light to moderate rain over the greater part of the province of Bengal (except Orissa), and also in Assam. These disturbed conditions continued in East and North Bengal and in parts of Chota Nagpur till the close of the month, but in other districts the disturbances ceased from about the 24th.

Owing to the disturbances being smaller in number and less influential than usual, rainfall was smaller than the normal in all divisions of Bengal except Bihar and Chota Nagpur. The average falls were indeed in all cases less than an inch, and in Orissa and South-West Bengal they were particularly defective.

Again, temperature was above the normal practically throughout February, the excess in the mean temperature varying from about 4° in the north and north-east of the province to about 1° to 2° in South Bengal and Orissa, and indeed for the whole of Bengal the excess averaged 3°·1. Humidity was also much higher than usual, the excess ranging up to about 25 per cent. of the usual amount at Gaya. The cloud proportion was also in rather large excess at many stations.

The mean pressure for the month was in very slight excess of the normal. In the great majority of cases the excess varied between 0·01″ and 0·02″, and was fairly equally distributed over the province. So far, however, as can be judged from the readings at Darjeeling, it would appear that the excess pressure was largest in the upper strata of the atmosphere, for at that station the excess equalled 0·058″.

In March fine settled weather prevailed over the province for the greater part of the month, and the only disturbed conditions of any importance were in connection with a barometric depression which occurred over Bengal during the first week of the month. Practically none of the barometric depressions or storms originating in or travelling through North-Western India advanced over Bengal, and hence the province was remarkably free from disturbance during the month. Thus the amount of rain which was received over the province was very small, except in East Bengal. The falls in most divisions averaged less than, or about a quarter of an inch, and in South-West Bengal the fall was less than two-thirds of an inch. The falls were hence much below the normal in all divisions except East Bengal, which, on the other hand, received the large average fall of 4·71 inches, or about sixty per cent. more than usual in March.

The mean temperature for the month was slightly above the normal over the southern half of the province and in slight defect over the northern half, the variations ranging from an excess of 1°·4 in Orissa to a defect of 0°·5 in Bihar. Humidity was lower than usual at the majority of stations, and the defect was largely noticeable in South-West Bengal, while cloud proportion, on the other hand, was usually above the normal. The defect in the humidity was probably due to the fact that winds during March had an unusually strong westerly element in them, and, except at a few of the eastern stations, where easterly and north-easterly winds were reported, winds were westerly or west-south-westerly in almost all cases. The northerly element in the wind directions, which sometimes prevails in March, was not strongly developed.

The mean pressure for the month was below the normal in all districts, the defect being moderate in amount and equalling about 0·025″ in South Bihar and in the extreme east of the province, while it equalled 0·04″ in South-East Bengal. On the other hand, in Chota Nagpur and the west of Bihar the defect only equalled 0·01″.

In April for the first day or two weather was quite settled, but from the 3rd instant slightly disturbed conditions set in, which lasted till the 7th, during which a considerable number of local or hot weather storms with rain occurred. At this period a barometric depression developed over North Bengal, where pressure on the 7th became a fifth of an inch in defect. The disturbed conditions brought about by this depression apparently passed in an easterly direction over Cachar, and from the 8th to the 11th Silchar reported no less than sixteen and a third inches of rain. Weather over the greater part of Bengal during this period was fine and settled, but from the 12th to the 14th, when the disturbance in Cachar was passing away, rather numerous local storms with rain occurred in East and North Bengal.

At the end of the second and beginning of the third week in April an ordinary hot weather barometric depression developed in Chota Nagpur, and during the third week hot season storms or nor'-westers with moderate to heavy rain were numerous in all districts, and these continued to a considerable extent up to the end of the month. Hence the number of hot weather storms occurring in April was about equal to those in normal years, and many of them were of moderate strength.

The amount of rain brought by these disturbances was decidedly larger than usual in North Bengal, and rather larger than usual in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The falls in South-West Bengal and Bihar were about the usual quantity, but decided defects were reported in East Bengal. One noticeable feature in the rainfall of April was the extraordinarily heavy fall in Silchar, which received no less than 23·54 inches during the month.

The mean temperature for the month was in defect by amounts which usually were less than one degree at the great majority of stations except at a few in the east, north-east, and south-east of the province, where very slight defects were registered. Humidity and cloud proportion, on the other hand, were decidedly higher than usual. Winds were decidedly less strongly westerly than usual, and the mean directions for the month were southerly in the centre, south and west of the province, south-easterly at the south-eastern and eastern stations, and easterly at most of the northern stations. The mean pressure for the month was very slightly in defect of the normal, and the usual variations were from 0·01″ to 0·02″.

In the Bay weather was fine up till nearly the close of the month, when a small cyclonic storm of very considerable intensity was formed in the Andaman Sea. The storm apparently originated in an area of comparatively low pressure on the 26th of April to the west of the Tenasserim coast. The depression grew deeper on the 27th, and on the morning of the 28th a small storm had formed in the Andaman Sea, which developed rapidly on that day and advanced into the Gulf of Martaban. The centre of the storm passed inland about midway between Rangoon and Moulmein at noon on the 29th, and afterwards broke up during the night of this date. It was a rather severe storm, though small in extent, and appears to have done a considerable amount of damage.

This storm apparently formed in front of the first or preliminary advance of south-west monsoon winds up the Bay.

In May the hot season conditions were very strongly developed, and the number of local storms with rain which occurred was smaller than usual, so that temperature was generally unusually high. A hot weather low pressure area formed over the province on the 7th and 8th, and hence very strong southerly winds set in at the head of the Bay, bringing up much moisture and giving rather numerous local storms to the east and north of the province. This depression was, however, of short duration and it disappeared on the 9th or 10th, but reappeared on the 13th and 14th, and it continued to exist in a more or less pronounced form up till the 28th or 29th, when it filled up or passed away southwards. During the existence of the depression, which was well marked in the northern districts, dry and indeed almost rainless weather with more or less westerly winds existed to the west and south of the depression, and partly over the area occupied by it. Hence unusually high temperatures were recorded over the western half of Bengal towards the close of May, while East and North Bengal received frequent rain during local storms, and thus the two halves of the province showed great contrasts of temperature conditions.

Thus on the morning of May 28th, while at the extreme eastern stations the mean temperature of the previous 24 hours had been in defect by amounts ranging up to 6°·9 at Sibsagar, over Bengal generally temperature was in large excess by amounts ranging up to the exceedingly large amount of 16°·2 at Bankura. On this morning no less than 15 stations reported maximum temperatures of 110° and upwards, while at Bankura a temperature of 117°·1 was reported, which was no less than 23°·3 above the normal maximum temperature of that day.

Towards the close of the month, as the low pressure moved southwards, conditions changed and local storms with rain began to occur in the western districts, and temperature fell. The mean temperature for the month was hence in excess by about 4° or 5° in the west of the province, while it was in slight defect at the extreme eastern stations. Pressure, on the other hand, was rather largely below the normal, the defect usually ranging from 0·05″ to 0·07″, and being smallest at the southern and south-western stations. Humidity and cloud proportion were generally in slight excess during May.

An average fall of 7·66 inches of rain was received in North Bengal, and one of 5·94 inches in East Bengal, but even these rather large amounts were less than the usual amount by a quarter to one-sixth the usual falls. South-west Bengal only received 3·13 inches, or not much more than half the normal fall, while Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur each received average falls of only about four-fifths of an inch of rain, and these represent only about a third or a quarter of the usual falls.

The actual falls were heaviest in South-East Bengal, where the districts of Chittagong and South Lushai Hills received about sixteen and seventeen inches of rain. Another area of heavy precipitation also existed in North Bengal, where average falls of 11 to 14 inches were reported in the Darjeeling and Kuch Bihar districts. On the other hand, in Palamau and Puri and in some parts of Bihar either practically no rain at all or very light falls indeed were received during the month.

During May it is usual for two or three strong advances of south-west monsoon winds to take place in the south of the Bay, the indications of which are to be found in the increased wind velocities at the Ceylon stations. In front of such advances also cyclonic storms are frequently, if not usually formed. In the present year these advances were conspicuous by their absence, and no strong advance of monsoon winds was registered at all. A slight strengthening of the winds at the Ceylon stations was noticed from about the 1st to the 5th of May, but if this did represent an advance of monsoon winds, it was of a most feeble character. Later on, about the 29th to the 31st, there were indications of the existence of squally, unsettled weather in the centre of the Bay, which may have formed in front of a feeble inrush of moist winds over the Bay, but again if this did represent an advance of the monsoon current, it was of extremely feeble character. Practically, therefore, there was no real advance of monsoon winds in the Bay in May.

In the early part of June a very feeble hot weather barometric depression formed over the west of Bihar, but it only existed for a few days, though its influence was sufficient to give rather numerous hot weather storms with rain for the first week or ten days of the month. During this period certain changes were taking place over the sea area, and feeble monsoon winds, due to the Arabian Sea current, made their appearance on the Malabar coast on the 4th and 5th of June, and then slowly advanced northward along the Bombay coast, and also penetrated partly into the interior. This advance on the whole appears to have been decidedly weaker than usual. In the extreme south of the Bay the first rather strong advance of monsoon winds, due to the Bay current occurred on the 1st of June, on which date winds became strong, and light to moderate rain fell at the Ceylon stations. From this date this branch of the monsoon current continued to blow with moderate strength only at the Ceylon stations and at the stations on the South Coromandel coast, and again on the whole the strength of these winds was rather smaller than usual. From about the 7th to the 9th of June this current appeared to be creeping up the east and centre of the Bay, and had probably reached Burma. On about the 9th instant it was approaching the north of the Bay. It had not apparently passed over the south-eastern portions of Bengal to any appreciable extent up to the 9th instant, and the rainfall occurring in the central and western parts of Bengal was practically confined to local showers, though these were decidedly numerous, and the general and heavy rain accompanying the first burst of the monsoon had not occurred. From the 10th to the 12th the changes were of little importance, but on the latter date a distinct low pressure area commenced to form in South-East Bengal and over the neighbouring parts of the Bay. This rapidly developed into a small cyclonic storm, the centre of which was on the 13th not far from Chittagong, and immediately after its formation it began to move in a north-westerly direction, and on the 14th was between Jessore and Faridpur, but it had filled up to a certain extent. On the 15th it was in Chota Nagpur, probably not far from Chaibassa, but was then decidedly feeble. On the 16th it had passed away from the province altogether. This storm was of importance, as it brought up the monsoon current and rains over the whole province, and these may be said to have set in over Bengal on the 13th and 14th of June. A noticeable feature was the very rapid extension of the monsoon rains over the whole province after they had commenced in the southern districts, and hence, while the rains were only a day or two earlier than usual in setting in over South-West and Central Bengal, they were at least a week earlier than usual in commencing over Chota Nagpur and Bihar.

The current of monsoon winds over Bengal began to fall off from the 17th to the 20th, when another barometric depression formed in the north of the Bay, and this after developing slightly passed inland during the 21st, and on the 22nd was between Chaibassa and Balasore, while on the 23rd it was to the west of Chota Nagpur and was still advancing in a north-westerly direction, and hence had ceased to affect the province. For the period the 17th to the 21st, therefore, rainfall was light, but with the wave of monsoon winds brought up by the depression and the current following in after it, rainfall continued heavy and general up till the 27th of June.

On the 28th, again, the monsoon current flowing over Bengal fell off in force, and a third depression formed in the Bay, and this passed inland on the morning of the 30th close to Balasore, and it again gave a heavy advance of monsoon winds to Bengal.

With the three depressions or storms in the period from the 13th to the end of June, each bringing up heavy rainfall, the monsoon conditions were rather strongly developed during this period, and comparing the falls over the whole province with the normal values, the actual rainfall equalled 114 per cent. of the normal. The actual rainfall during June varied from between 20 and 30 inches in and near the hills in North Bengal, and also over considerable parts of South-East Bengal, to falls of between 3 and 5 inches in parts of the Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga districts; but the greater part of the province received between 10 and 15 inches. Compared with the normal fall for June the actual falls were decidedly below the normal over the eastern half of the province, and also in the greater part of the northern districts. In the majority of cases where defects were recorded they were small, usually up to 5 inches, but over a considerable area in North Bengal the defect varied from 5 to 10 inches, while at Buxa in the Darjeeling district the defect was no less than 16·16 inches. On the other hand, the whole of Western Bengal, Chota Nagpur, Orissa, and the south of Bihar, received a rainfall above the normal, the excess amounts in some parts of Chota Nagpur ranging from 5 to 8 inches. Generally the rainfall varied from an average amount of about 16 inches in East Bengal and 14 inches in North Bengal, in both of which districts it was in rather large defect, to about 10 inches in South-West Bengal and 9 inches in Bihar, in which district excess falls on the average were registered.

For the month of June the average pressure was in slight defect only, the extreme variation being 0·03″ in Chota Nagpur. The variations of temperature from the normal were exceedingly small, and slight excess temperatures were recorded at the north-eastern stations, and slight defects elsewhere. In the case of humidity and cloud proportion these elements were again in distinct excess over the greater part of the province during June.

The meteorology of July was rather extraordinary from the number and importance of the barometric depressions and cyclonic storms which formed, all of which moved in a westerly or north-westerly direction. Four of these storms, three of which were severe, were formed over the sea, or partly over the sea and partly over the land, whilst two feeble depressions were formed over the land area.

In the first week two feeble storms occurred: one passing from the north-west angle of the Bay, and the other being formed in the centre and north of the province, but these were of little importance. After this came three severe storms, each more severe than the last, and the path of each of which was to the north of the former path. These were practically formed over the Bay, and moved in paths varying from north-west to west. The first of the three was decidedly severe, and the two last very severe, the third doing a good deal of damage to the shipping at the head of the Bay. The sixth was a feeble storm, as judged by the depression of the barometer, but it was highly important in the amount of rainfall it gave, and particularly because it gave heavy rain to areas which had hitherto received very little rain in July.

The first of the severe storms formed in the east of the Bay on the 8th and developed moderately up till the 10th, when it began to move in a westerly direction, and the centre crossed the Orissa coast almost immediately over Puri at about 2 A.M. of the 12th. It afterwards continued its rapid westerly or west-north-westerly advance and broke up in Lower Sind on the 14th and 15th. In its passage across the peninsula its daily rate of advance was about six hundred miles. The second severe cyclonic storm existed from July 14th to the 23rd. It formed in the north of the Bay on the 14th or 15th, with a centre probably to the west of the middle of the Bay, and advanced slowly in a north-north-westerly direction towards the north-west angle of the Bay, crossing the coast a little to the south of Balasore soon after noon of the 17th. After crossing the coast it changed its line of advance and travelled across India in a west north-westerly and westerly direction, breaking up in Lower Sind on the 23rd and 24th. It not only gave very heavy weather in the Bay and in its track through India, but it also gave heavy weather in the western parts of India and in the Arabian Sea, while exceptionally heavy rain accompanied it, and disastrous floods were caused in parts of Western and North-Western India by the action of this storm.

The third severe cyclonic storm of the month was formed in the north-east of the Bay on the 22nd and 23rd, and rapidly developed in severity advancing inland in a west-north-westerly direction, and on the morning of July 24th it was close to Calcutta. It afterwards passed between Midnapore and Bankura and continued its movement, so that on the 26th it was entering Bagalkhand, and on the 28th it filled up near Sutna. This storm gave exceptionally heavy rain, and also did a good deal of damage to the shipping at the head of the Bay of Bengal.

The other depressions and feeble storms which formed during the month were unimportant.

With this succession of storms large amounts of rain were brought up to the province, but the distribution was singular. The general rainfall of the province was about 20 per cent. in excess of the normal, but nevertheless some districts did not receive much more than half or one-third the usual amounts for July. Thus in Kuch Bihar a defect of no less than 68 per cent., and in Rangpur a defect of 62 per cent. of the normal fall in July was recorded, while on the other hand, in the same division of North Bengal, the district of Pabna received an excess fall of 74 per cent. Again, in Bihar the district of Darbhanga received a fall 48 per cent. less than usual, and Muzaffarpur and Purnea showed defects of about 40 per cent., while also in Bihar the district of Bhagalpur received a fall 51 per cent. in excess, and Gaya an excess of 46 per cent. of the normal fall. Hence, though the monsoon rainfall of July was good on the whole, it was remarkable for its irregular distribution, and in this respect the monsoon of 1894 appears to have been almost unique.

The actual average rainfall recorded in the different divisions varied from about nineteen inches in East Bengal, Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and fourteen inches in South-West Bengal and Bihar, to only eleven inches in North Bengal. Slight to moderate excess general falls were therefore recorded in all districts except North Bengal.

As indicated previously, the distribution of rainfall during July was extremely irregular. The falls indeed varied from 57 inches in parts of South-East Bengal and over 40 inches in parts of North Bengal, to a fall of only 3·57 inches at Shiuhar in the Muzaffarpur district, and to falls of only two inches at Sunderganj in the Rangpur district and at Dinhatta in the Kuch Bihar district, and to falls of about four inches at Rangpur itself and Peerganj also in the Rangpur district. Thus at almost neighbouring stations the falls varied to an enormous extent.

Compared with the normal amounts for July, the actual falls also exhibited most startling discrepancies. The whole of the north of the province, north of a line from about Netrakona to the south of the Champaran district, received a defective fall, the defect usually exceeding five inches, and at such stations as Siliguri, Kuch Bihar, and Mathabhanga exceeding fifteen inches, while the southern parts of the province received excess falls exceeding 5 and 10 inches over a large area and ranging up to excess falls of more than fifteen inches at Cox's Bazar, Chandbali and Contai. The following are instances of the extraordinary irregularity of the rainfall in July at neighbouring stations. In the Saran district Siwan received an excess fall of more than nine inches, while Gopalganj, only a few miles to the north of it, received a defective fall of three inches; in Champaran, Bettiah received an excess fall of three inches and Motihari a defective fall of four inches; and in the Bhagalpur district Banka received an excess fall of thirteen inches and Bhagalpur itself an excess of seven inches, while Supaul received a defective fall of five inches. Hence it will be seen that the fall was exceedingly irregular even at neighbouring stations, and it is therefore impossible to give any very correct general review of the rainfall of the month.

In July the mean pressure for the month showed very slight defects at some of the stations in South Bengal and in Orissa, while slight excess temperatures were registered elsewhere, the excess equalling 0·02″ to 0·03″ at the northern stations. The whole of the north of the province which received a defective rainfall, showed a mean temperature about 1° in excess of the normal, while the remainder of the province showed slight defects, the defects being largest in the south-west of the province. Humidity during the month was on the whole slightly higher than usual, though the sky was decidedly less heavily clouded.

In August the conditions were in striking contrast to those of July, for not a single storm of importance was formed, and only two very feeble barometric depressions were generated, one of which was formed over the north-west angle of the Bay on August 6th, and advanced westwards into the Central Provinces, where it broke up on the 9th, while the second depression which existed for no less than eight days, was formed over the south-east of the province, and gradually advanced in a north-westerly direction to Nowgong, where it filled up.

During the greater part of the month however the conditions were of well developed monsoon character, except perhaps during the last week, when rainfall became light. Generally the rainfall of the province was about 8 per cent. above the normal. A noticeable feature of the rainfall in August was that Orissa and South-West Bengal, which received rather large excess falls in July, received rather scanty falls in August, while again North Bengal, which received a fall 20 per cent. in defect in July, received a fall 11 per cent. in excess in August. The general rainfall for the month equalled about nine inches in Orissa, eleven inches in South-West Bengal, fifteen inches in Bihar and North Bengal, and about seventeen to eighteen inches in Chota Nagpur and East Bengal. Excess falls of from one and-a-half to three and-a-half inches were recorded in North Bengal, East Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur, and defects of one to two inches in South-West Bengal and Orissa. In the case of the number of rainy days, that is, days on which at least a tenth of an inch of rain fell, excess numbers were recorded in every district except Orissa, and even in South-West Bengal, where the rainfall was defective, rain fell on one day more than usual in the month. In such districts as Bihar and Chota Nagpur, indeed, rain fell during August on nearly five days more than the average number. This would seem to point to the falls themselves having been rather lighter than usual, though decidedly more numerous.

The mean pressure for August was in slight defect at all stations, while the variations of temperature during the month were unimportant, and the mean temperature for the whole month was in defect by 0°·7. Cloud proportion and humidity, on the other hand, were both higher than usual.

The monsoon current in the Bay had been a little feeble during the last week of August, but quite at its close a fresh advance was taking place, in front of which a barometric depression formed in the centre of the Bay on August 30th, and which then advanced towards the North Madras coast, which it crossed on September 1st, and afterwards travelled as far as the South-East Punjab, where it filled up on the 7th. A second feeble depression formed in the Bay on the 7th and advanced into the Central Provinces, where it filled up on the 9th. Another very feeble depression then formed in the north-west of the Bay on the 14th and advanced in a north-westerly direction, filling up over Bihar and Chota Nagpur on the 17th and 18th instant. A fourth depression or feeble cyclonic storm next formed at the head of the Bay on the 23rd, which steadily intensified until the afternoon of the 27th, when it passed inland near Puri as a storm of moderate severity. Its inland course was first in a west-north-westerly direction, and then north-westerly and northerly, and finally north easterly, and the storm only broke up on October 1st in the Himalayas, probably to the north of Benares. Hence the weather in September was again unusually disturbed for the greater part of the month, as no less than four depressions or storms were formed, all of which advanced in a westerly or west-north-westerly direction.

The actual rainfall in the month varied from about 40 inches in and near the hills in North Bengal, to the small fall of about 2 to 4 inches in the south of Chota Nagpur, hence the falls were heaviest in the north-eastern districts and lightest in the south-western districts of the province. In some parts of East Bengal, however, there were some areas of unusually low rainfall, and thus at Manikganj (Dacca district), Atia (Mymensingh district), and Daudkandi (Tippera district) falls of rather less than 4 inches were received. Another area of exceptionally light rainfall was shown in South-West Bengal, and falls of four inches or less were registered at Mohesroka (Howrah district), Saugor Island, Jessore and Magura, and Bangaon in the Jessore district. Comparing the actual falls with the normal, the southern half of the province received a largely defective fall and the northern half generally very considerable excess falls. The areas of largest defect were in the extreme southern and south-eastern parts of Bengal, where the rainfall was in defect at many stations by from five to eight inches, and largely defective falls of about four to six inches were reported from parts of Central and North Bengal.

On the other hand, a very large area in North Bengal received from 10 to 20 inches in excess of the normal, and some parts more than 20 inches, and again there was a centre of very heavy rainfall in Bihar, where excess falls of more than 10 inches were received at such stations as Patna and Dinapore. A similar excess fall was reported at Chanchal in the Malda district.

Indeed, the rainfall in September was distributed very irregularly, and in the midst of districts receiving excess falls some stations reported defects, and thus, while Chanchal, in the Malda district, received an excess fall of 10·48 inches, Malda, the sadar station of the district, reported a defect of 2·65 inches. Also the general fall in Champaran was 3·2 inches in defect, while the district of Darbhanga received 4·43 inches in excess, and the district of Patna 7·62 inches in excess. Compared with the normal considerable or large excess falls were received in North Bengal and Bihar, moderately defective falls in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur, and largely defective falls in East Bengal and Orissa, while for the whole province the rainfall equalled 96 per cent. of the normal. While, however, only two divisions showed excess falls in the month, the number of rainy days, on the other hand, was decidedly larger than usual in all divisions except East Bengal and Chota Nagpur, and hence the defective rainfall appears to have been due rather to the lightness of the falls than to want of actual rainy days.

The variation of the mean pressure of the month from the normal was exceedingly small, and a defect of about 0·01″ only was registered. The average mean temperature for the month also was nearly normal, though slight excess amounts of about half a degree were registered in the extreme west, south-west, and south of the province, while elsewhere defects of about similar amount were recorded. Humidity and cloud proportion were again in excess at the majority of stations.

At the commencement of October a barometric depression began to form at the head of the Bay, the centre of which passed inland on the evening of October 2nd between Balasore and Saugor Island, moving in a north-westerly direction. It continued to advance, afterwards changing to a northerly direction, till October 6th, when it broke up in the Himalayas, not far from Naini Tal. This small storm brought up another rather feeble burst of monsoon winds, the effects of which passed away about the 7th, when the monsoon current began to retreat southwards, giving moderate rain in its retreat. By the 17th fairly fine weather had set in over Bengal and the area of lowest pressure had retreated over the Bay, when the second storm of the month was formed, which existed from the 18th to the 22nd. This storm, which extended over a large area, though it was not intense, formed in the centre of the Bay and advanced in a west-north-westerly direction, crossing the coast between Nellore and Madras in the early morning of October 21st, and it afterwards apparently broke up on the 22nd. The storm was accompanied by a heavy wave of monsoon winds, which advanced northwards after the storm had broken up, and on the 22nd and 23rd this wave reached Bengal, when again general rain set in. On the 24th exceptionally heavy rain fell in Bihar, and on the 25th this was followed by the formation of a very distinct barometric depression over this area, which continued to exist till the 28th when it broke up, and again the south-west monsoon current retreated southwards to the Bay. This retreat was followed by the formation of a very large but rather diffused cyclonic storm in the Bay, which generated on the 29th near the Andaman Islands, and then advanced slowly across the Bay, crossing the coast between Cocanada and Masulipatam about 6 A.M. on November 2nd, and it broke up after passing inland for a short distance on November 4th. This storm was again accompanied by a heavy wave of monsoon winds, which began to reach Bengal on November 1st and 2nd, and afterwards spread over the whole province, giving another burst of heavy rainfall in the first week of that month. Hence it will be seen that the weather in October was again decidedly stormy, and two cyclonic storms and two more feeble depressions were formed during this period.

The rainfall during October was unusually heavy, and the general fall over the whole of the province was 59 per cent. in excess of the normal. This heavy fall was brought about by the effect of the two storms and the two barometric depressions previously described, and by the fact that the monsoon current was influencing the province almost up to the close of the month. The falls in North Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur equalled from about seven to seven-and-a-half inches, while in South-West Bengal and East Bengal the falls were from four-and-a-half to five-and-a-half inches. The falls, indeed, in Chtoa Nagpur, Bihar and North Bengal were from three-and-a-half to four inches in excess of the normal. The average numbers of rainy days also in each division were much larger than the normal, and in such districts as Chota Nagpur, Bihar and North Bengal, the actual number was about twice as large as usual.

The excess fall when calculated as a percentage varied from 140 per cent. in excess in Chota Nagpur and 113 per cent. in excess in Bihar to the comparatively small excess of 5 per cent. in South-West Bengal and of 4 per cent. in East Bengal, thus again showing the comparative absence of rain in the two last named divisions which characterized the greater part of the monsoon season of 1894.

Owing to the disturbed nature of the weather in October, the general pressure for the month was rather largely in defect, the variations having been generally from 0·04″ to 0·06″. The average mean temperature for the month was on the other hand in excess by about a degree. Humidity and cloud proportion were again very much higher than usual in October.

It is usual in most years to close the Monsoon Summary with the review of October, but in the present year the effect of the large storm which crossed the Madras coast on November 2nd was to cause another wave of moisture-laden monsoon winds to advance over the province. Indeed from the 1st and 2nd of November, Bengal was actually influenced by the cyclonic circulation of winds accompanying the storm, and fairly general rain commenced from the 2nd and continued up till about the 5th, when a dry north-westerly wind began to set in at the north-western stations, gradually driving back the moist easterly winds which had been previously blowing. Again, in the retreat of the moist winds rather heavy rain was received, but by the 10th instant the dry north-westerly winds had advanced over the whole province, and from this date fine settled weather of ordinary cold season character set in and continued till the close of November.

The falls of rain in November averaged about four to five and-a-quarter inches in South-West and East Bengal and about three and-a-third inches in Orissa. In the remaining districts of North Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur the falls averaged between one and one and-a-half inches. These falls were in all cases very largely in excess of the normal amounts. During the existence of this disturbed weather, pressure was in decided defect, while temperatures, and specially the night temperatures, were in very considerable excess. Humidity and cloud proportion were also largely above the normal amounts.

The principal features of the monsoon season of 1894 and of the previous months of the year have therefore been as follows:—

1. In the first four months of the year, or in what may be called the pre-monsoon months, the variations of pressure from the normal were small. Slight defects of about 0·02″ were recorded in January and April, and also very slight defects in March, while in February, on the other hand, slight excess pressures were registered.

2. In the same period temperature was in excess for the first three months of the year, the excess being from 3° to 4° in February and smaller in the other two months. In April, on the other hand, slightly defective temperature was recorded.

3. Humidity and cloud proportion were in excess in three out of the four months.

4. Practically no cold weather storms reached Bengal, and though they were fairly numerous in North-Western India, they broke up in almost all cases before reaching Bengal.

5. The hot season conditions in Bengal therefore set in rather earlier, and in a somewhat more intense form than usual.

6. Local storms almost of the type of hot weather storms commenced in Bengal in the last week of February; in March they were few in number, while in April they were rather numerous, and some of them were decidedly influential.

7. In April also a small but rather severe cyclonic storm formed in the Andaman Sea and passed over Burma.

8. The rainfall of the first four months of the year was generally small. Very decided defects were recorded in January, February and March, but in April slight excess amounts were received.

9. May was a month in which the hot season conditions were developed in the western and central districts of the province to a most abnormal extent, and most excessive temperatures were recorded. Rainfall was also in rather large defect in May, and pressure was also much lower than usual.

10. In the Bay there were practically no large advances of south-west monsoon winds at all in May, but from the beginning of June a large advance was made, which reached the north of the Bay in the second week, and in front of which a small storm was formed which advanced through Bengal in a north-westerly direction, causing the commencement of the monsoon rains. Owing to the rather rapid passage of the depression practically from South-East Bengal to Bihar, the rains spread with unusual rapidity over the province.

11. The rains set in over the whole of Bengal from about the 13th to the 14th of June, or slightly earlier than usual, in the southern districts, and about a week earlier than usual in Bihar and in the north-western districts generally.

12. The strength of the monsoon was fairly great throughout the whole of its existence, and it gave rain unusually late until the end of October and the early part of November.

13. The monsoon was characterized by numerous storms and barometric depressions; three depressions were formed in June; there were four severe cyclonic storms and two barometric depressions in July; August was free from storms; in September there were four very influential depressions, and in October there were two depressions, one of which was an influential one, together with two cyclonic storms, both of which were very large and extensive, though not very severe. The last storm influenced the weather also in the early part of November.

14. Hence the rainfall from June to the 15th of November was unusually heavy, the monsoon rains being at least 10 per cent. heavier than usual.

15. There were areas of well marked excessive precipitation in the districts of Manbhum, Shahabad and Gaya and other parts of Bihar, while, on the other hand, the falls were particularly light and defective in Rangpur, Howrah, Hooghly and Rajshahi.

16. Pressure was usually in slight defect almost throughout the monsoon months, the defect being large in October and the early part of November.

17. Temperature was either normal or in slight excess in all months except August, when a small defect was registered.

18. Humidity and cloud proportion were in excess throughout the monsoon months.

19. The following tables give briefly the amount and variation of the rainfall in each of the six meteorological divisions month by month for the period 1st of May to the 15th of November inclusive:—

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, BENGAL,
The 12th December 1894.

A. PEDLER, F.R.S., ETC,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

LIBERALITY OF RAI GUNGA PROSAD SINGH BAHADUR OF DARBHANGA.

No. 5, dated Calcutta, the 4th January 1895.

From—N. BONHAM-CARTER, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal Municipal Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 586G., dated the 26th September 1894, in which you report that Rai Gunga Prosad Singh Bahadur of Darbhanga has consented to make a gift of Rs. 12,000 for the construction of a hospital at Laheria Serai in memory of his late father, Rai Bunwari Lal Sahu Bahadur.

2. In reply, I am desired to say that the Lieutenant-Governor accepts this generous offer, and to request that you will be so good as to convey to the donor an expression of the thanks of Government for his public spirit and liberality.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 5th of January 1895.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 8th January 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY THE 5TH OF JANUARY 1895.

On the 30th of December, or the first day of the week under review, a barometric depression which had entered Upper Sind on the 29th had advanced into South-East Rajputana, and hence pressure was falling slowly, while temperature was increasing briskly in Bengal. On the 31st the primary depression had advanced into Bundelkhand and was between Nowgong and Sutna, while a secondary depression had formed in the Central Punjab. The barometric changes on this day in Bengal were usually small, but the temperature changes continued large, and temperature was increasing except at a few of the northern and north-eastern stations. On the 1st of January the primary depression had moved slightly eastwards and was a little to the east of Sutna, while the secondary depression had commenced to fill up. Pressure hence again fell in Bengal on this day, while there was also a moderately rapid increase in the temperature. On the 2nd the primary depression had advanced in a south-easterly direction and covered Orissa, South Bengal and the head of the Bay, where pressure had fallen slowly and was in moderate defect, while again temperature had risen moderately over Bengal and had become rather largely in excess, several stations showing excess amounts of about 5° in the night or minimum temperatures; on this day also a few light showers were reported. On the 3rd the depression over the head of the Bay and neighbouring land area had practically filled up; hence pressure had risen briskly in Bengal, while temperature was beginning to fall at the western stations, though at the central and eastern stations a further rise was reported. On the 4th a further slow to moderate increase of pressure occurred, showing the depression had continued to pass away, while temperature was again falling slowly at the great majority of stations. On the 5th, however, the increase of pressure had ceased and a fall set in, but temperature still continued to decrease, and had become comparatively low, so that ordinary north-east monsoon conditions had again set in over the province.

Pressure.—The mean pressure of the province for the week has been distinctly below the normal, but the defects have been small and usually do not average more than about a hundredth of an inch.

Temperature.—On the other hand the mean average temperature for the week has been moderately above the normal, and the average excess for the whole province has equalled 0·9°. The excess has been largest in Chota Nagpur, Bihar and North Bengal, while on the other hand slightly defective temperatures have been recorded in Orissa.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variation from the normal temperature of the present season are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The variations, it will be seen, have been small in the day or maximum temperatures, which have been generally in excess by about half to one degree, while the night or minimum temperatures have usually been also in excess, the excess ranging up to from 2° to 4° at such stations as Purnea and Patna.

Table showing the excess or defect of the actual mean temperature from the normal for the week ending Saturday, the 5th of January 1895.

Rainfall.—A few showers only have occurred in Bihar, principally in the Champaran district; elsewhere the province has been practically rainless.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 5th of January 1895 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2·3⊖ lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 96, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The 15*th January*, 1895.—In continuation of the Notification, No. 1737-For., dated the 3rd May, 1892, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th idem, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notify that the following rules made under section 75(d) of the Indian Forest Act, VII of 1878, for the prevention of fires, are in force in the district of Puri, in the Orissa Division. The season during which these rules will hold good will be from the 1st January to the 1st July in each year:—

1. Any person living in the vicinity of a Government Forest Reserve, or occupying or using land in such vicinity, and desirous of clearing by fire any standing forest or grass land near that Reserve, in a locality from which such fire would be likely to endanger the Reserve, shall observe the following rules:—

(1) He shall give notice of at least one week to the nearest Forest Officer, Ranger, or Forester of his intention.

(2) He shall clear a belt of land at least 20 feet broad on the side of the land which he proposes to burn nearest to the Forest Reserve.

(3) He shall choose for such burning a day or time when a high wind is not blowing.

(4) He shall light the fire in a direction contrary to the prevailing wind.

2. Any such person desirous of burning on land adjoining a Forest Reserve, wood, grass, weeds, or other cut material, shall collect that material into heaps, and burn it separately in such a way that the fire may not endanger the Forest Reserve.

3. Any person collecting inflammable forest produce, such as grass and bamboos, on land adjoining a Forest Reserve, and any holder of a permit to collect such materials from the Forest Reserve, shall stack the materials so collected in an open space as far removed as possible from the forest.

4. All persons travelling on roads passing through or along the boundary of a Forest Reserve shall camp only at such places as may be cleared and set apart for the purpose of camping-grounds by the Forest Officer, who shall yearly publish a list of such grounds in the vicinity of the reserve. Camping at other localities than those so set apart is forbidden; and all persons so camping shall light any fires they may make for cooking or other purposes in such a way as not to endanger the Forest Reserve, or the buildings or property on the camping-ground, and they shall extinguish all such fires before leaving the camping-ground.

5. The carriage of burning wood, firebrands, or torches, through or along the boundary of any Reserved Forest, is prohibited.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION—No. 5228J.

The 31*st December* 1894.—In continuation of the notification of the 12th April 1887, and the notification of the 3rd September 1891, No. 3831J., the following rules, regarding the administration of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund, which have been prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the authority vested in him by section 65 of Act

VI (B.C.) of 1870 as amended by Acts I (B.C.) of 1871, 1886, and 1892, are published for general information:—

(1). The assets of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund constituted under section 42 of the Act will ordinarily consist of (a) fines and penalties levied under sections 8, 27, and 38, and (b) such sums as may from time to time be allotted to it by the Inspector-General of Police from the annual Provincial grant under the general head of Rewards. Such allotments will be drawn on enfaced bills.

(2). Subject to the provisions of section 3A, the power to fine chaukidars departmentally under section 38 is vested in the District Magistrate. A copy of every order passed under section 8 or 38 by any officer to whom the District Magistrate has delegated his powers under section 3A shall be forwarded at once to the District Magistrate. On receipt thereof the particulars shall be entered in Register A prescribed by rule 6.

(3). An appeal from any order imposing a fine under section 8 or 38 and passed by any officer other than the District Magistrate shall lie to the District Magistrate if lodged within 30 days from the date on which such order was communicated to the panchayat or chaukidar fined. Subject to the provisions of section 64, no appeal shall lie from any such order passed by the District Magistrate.

(4). (a) All fines imposed under sections 8 and 38, and penalties imposed under section 27, and realised by a tahsildar appointed under section 46A, shall, on realisation, be at once deposited in the District or Subdivisional Treasury to the credit of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund by means of duplicate chalans.

(b) Penalties under section 27 realised by panchayats should be entered in their Register II (as prescribed by Rule VII of I the rules issued in the notification of the 12th April 1887) and sent at the close of each quarter to the officer in charge of the police-station, who will grant a receipt for the amount and deal with it under the preceding clause of this rule.

(5). The Treasury Officer will retain one of the chalans and return the other, duly receipted, to the official depositing the money, who will forward it, together with the fine statements prescribed by rule 7, for entry in the accounts of the Fund.

(6). Two registers, A and B, in the forms given in the appendix, shall be kept in the office of the District Magistrate (or of the District Superintendent of Police) showing the details of the operation of the above rules.

(7). One clear week before the date fixed for the quarterly payment of chaukidars' salaries, the District Magistrate shall send to the officer in charge of each police-station a consolidated statement showing the fines recoverable from the chaukidars of such station. The officer in charge thereof shall thereupon at the time of the payment of salaries realise such fines and forward them under duplicate chalans for credit in the District or Subdivisional Treasury, together with any sums received by him from panchayats or tahsildars as penalties levied under section 27 of the Act. On receipt from the treasury of the duplicate chalans referred to in rule 5, he will return them, with the fine statement above mentioned, to the Magistrate with an explanation of his inability to recover any particular fine, or part thereof.

(8). (a) The only officers authorised to grant rewards to chaukidars are District Magistrates, Subdivisional Magistrates, and District Superintendents of Police.

(b) Such rewards should not ordinarily exceed the sum of Rs. 5, but the District Magistrate may, if the state of the Chaukidari Reward Fund justifies it, sanction a reward of not more than Rs. 25. For any amount exceeding Rs. 25, the sanction of the Commissioner should be obtained.

(c) Rewards should, wherever possible, be paid by the District Superintendent in person, and in his absence by an officer not lower in rank than an Inspector. They should, as a rule, be presented at chaukidari parades, and in all cases with as much publicity as possible.

(9). Rewards should ordinarily be given for—

(i) Information leading to the prevention or detection of crime.

(ii) Seizure or recovery of stolen property.

(iii) Arrest of offenders or absconders.

(iv) Personal courage shown in resisting dacoits or in capturing thieves or other offenders.

(v) Meritorious conduct not included in the above clauses which the District Magistrate with the concurrence of the Commissioner considers deserving of a special reward.

(10). Fifteen days from the last day of each quarter the office of the District Magistrate (or of the District Superintendent of Police) shall prepare, in the form marked (C) in the appendix, an abstract account of the transactions of the Chaukidari Reward Fund during the said quarter. Such account shall be audited and compared with the Treasury accounts by an officer nominated for the purpose by the District Magistrate, to whom the result of such audit shall be duly certified.

Declaration.—No. 3Marine.—Whereas, under declaration No. 16, dated 20th January 1893, published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 25th January 1893, certain land therein specified was acquired by the Bengal Government under the provisions of Act X of 1870 and Act XVIII of 1885 for a public purpose, viz., for the Toposi extension of the East Indian Railway; and whereas a coal mine, known as the West Baraboni Colliery, is situate under the said land; and whereas Babu Ananda Lal Ganguli and Babu Lakshmi Kant Bag, the present lessees of the said mine, have given notice to the Bengal Government, in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of Act XVIII of 1885, that after the expiry of sixty days from the date of notice they, the said lessees, intend to work the said mine and get the minerals lying under the said land; and whereas the mine has been inspected by the officer appointed by the Bengal Government for the purpose under section 5(1) of the Land Acquisition (Mines) Act; and whereas it appears to the Bengal Government that the working of, and getting of coal from, such portions of the said mine as underlie the said land is likely to cause damage to the surface of the said land and to the works constructed thereon;—

Now, therefore, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to declare, under section 5, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the above-mentioned Land Acquisition (Mines) Act XVIII (I.C.) of 1885, that the Bengal Government is willing to pay such compensation (if any) as shall, in accordance with the provisions of Act X (I.C.) of 1870, be determined to be due to all persons having an interest in the said West Baraboni Mine, in consideration of the mine being worked and the coal gotten therefrom by the above-mentioned lessees in the manner and subject to the restrictions below specified, viz.—

That in such portion or portions of the mine as underlie the land which, as above stated, has been acquired by the Bengal Government, the coal shall be worked into pillars measuring not less than eighteen feet long by eighteen feet broad, and separated by galleries not exceeding ten feet in width.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 167*M.*—The 11*th January* 1895.—It is hereby notified that, under section 27 of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884, as amended by Act IV of 1894, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to appoint Babu Tara Prasana Acharjee, Subdivisional Officer, to be the Chairman of the Kendrapara Municipality in the district of Cuttack, vice Babu Nabin Chunder Das, transferred.

J. A. BOURDILLON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 169*M.*—The 11*th January* 1895.—It is hereby notified for general information that, in exercise of the power vested in the Local Government by section 19, Act II (B.C.) of 1888, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to prescribe the following rules for the election of Commissioners for the town of Calcutta:—

1. The third election of Commissioners under Act II (B.C.) of 1888 shall take place on 16th March 1895.

2. The polling shall take place at such stations as the Chairman may determine as soon as the wards for which contests will take place under section 31 are known. Notice of the places fixed upon shall be given by advertisement in the Municipal Office, and in at least two daily newspapers not later than the 11th March.

3. The Commissioners of the town of Calcutta shall appoint a polling officer to preside at each station, and as many assistant polling officers as they may think requisite, and may pay to each officer so appointed such reasonable remuneration for his services as they may think fit.

4. The Chairman shall supply to each polling officer a sufficient number of copies of so much of the list of voters revised in accordance with section 22, Act II (B.C.) of 1888 as may relate to the wards for which such polling officer is appointed to take votes, and no vote shall be received by the polling officer or his assistants unless the name of the voter is entered in such list. The Chairman shall also furnish the polling officer with the names of the candidates for each ward as announced in accordance with section 31 of the above Act, and no vote shall be received in favour of any person other than one of such candidates.

5. All votes must be given at the poll on forms to be provided by the Chairman at the polling stations. Separate forms easily distinguishable shall be provided for each candidate, and the voter, unless he declares himself unable to write, shall write in his own hand, in the presence of the polling officer or one of his assistants, his own name, the name of the candidate for whom he votes, and the number of votes given for him. If he declares himself unable to write, the names and number shall be written at the dictation of the voter by the polling officer or one of his assistants, and such polling officer or assistant shall in that case append his own signature to the form.

6. The Chairman shall circulate to the voters of all wards for which there will be a poll under section 31 a post-card containing in English the name of the voter, the number of votes he is entitled to give, the names of the candidates for his ward, the polling station, and such other directions as the Chairman may think fit; such post-card shall be posted not less than two nor more than seven days before the date of election.

7. The post-card shall also advise the addressee to bring it with him to the poll as a help to identification, and if so brought, it shall be attached to the voting paper.

8. If a voter gives some of his votes to one candidate and others to one or more other candidates, he shall fill up a separate voting paper for each candidate for whom he votes.

9. It shall be the duty of the polling officer or one of his assistants to satisfy himself—

(1) that the name of the voter is entered in the list;
(2) that the voting paper is filled up in the manner prescribed in Rule 5;
(3) that the name of the candidate voted for corresponds with the form assigned for such candidate;
(4) that the post-card, if brought by the voter, is attached to his voting paper or one of his voting papers;
(5) that the voter has not given more votes than he is entitled to.

10. No objection shall be taken at the polling station to the name of any voter entered in the list, or to the number of votes assigned to him, but if any objection is taken to the identity of any voter, it shall be recorded on the back of the voting paper by the polling officer or his assistant.

11. If any voter gives more votes than he is entitled to, and the mistake escapes detection till after the voter has left the poll, a sufficient equal number of votes shall be deducted from each candidate voted for to bring the number of votes within the number allotted to the voter.

Illustration.—A being entitled to 6 votes gives 8 votes to X; 2 shall be deducted.

B being entitled to 4 votes gives 5 to X and 3 to Y; 3 votes shall be allowed to X and 1 to Y.

C being entitled to 7 votes gives 4 to X, 4 to Y, and 3 to Z; 2 shall be allowed to X, 2 to Y, and 1 to Z, and 2 votes be lost.

12. The polling shall commence at 9 A.M. and close at 6 P.M., and if it cannot be finished for any ward by that hour, it shall be continued on the following day at 9 till finished.

13. The polling officer shall be entrusted with the maintenance of order at the polling station, and all voters shall, while at or near the polling station, comply with all reasonable orders issued by him for the preservation of order.

14. At the close of the poll for each ward, the polling officer shall forward to the Chairman the voting papers which have been received by him duly sealed and secured, sending the voting papers to which objections have been taken separately from those to which no objections have been taken.

15. All claims or objections preferred under section 21 shall be decided by the Chairman ward by ward, and he shall give such notice in the Municipal Office of the date of hearing for each ward as may be practicable. Such hearing shall be conducted with open doors, in order that any intending candidates or their agents may be present, and the Chairman shall hear any person present who asks to be heard before disposing of such claim or objection.

16. After the publication of the revised list under section 22, further objections to the list may be taken on the following grounds:—

(a) that the voter is dead or is a woman or has not attained the age of 21 years;
(b) that the voter is the same as another person whose name is on the list, and ought to appear only once on the list;
(c) that the voter, though purporting to be authorised to vote under section 24 on behalf of a Hindu joint-family, company, firm or other association of persons, is not duly authorised;
(d) such objection must be in writing, and must be delivered to the Chairman on or before the 14th March.

17. Such objections, as well as all objections under Rule 10 or Rule 11, shall be heard by the Chairman after the date of election, and the provisions of Rule 15 shall apply to the hearing of the objections.

18. The Chairman shall, as soon as practicable, after disposing of objections under the last preceding rule, publish at the Municipal Office and in the Calcutta Gazette—

(a) the names of all candidates elected for wards for which there was no polling as provided in section 24;

(b) the names of all candidates for wards for which there has been polling, together with the number of valid votes given for each candidate, and the two candidates who have obtained the majority of valid votes shall be deemed to be duly elected Commissioners.

19. Except as otherwise provided in section 23, the Chairman's decision in all matters connected with the preparation of the list of voters and the validity of votes shall be final for the purposes of the election.

20. The following penalties are imposed for breach of these rules:—

(a) For signing a name other than the writer's own name on a voting form under Rule 5, or for giving a name other than the voter's own name to the polling officer or assistant polling officer, a fine not exceeding Rs. 200.

(b) For intercepting a post-card or intentionally hindering the delivery of a post-card addressed to a voter under Rule 6, a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

(c) For taking away a post-card from a voter after it has reached him, without his consent, a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

(d) For refusing to obey the reasonable orders or directions of a polling officer, under Rule 13, a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

(e) For tampering with any voting paper after it has been duly filled up, and before the result of the election is declared under rule 18, a fine not exceeding Rs. 200.

N.B.—The word Chairman in these rules includes any other officer delegated or appointed under section 27 or 28 of Act II (B.C.) of 1838.

The Calcutta Landing and Shipping Company, "Limited."

NOTICE is hereby given that the debenture loan of 1892 for Rs. 2,00,000, bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum, will be paid off at the Registered Office of the Company on the 30th June 1895 with interest to that date. Holders of debentures of this issue are given the option of exchanging such debentures as they hold for debentures of a fresh issue of 200 debentures of Rs. 1,000 each, bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum, and to be secured by a mortgage to Trustees over the Block and fleet of the Company. The new issue will have a currency of 40 years, subject to the Company's right to pay off all, or so many of the debentures as the Company may think fit, at any time or times after the 1st July 1898 on giving six months' notice. If the Company shall determine to pay off a portion only of the debentures of the said issue at any time after the 1st July 1898, the particular debentures to be redeemed and paid off on each occasion will be determined by drawings to be made at the Registered Office of the Company. The option hereby given to the holders of the existing debentures must be availed of and declared in writing, on or before the 31st March 1895, to the undersigned, from whom forms of application for exchange can be obtained.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

UNDER Rule 34 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the following Bill is published with the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 15th January 1895.

A Bill to provide for the Maintenance of Records of rights in Bengal, and for the recovery of the cost of Cadastral Surveys and Settlements.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the maintenance of records of rights and of settlement records in Bengal, and for an alternative method of recovering the cost of cadastral surveys and settlements; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

1. This Act may be called "The Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895."

Short title.

It shall come into force only in Districts or parts of Districts in which a survey and a record of rights have been made under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act, or under any other law for the time being in force, to which the Lieutenant-Governor may, from time to time, extend it by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette;

Extent.

and thereupon this Act shall commence and take effect in the Districts or parts of Districts named in such order on the day which shall be in such order provided for the commencement thereof.

Commencement.

2. In this Act the words and expressions "estate," "tenure," "tenure-holder," "landlord," and "Collector" shall have the meanings attributed to them, respectively, in the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885.

Interpretation clause.

By the term "record of rights" shall be understood the documents called khewat and khatian.

PART I.

Registration of Mutations.

3. The Registrars and Sub-Registrars appointed under Act III of 1877 shall, within the districts and area to which this Act is extended, be Registrars of Mutations for the purposes of this Act.

Registrars of Mutations.

4. (1) Every person acquiring any proprietary right in any estate or revenue-free property, and every manager in charge of such estate or revenue-free property, who within four months from the date of such acquisition or assumption of charge, gives

Report of acquisition of proprietary rights to Sub-Registrars equivalent to application for mutation of names under Act VII (B.C.) of 1876.

notice of the mutation to the Sub-Registrar of the sub-district in which the estate or property is situated, in such form as may be prescribed by the Board of Revenue, shall be considered to have complied with the provisions of the Land Registration Act, requiring him to apply to the Collector of the District for mutation of names.

(2) Notice of such application for mutation given to the Sub-Registrar shall, after it has been recorded by him, be forwarded by him to the Collector, and shall be held to have been filed before the Collector within the meaning of section 42 of the Land Registration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1876; and on receipt of such notice the Collector shall (unless the case is one provided for in section 43 of the Act) proceed in the manner prescribed in section 47 and the following sections of that Act. The Collector shall inform the Sub-Registrar of every mutation ordered by him under sections 52 and 55 of the Land Registration Act, and on the receipt of such information, the Sub-Registrar shall record the same in the Register of Mutations.

Exemption under section 43 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 conditional on registration before Sub-Registrar.

5. Any exemption granted under section 43 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 shall be conditional on registration of mutations being effected in the Sub-Registrar's office.

Periodical statements of changes to be filed in Sub-Registrars' offices.

6. Every holder of an estate or tenure shall file in the Sub Registrar's office, at such time and in such form as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, prescribe, a statement showing the changes, if any, which have occurred in the record of rights in each village included in the estate or tenure.

Transfer of, and succession to, tenures, under-tenures, raiyati holdings at fixed rates, and occupancy holdings, to be reported to Sub-Registrar.

7. (1) Any person transferring his right as tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates or occupancy raiyat, or any person claiming by reason of such transfer, or by inheritance, to have acquired the status of a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates or occupancy raiyat, in possession, shall, within four months from the date of such acquisition, give notice of such mutation to the Sub-Registrar of the Sub-district in such form as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, prescribe.

(2) Such notice shall be treated as a document presented under Part VI of the Indian Registration Act, and shall be subject to the provisions of that Part regarding the admission and execution of documents:

Provided that in the case of any person claiming to have succeeded by inheritance, a notice shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in the village calling on any objector to appear before the Sub-Registrar within 15 days and prefer his objection.

(3) A notice given under this section when accompanied by payment of the prescribed fee shall be held to be a sufficient compliance with the provisions of sections 12, 15, 18 and 73 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

(4) It shall be optional for a non-occupancy or under-raiyat to give notice of a mutation under this section.

Duties of Sub-Registrar.

8. It shall be the duty of the Sub-Registrar to notify the fact of such reported transfer to the landlord of such person, and to cause the landlord's fee, if any, to be paid to him in such manner as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, prescribe; and to call upon the landlord to state whether he admits or refuses to admit the mutation; and the Sub-Registrar shall record not only the fact of the transfer, but also whether the consent of the landlord in writing, in person or by agent, has, or has not, been given to the transfer of the holding, in an appropriate column of the Register described in section 11.

Presumptive force of mutation entry in rent suits.

9. In any suit for rent any entry of a mutation recorded by a Sub-Registrar under section 7 or section 8, and certified by him to have been duly registered under the Indian Registration Act, and assented to by the landlord, and in the case of a transfer between living persons by both parties thereto, shall be presumed to be correct till the contrary is proved.

Specification required in mutation notices.

10. All notices of mutation under section 4 and section 7 shall contain a specification of the rights as recorded in the khewat, or the survey numbers of the lands as entered in the khatian in respect of which mutation is to be effected, in such form or manner as may be prescribed by rules made under this Act.

Registers.

11. The Sub-Registrar shall, in his capacity as Registrar of Mutations, keep such Registers as shall, from time to time, be prescribed by the Local Government, including, for every village within the limits of the Sub-district, two Registers of Mutations, in one of which there shall be recorded changes affecting the entries in the khewat, and in the other, changes affecting the khatian of that village, and containing such particulars as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, with the sanction of the Local Government, prescribe.

Registration of instruments effecting transfer of proprietary and tenant-right and simultaneous registration of mutations.

12. A Sub-Registrar, registering an instrument effecting a transfer of proprietary or tenant-right, or, under the provisions of sections 64 and 65 of the Indian Registration Act, receiving a memorandum of a transfer of property or tenant-right, shall proceed as follows:—

(a) If the instrument or memorandum effects a mutation of proprietary right, he shall notify the same to the Collector of the District as if it had been a notice under section 4 of this Act.

(b) If it effects a mutation of tenant-right, he shall issue notices as if he had received a notice of mutation under section 7 of this Act.

(c) When the prescribed procedure is completed, he shall, as Registrar of Mutations, take cognizance of such transfer, and make the necessary entries in the Register of Mutations as required by section 11.

13. It shall be the duty of all Courts to forward to the Sub-Registrar concerned a memorandum, in such form as may, from time to time, be prescribed, of every decision affecting proprietary and tenant-right in land.

All Courts to forward memoranda of decisions as to land.

14 (1) Any person giving notice as required by section 4 or section 7 of this Act shall be bound at the same time to tender such fee in cash or in stamps as he may be bound to pay under sections 12 and 15 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, or any other enactment for the time being in force, together with such fees as may be, from time to time, prescribed by the Board of Revenue for the service of processes.

Fees.

(2) On payment of the fees necessary, a copy of the entry in the Register of Mutations, or such extract therefrom as may be necessary, certified by the Sub-Registrar to be correct, shall be given to any applicant.

(3) The records in the Sub-Registrar's office shall be open at all reasonable hours without fee to the inspection of all persons interested.

(4) All fees leviable, and all fines imposed under this Act, shall be credited to the Registration Department.

15 (1) No person entitled, or required, to give notice of a mutation to the Sub-Registrar under section 4 or section 7 shall, after the expiry of the period of four months therein mentioned, be entitled to sue for, or recover, the rent of any land the subject of the mutation, unless at the time of the institution of the suit he files in court a certified copy of the entry in the record of rights and of the entry in the Register of Mutations, if any, relative to such land, or shall adduce such other evidence as shall satisfy the court that notice of mutation was duly given.

Disability consequent on failure to register mutations.

(2) No landlord shall be bound to receive rent from, or recognize as his tenant, any person who has acquired a tenure, raiyati holding at fixed rates or occupancy holding by reason of any transfer or by inheritance, unless notice of the mutation has been given to the Sub-Registrar under section 7.

16. Whoever being required by this Act to give notice of having acquired any proprietary right, tenure, or holding, shall omit to give such notice within the prescribed time, shall be liable to such fine not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector may see fit to impose, and to a further daily fine not exceeding five rupees for each day during which he shall omit to apply for such registration after a date fixed by the Collector in a notice requiring him to apply for such registration. Such fines shall be credited to the Registration Department.

Penalty for failure to register mutations.

PART II.

Recovery of costs of a survey and preparation of a record of rights.

17. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, instead of proceeding under section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to recover, from all or any of the landlords and tenants in any District or part of a District, either in one year or several years, and in the manner specified in the sections following, their shares of all costs declared by the Local Government to be recoverable from proprietors and tenants, which have been incurred in making a survey and record of rights and a settlement of rents under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, such costs not having been incurred for the purposes of a settlement of land revenue.

Recovery of costs of initial survey, &c.

18. From and after the commencement of this Act, all land situated within any District or part of any District in which this Act may, from time to time, be in force, shall be liable to the payment of a cess (hereinafter called "The Survey-Settlement Cess") to be applied in defraying the costs mentioned in the last preceding section.

Levy of a cess for recovery of costs.

19. The Local Government shall, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, notify the total expenditure incurred in any District or part of a District on account of the settlement-survey, and the amounts (in such proportion as may, from time to time, be determined by the Governor General in Council) which shall be paid by the proprietors and tenants and owners and occupants of rent-free tenures and holdings respectively in such District or part of a District, and the date from which the survey-settlement cess shall take effect; and shall specify the rate per acre to be paid by the holders of estates, and by tenure-holders and raiyats and owners of rent-free tenures and holdings. The distribution of this cess shall be made under rules to be framed, from time to time, by the Board of Revenue, with the sanction of the Local Government.

Rate of Survey-Settlement Cess.

20. The amount leviable from the holders of estates shall be paid annually, with the instalment of land revenue due on 28th March, in as many instalments as the Collector shall determine, and shall be recoverable as an arrear of land revenue.

Payment of cess by holders of estates.

21. The amount leviable from tenure-holders and raiyats shall be paid by them to the Settlement Officer, on receipt of the copy of the khatian to which they are entitled; or, if not paid then, it shall be paid with an addition of 20 per cent. as collection expenses to the holder of the estate, in as many instalments as such holder pays his share in; and in case of default, it shall be levied by the holder of the estate as an arrear of rent, and the same amount, less the additional 20 per cent. levied as aforesaid as collection expenses, shall be paid by the holder of the estate into the Government treasury, with the instalment of land revenue due on March 28th, and shall be recoverable from him as an arrear of land revenue.

Payment of cess by tenure-holders and raiyats.

PART III.

Miscellaneous.

22. (1) Every Registrar and Sub-Registrar appointed under this Act to be a Registrar of Mutations, and every person appointed temporarily to discharge the duties of any such office, shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, and all official records and papers kept by any such officer under this Act shall be held to be public records and the property of Government.

Registrars of Mutations to be public servants, and their records public records.

(2) Every order passed by an officer engaged in the registration of mutations in any District shall be appealable to the Collector of the District.

Appeals.

23. Every order passed by the Collector of the District under this Act shall be appealable to the Commissioner of the Division within two months of the date of such order, and the decision of the Commissioner shall be final.

Power to make rules for selection, etc., of Sub-Registrars.

24. (1) The Local Government or the Board of Revenue, with the sanction of the Local Government, may, from time to time, make, repeal and alter rules consistent with this Act—

(a) regarding the appointment, control, discipline, and payment of all Registrars' and Sub-Registrars' establishments;

(b) prescribing the method and periods for making entries of mutations in the record of rights, preparing new editions of such records, and republishing them from time to time, or otherwise making them available for public information;

(c) the distribution of the cess;

(d) generally for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

(2) The Local Government may, from time to time, alter any fee prescribed by this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to provide for the maintenance of the record of rights, framed in the course of a survey-settlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act, by making it compulsory, in areas so surveyed and settled, to register all mutations of proprietary rights, and of the rights of tenure-holders and of raiyats at fixed rates, and occupancy raiyats. The registration of transfers of the right of non-occupancy and of under raiyats is left optional.

The system of registration is modelled on that prescribed by the Indian Registration Act. The Sub-Registrars will keep up registers in which all mutations, after being duly executed and verified, are to be entered; and in order to ensure that these registers are complete and that all mutations the registration of which is compulsory are reported, self-acting disabilities consequent on the failure to give notice of such mutations, as well as direct penalties, have been inserted in the Bill.

3. In Part II of the Bill a system is provided, supplementary to that laid down in section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, for facilitating the recovery of the cost of a survey-settlement by a temporary cess to be levied rateably per acre from proprietors and tenure-holders, raiyats, and owners of revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings. The cess will either be paid up at once, or will be recoverable in instalments from the proprietors, who are empowered to recover the share due from other persons holding on their estates, with an additional charge for collection expenses.

Intended lights and system of buoyage.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 679 of 1894) that, on 15th January 1895, the undermentioned alterations will be made in the lights, Aden anchorage:—

A new light-vessel (Marbut shoal), painted red, and carrying a red ball at her masthead as a daymark, will be moored in a depth of 22 feet at low water springs, in lieu of the present south-western Marbut buoy; and in a position S. 82°W., distant half a cable, from that buoy. This light-vessel will exhibit two red lights, placed vertically, 3 feet apart (the lower elevated 20 feet above the sea), visible in clear weather from a distance of 8 miles.

Approximate position, light-vessel, lat. 12° 47′ 5″ N., long. 44° 58′ 10″ E.

Also, that on or about 15th January 1895, the buoyage of Aden Inner harbour will be arranged in accordance with the Conical light buoys, painted red, and showing red lights, will mark the starboard side of the channel, entering from seaward.

Can light buoys, painted black, and showing green lights, will mark the port side of the channel.

On the above date the smaller channel will probably have been dredged to a depth of 26 feet at low water springs.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 182, dated the 21st September 1894, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 668 of 1894) that, on 1st November 1894, the undermentioned alterations would be made in the colour of the leading lights for entering Westport harbour:—

The front light is altered from a green to a red light.

The rear light is altered from a white to a red light.

Approximate position, lat. 41° 44′ 50″ S., long. 171° 36′ 10″ E.

(2) North island—Whaingaroa—Alteration in positions of beacons.

Also, dated 2nd October 1894, that the beacons at the entrance to Whaingaroa (Raglan harbour) have been moved from the North to the South head, and now lead over the bar when bearing E. by S. ½ S. (S. 76° E.).

Approximate position, South head, lat. 37° 46′ 30″ S., long. 174° 53′ 45″ E.

KOREA—EAST COAST—FUSAN HARBOUR

Decreased depth in entrance.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 671 of 1894) that the depths southward of Channel rock, with the leading lights or beacons at Sinsorio in line, are only 4 fathoms or less, at low water; and the bottom is foul.

Also that there are depths of 26 to 30 feet at low water about three-quarters of a cable north-eastward of Channel rock, and about one foot more water at a cable south-westward of that rock.

Approximate position, Channel rock, lat. 35° 6′ 40″ N., long. 129° 3′ 55″ E.

CHINA SEA—HOSSACK AND DOROTHEA SHOALS.

Non-existence of these shoals.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 634 of 1894), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

Between the years 1857 and 1886 three reports were made respecting the existence of a shoal or breakers to the north-eastward of the Pratas.

1. DOROTHEA SHOAL reported in North China Mail of August 22nd 1857, by Captain Van den Kolk of the Netherlands barque Dorothea. The Dorothea was lost on a rock stated to be 9 or 10 feet below the surface, and with deep water around, in latitude 21° 5′ N., longitude 116° 40′ E.

2. HOSSACK SHOAL reported by Captain Hossack of the British ship Cyclone, originally in the Straits Times of 1861 and subsequently in the Nautical Magazine—

Captain Hossack's report was that on the 9th August 1861 two patches were seen in latitude 21° 31′ N., longitude 117° 7′ E. The easternmost patch appeared to be very shoal, and about 400 feet in extent: it was marked by breakers, and the position was ascertained by astronomical observations.

3. ALDEN BESSE SHOAL.—In Notice No. 24 of 1886, issued by the United States Bureau of Navigation, it is stated that Mr. J. A. O'Brien, Master of the barque Alden Besse, reported that on April 6th, 1886, he saw a shoal, of small extent, over which the sea was breaking, in latitude 21° 11′ N., longitude 116° 24′ E. Mr. O'Brien further stated, in answer to enquiries, that when 3 days out from Hong-Kong breakers were seen between 2 P.M. and 3 P.M.; the N.E. monsoon was blowing moderately at the time from E.N.E., the ship's speed being about 5 knots. The sea broke heavily on one particular spot and the breakers were distinctly heard; elsewhere no breaking waves were seen. The ship passed within 1½ miles of the breakers, which were estimated as 150 feet in extent. Good astronomical observations were obtained.

It will thus be seen that the descriptions given by Captain Hossack and Mr. O'Brien are very similar, but the positions differ widely; whilst the positions of Captain Van den Kolk and Mr. O'Brien agree fairly well, but the descriptions differ.

These reported dangers were searched for by H.M.S. Serpent, Commander Bullock, in 1866; by H.M. Surveying Vessel Rambler, Captain the Honourable F. C. P. Vereker, in 1889; and by H.M. Surveying Vessel Egeria, Commander A. M. Field, in 1891 and 1892, the latter search occupying 11 days. No danger has hitherto been discovered.

Whilst searching for these reported shoals both Captain Vereker and Commander Field report that the currents in the neighbourhood are exceptionally strong, and that tide rips are frequent. They have been occasionally seen like breakers over a shoal; in fact once on the night of the 22nd March 1889, Captain Vereker reports "Breakers were distinctly heard, with regular intervals between the breaks, and altering course I steamed towards them, carefully sounding. There was a fair amount of moonlight, and I was nearly convinced we had discovered the shoal until I obtained a sounding of 202 fathoms, muddy bottom, in the centre of the breakers, and found it was a small, but heavy tide rip travelling to the north-westward."

It seems probable that both Captain Hossack and Mr. O'Brien were deceived by appearances similar to that experienced by Captain Vereker, and that the breakers they saw were simply heavy tide rips.

With respect to the report of the Dorothea, which appeared in the China Mail, it is believed some error has been made; for enquiries addressed to the Netherlands authorities have elicited the information that Captain Van den Kolk reported on his arrival at Batavia, in 1857, that the Dorothea had been lost on the Pratas on the night of July 9th, 1857.

A careful consideration of the various reports made respecting the existence of dangers north-east of the Pratas, combined with the reports of the surveying officers when searching the locality, leads to the conclusion that these reported dangers need no longer remain on the Admiralty charts, and they have been accordingly expunged.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—SUMATRA, WEST COAST.

Reefs and shoals on the west coast of Atjeh and near Simaloer island.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the Vice-Admiral Commanding the Naval Forces in Neth.—India, No. 34, dated Batavia, the 22nd November 1894, is republished:—

Information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander J. P. Van Rossum, H. M. Benkoelen, of the existence of the undermentioned rocks and shoals on the W. coast of Atjeh and near Simaloer island:—

1. The bay of Laboean Hadji is north of the line "W. extreme of the bay W. N. W.," nearly full of stones.

Ships must keep the W. extreme of the bay north of the bearing W. N. W.

2. A breaker was seen on little distance north, when the ship was in approximately lat. 2° 36′ N., long. 97° 17′ E.

3. A shoal with a depth of 10 fathoms hard ground on it in approximately lat. 234° N., long. 96° 45′ E. Westward of this shoal depths of 20 to 17 fathoms have been obtained at a distance of about 1,100 yards.

4. A shoal with a depth of 5 fathoms stones on it has been obtained on the bearings: Cape Lentang N. 9° W. and Cape Toebah S. 82° W.

A reef of great extent exists here with less water, apparently connected with the island Simaloer.

The shoal lies in approximately lat. 2° 25′ N., long. 96° 25′ E., and is to be known by discoloring water.

5. A depth of 8 fathoms stones has been obtained on the bearings: Cape Lentang N. 6° E. and Cape Kakat N. 70° W.

Also a reef of great extent with discoloring water exists here, apparently with less water.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 21′.5 N., long. 96° 23′.5 E.

There is a fairway between the reefs 4 and 5 with more than 20 fathoms water.

It is advisable not to approach the S. E. coast of Simaloer island within 4 sea miles.

6. A wooded island, named Sevelak, lies north, distant about 2 sea miles from Tapak island.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 29′.5 N., long. 96° 8′ E.

7. A depth of 8 fathoms stones has been obtained on the bearings:—

N. E. extreme Tapak	S. 83° E.
S. W. extreme Tjoet (Mintjau)	S. 40°.5 E.
Sevelak island (centre)	N. 68° E.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 28′ N., long. 96° 4′.5 E.

8. A shoal, on which the sea breaks, on the bearings:—

N. E. extreme Tapak	S. ¼ E.
Sevelak island (centre)	N. W. ¼ W.

or in approximately lat. 2° 29′ N., long. 96° 8′.5 E.

9. A reef with a depth of 5 fathoms on it on the bearings:—

Cape Lambaja	N. by W. ¼ W.
S. extreme Simaloer Tjoet	W. ⅛ N.

or in approximately lat. 2° 29′.5 N., long. 96° 3′ E.

In this vicinity breakers were seen, so that there is perhaps less water on the shoal.

10. A shoal with breakers lying N. W., distant about 2 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 32′.5 N., long. 95° 55′.5 E.

11. A shoal with breakers, lying S. W., distant about 4 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 29′ N., long. 95° 54′ E.

12. A reef of great extent lying W. by N. ½ N., distant 5 sea miles from the W. extreme of Simaloer Tjoet.

The reef on which the sea always breaks is about 2 sea miles long., E. N. E. and W. S. W., and about 1 sea mile broad, N. N. W. and S. S. E.

Approximate position: lat. 2° 33′ N., long. 95° 52′ E.

RESOLUTION ONTHE REVISED BUGET ESTIMATE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF CHITTAGONG FOR THE YEAR 1894 95 AND THE BUDGET ESTIMATE FOR THE YEAR 1895-96.

No. 154 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 15th January 1895.

READ—

Letter No. 842, dated the 22nd October 1894, from the Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners of the Port of Chittagong, submitting, through the Accountant-General Bengal, the revised budget estimate of the Commissioners for the year 1894-95, and the estimate for the year 1895-96.

THE principal difference between the figures in the estimate for the year 1894-95, sanctioned in Resolution No. 55Marine, dated the 9th January 1894, and those for that year given in the revised estimate now submitted, are shown below :—

Receipts.

	Budget estimate.	Revised estimate.
	Rs.	Rs.
Fees and fines—
Licenses	940	770
Other fees and fines	600	100
Sundry receipts	14,988	26,680

Expenditure.

	Budget estimate.	Revised estimate.
Administration—	Rs.	Rs.
Exchange compensation allowance ...	466	1,088
Vessels and boats—
Repairs to vessels and boats	893	3,000
Light houses—
Stores	5,000	2,000
Hospital charges—
Rent on account of Seamen's Hospital building on Rangmahal Hill	1,800	909

2. The sanctioned estimate of receipts under the heads mentioned above has been altered mainly with reference to the actuals of the six months ending on the 30th September 1894. The increase under the head "Sundry receipts" includes a sum of Rs. 4,911 paid by the Government on account of the deputation allowance of Messrs. J. E. O'Conor and J. H. Apjohn, who were appointed by the Government of India to report on the question of the acquisition of certain lands at Chittagong for the requirements of the Port Trust and the Assam-Bengal Railway, as well as a sum of Rs. 3,126, being the amount refunded by the Executive Engineer, Calcutta Workshops Division, on account of savings on the cost of the new works carried out at the Kutubdia Light House, the full estimated expenditure on which had been paid to the Public Works Department.

3. Under the head "Expenditure" the principal items that call for notice are the following:—

I. Vessels and boats. | II. Light-houses.
III. Hospital charges.

The increased estimate under the head "Vessels and boats" is based on the actuals of the six months ending on the 30th September 1894. The decrease under the head "Light-houses" is due to the fact that blue light composition is no longer required for the light-houses. The estimates under "Hospital charges" has been reduced, as no rent has been paid on account of the building since August last, the house having been purchased.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the revised estimate subject to the above remarks.

5. The budget estimate for 1895-96 is based generally on the revised estimate for 1894-95, and does not call for any special remarks. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the estimate of receipts and expenditure for the year 1895-96 under section 69 of Act IV (B.C.) of 1887.

6. An abstract of the revised estimate for 1894-95, and of the estimate for 1895-96, is subjoined:—

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER 1894.

THE most important features in the meteorology of December 1894 have been :—

1. No less than four barometric depressions advanced from North-Western India over Bengal during the month—practically one in each week. The depressions, however, were not of very influential character, and they gave comparatively little rain in their passage through the province. Each depression, however, gave a very distinct warm wave in front of and during the depression. The cold waves of air following on after the depressions have, however, been of unusually short duration owing to the rapidity with which the depressions have succeeded each other.

2. The retreat of the south-west monsoon current in the south of the Bay in December was unattended with the formation of any cyclonic storms. Indeed, there were no barometric depressions even formed over the Bay in December, and hence the weather over the Bay was much less disturbed than usual. Therefore, no disturbance of the weather in Bengal was caused by these actions.

3. Conditions in Bengal on the whole have been much less settled than usual during December. The first depression affected the weather in Bengal from about the 4th to the 6th; the second depression affected the weather conditions from the 11th to the 15th or 16th; the third from the 20th to the 22nd, and the fourth from about the 24th to the 28th. Hence the duration of the fine settled north-east monsoon weather during December in Bengal was rather limited.

4. Though weather has thus been less settled than usual in December, as the depressions were very feeble, the amount of rain falling in the province has been small, and the largest average divisional falls have only equalled 0·57 inch in East Bengal and 0·18 inch in North Bengal. In other divisions the falls have only averaged a few hundredths of an inch.

5. Owing to the feeble nature of the depressions, the mean pressure for the month has shown only very slight variations from the normal. The majority of stations report very slight defects, but the variations as a rule do not equal a hundredth of an inch.

6. The average mean temperature of the province has been in excess by rather more than a degree, the excess being largest in Bihar, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa. This excess has been almost entirely confined to the night or minimum temperatures, which have been generally 2° to 3° above the normal, while on the other hand the day or maximum temperatures have been in slight defect over the greater part of the province.

7. Humidity has been very decidedly above the normal at the great majority of stations, while cloud proportion has also been somewhat higher than usual.

Ordinary cold-season conditions existed over Bengal at the end of November and the commencement of December, but on the 2nd of December a barometric depression formed in Baluchistan, which advanced rather rapidly in an easterly and south-easterly direction. The depression had reached Bihar on the morning of the 5th, and with its gradual advance towards and over the province, pressure fell very considerably, while temperature rose largely; and on this date the night temperatures were 5° to 7° in excess of the normal at many stations, and in some cases the excess was 10° and 11°. In its passage over the province local rain showers were received, and in some cases the falls were heavy; a few rain showers were also reported on the 6th. After the 6th, however, the depression rapidly passed away, and fine settled weather with increasing pressure and falling temperature set in over the province, and this continued up till the 10th. On the 9th, however, the first indications of a new barometric depression approaching Lower Sind were shown, and this depression advanced eastwards till on the 11th its centre had reached Sutna, and the depression was beginning to affect Bengal. On the 12th the depression had apparently reached Bengal, but on the 14th and 15th pressure rose slowly to briskly, and the depression either began to pass away or to fill up over Bengal. Hence, from the 10th to the 13th or 14th the conditions which usually accompany a depression affected Bengal, when temperature and humidity were high, while pressure was low. Cloud proportion also increased largely in Bengal, and moderate rain fell on the 14th in East Bengal, while rain was reported on the morning of the 15th. From the 15th, however, with the passing away of the depression, conditions began slowly to improve, temperature and humidity fell, and pressure rose, while the skies cleared and fine settled weather again obtained from the 16th up to about the 20th. A third barometric depression then entered Baluchistan and North-Western India on the 19th, and on the 20th it had advanced rapidly towards the Central Provinces and Bundelkhand. On the 21st the depression from Bundelkhand had again advanced very rapidly about 500 miles in an easterly direction, and it was over East and Central Bengal. Hence, again, conditions changed rapidly in Bengal, and temperature and humidity rose, while pressure fell, and showers were reported on the 21st and 22nd. On the morning of the 22nd the depression had apparently either filled up over Bengal or had advanced in an easterly direction, and from this date fine settled weather again obtained over the province. This was, however, quickly followed by the advance of a fourth depression, which entered North-Western India on the 23rd, and advanced rapidly in an easterly and south-easterly direction, reaching Bengal on the 25th, when it again produced increasing temperature and humidity with falling pressure, while a few local showers occurred on the 25th and 26th. On the 27th pressure rose briskly, and the depression passed away, and the cold wave of air following in the rear of the storm reached Bengal on the 27th and 28th, and from this date till the end of the month fine settled weather with decidedly low temperature and humidity and with rather high pressure obtained.

Pressure.—Owing to the passage of the depression over the province in the first week of the month, pressure was in distinct defect, the variations equalling from about 0·055″ at the western stations to 0·025″ in the east and south of the province. In the second week, notwithstanding the passage of a depression, the average pressure was nearly normal, while in the third week an average excess of 0·03″ to 0·05″ was registered. In the fourth week, again, the average pressure was very nearly normal, an excess of about one or two hundredths of an inch being reported. For the whole month the mean pressure has, however, been very nearly normal, and at a little more than half the number of stations defects have been reported, while slight excess pressures have been registered at the remainder; the variations, however, in both cases are usually less than a hundredth of an inch.

Temperature.—The cause of the rather large variations of temperature during the month has already been referred to, and the average mean temperature of Bengal has been in excess by rather more than 1°. This excess had been entirely caused by the unusually high night or minimum temperatures, which have at many stations been 3° in excess of the normal.

The general variation of temperature from the normal of the month is best shown by the following table, which gives the variation of the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province, week by week, throughout the month:—

Rainfall.—The only district average rainfalls of importance have been—Backergunge 1·37 inches, Noakhali 1·01 inches, Chittagong 0·98 inch, South Lushai Hills 0·73 inch, and falls of a quarter to half an inch at Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Rangpur, Pabna, Dacca, and Faridpur.

The following table gives in a condensed form the summary of the rainfall information in Bengal for the whole year. It gives a comparison between the actual monthly and total rainfall of the year with the normal values in each of the six meteorological divisions of Bengal, the actual falls being expressed as percentages of the normal amounts. From these figures it will be seen that all the divisions except South-West Bengal have received falls rather larger than usual during the year, the excess varying from 25 per cent. in Chota Nagpur and 22 in Bihar to 2 per cent. in East Bengal. Taking Bengal as a whole, the rainfall of 1894 has been larger than the normal amount by 9 per cent:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the Humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 12th of January 1895.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 15th January 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 12TH OF JANUARY 1895.

On the 6th of January, or the first day of the week under review, a barometric depression appeared on the North-West Frontier, and in Beluchistan a rapid fall of pressure was recorded. Pressure had also fallen moderately over the greater part of India, the fall in Bengal equalling about a twentieth of an inch, while the temperature and humidity changes were rather variable. On the 7th the depression had advanced to near Jeypore, but it was still too far distant to affect Bengal, and pressure was rising slowly, while temperature had also increased over this area. On the 8th the depression had advanced in a south-easterly direction into Bundelkhand, and its centre was near Nowgong, and hence pressure began to fall slowly over the western districts of Bengal, while a further increase of temperature occurred, and both day and night temperatures in Bengal became rather considerably in excess of the normal, and humidity was also decidedly high. On the 9th the depression had remained practically stationary, but pressure had fallen slightly to briskly over the western half of Bengal, showing that the depression had decidedly intensified, and was affecting Bengal more largely, and hence temperature again rose and the sky became lightly to moderately clouded. On the 10th the depression had advanced in a south-easterly direction, and probably existed over the head of the Bay, but it had become very feeble, and it was not well marked. Pressure was hence falling slowly over the southern and eastern districts of Bengal, while it was rising elsewhere, and temperature had again risen moderately over practically the whole province, and both day and night temperatures became in excess by amounts ranging from about 2° over a large part of the province up to 5° and 6° in the western districts. On the 11th the depression at the head of the Bay disappeared, but a new depression accompanied by an irregular cyclonic circulation of winds appeared in Bundelkhand, which again affected the weather in Bengal, where pressure had fallen moderately, while temperature rose briskly, and at several stations southerly winds appeared, which caused a very considerable increase in the humidity. On this day the excess in the mean temperature at a good many stations equalled about 5°, while in certain cases, such as at Jalpaiguri, the night temperatures were about 10° higher than usual. On the 12th the depression had advanced from Bundelkhand and had travelled eastwards into Bengal, but it was filling up, and had become of comparatively little importance. It was, however, still affecting the weather in Bengal rather considerably, and was giving unusually high temperature and humidity with lightly to moderately clouded skies.

Thus it will be seen that throughout the whole of the week under review, Bengal has been under the influence of two successive barometric depressions, and hence weather has been slightly disturbed with unusually high temperature and humidity for the season for almost the whole of this period.

Pressure.—Owing to the influence of the two depressions the mean pressure for the week has been in defect by considerable amounts, the defect ranging usually between 0·02″ and 0·04″. The pressures registered and their variations from the normal have, however, both been somewhat irregular, showing that the atmosphere has been a little disturbed.

Temperature—Has been unusually high practically throughout the week, and the average mean temperature of the province has been 2·7° in excess. This excess has been unusually large at the western stations, and in Behar and Chota Nagpur it has equalled between 4° and 5°.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variations from the normal temperature of the present season are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The variations, it will be seen, have been very large in the day or maximum temperatures, which have been in excess by about two to three degrees, while the night or minimum temperatures have usually been also in extremely large excess, the excess ranging up to from 5° to 7° at such stations as Hazaribagh and Patna:—

SANITARY.

The 18th January, 1895.

No. 24.—THE following translation of the special Regulations of the Ottoman Board of Health applicable to the Mecca Pilgrimage of 1894-95, received through Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, is published for general information :—

SPECIAL REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE MECCA PILGRIMAGE OF 1894-95.

Year of the Hegira 1312.

Article 1.—From the beginning of the month of Rajab, until the end of the month of Zilhijja (that is to say, from the 28th December 1894 to end of June 1895), the lazaretto of Camaran will be open to receive arrivals by sea subject to quarantine.

Article 2.—During the period of the six months mentioned above (Rajab, Shaban, Ramazan, Shawwal, Zilkaada, Zilhijja), pilgrim vessels coming from beyond the Straits of Babelmandeb, whatever the tenor of their Bills of Health, must proceed direct to the Island of Camaran, without calling at any other port on the littoral of the Red Sea.

Article 3.—Pilgrim vessels are vessels which are chartered to carry pilgrims proceeding to the Hedjaz.

Article 4.—Vessels bound for the Red Sea having on board not more than one pilgrim for every 100 tons of registered tonnage, are not included in the definition of pilgrim vessels. Such vessels will be dealt with, according to the tenor of their Bills of Health, conformably to the General Regulation of 1867 applicable to arrivals from cholera-infected places.

Article 5.—Vessels carrying not more than five pilgrims for every 100 tons of registered tonnage can proceed to Abu-Saad where they will discharge their pilgrims and merchandise subject to quarantine destined for the Hedjaz.

Quarantine will also be performed at Abu-Saad by the 'Sambouks' and other coasters subject to quarantine proceeding from one port to another of the Red Sea littoral.

Article 6.—For this purpose a lazaretto is established at Abu-Saad, as a branch of the Camaran lazaretto, which will be open throughout the year to arrivals specified in Articles 4 and 5 of this Regulation.

Article 7.—Vessels upon which cases of cholera or suspicious cases have occurred, either in the port of embarkation or during the voyage, will undergo (both vessels and pilgrims) quarantine for 15 days at Camaran. This quarantine will be renewed each time a cholera case occurs among crew or passengers after their arrival at the lazaretto and will date from the last case of sickness. In such cases, the provisions of the Cholera Regulation of 1867 will be strictly applied.

Article 8.—When a batch of pilgrims has suffered from cholera during their stay at Camaran, they will not be admitted to free pratique at Jeddah until they have undergone a supplementary quarantine for five days and vigorous disinfection at the lazaretto at Abu-Saad.

Vessels carrying such pilgrims may, however, clear in quarantine in conformity with Article 16 of the principal Regulation after landing at Abu-Saad the pilgrims and their baggage and merchandise destined for Jeddah.

Article 9.—Indian or Malay pilgrims who take the indirect route viâ Suez to the Hedjaz will be subjected to quarantine, unless they can prove, on their arrival at Jeddah, by their passports or other official documents, that they have come from beyond the Suez canal, or that they have spent at least ten days in Egypt in free pratique and in good health.

Vessels embarking at Suez Indian or Malay pilgrims who do not fulfil these conditions will be treated as infected, and will have to proceed to Camaran, at any rate in certain cases, to undergo quarantine there according to the country of origin of the pilgrims in question.

Article 10.—Merchandise destined for Yemen not susceptible of infection can be landed at Hodeida under the supervision of the sanitary authority.

Article 11.—Vessels coming from beyond the Suez canal and Egypt with unclean Bills of Health must proceed to Camaran for quarantine.

Article 12.—Pilgrim vessels which arrive from ports where cholera exists, but have had no cholera case during the voyage or after arrival, will undergo (vessels and pilgrims,) a quarantine for ten days. Merchandise coming from a cholera-infected port will remain on board, if there have been no cholera cases during the voyage or after arrival, and will be exempt from disinfection and from sanitary fees, except in the case of old personal effects and stuffs already used, unwashed wool, old cottons, horse hair and feathers, raw hides and other raw animal products, as well as rags of all kinds, which will be subject to the provisions of the Cholera Regulation of 1867.

Article 13.—No pilgrim vessel, even when admitted to free pratique, will be allowed to leave Camaran without re-shipping, after the performance of their quarantine, all the pilgrims brought by her.

Article 14.—Vessels coming from the Persian Gulf and Zanzibar with pilgrims on board bound for the Hedjaz will also proceed to Camaran where they will be detained 24 hours for the disinfection of the effects and wearing apparel of the pilgrims and crew. These vessels will, however, be treated according to the tenor of their Bills of Health, in the manner provided by the Cholera Regulation of 1867.

Article 15.—Sambouks coming from beyond the Straits of Babelmandeb with pilgrims will be subject to the same rules as vessels specially chartered for pilgrims. They must proceed direct to the anchorage of Camaran, and will be excluded from all other Arabian ports on the Red Sea.

Article 16.—The embarkation on board a pilgrim vessel of live animals, as well as hides, animal products, rags of all kinds, coal, petroleum, and all other inflammable or explosive material, except such coal and animals as are necessary for the service and provisioning of the vessel during the voyage, is strictly prohibited.

Article 17.—All vessels embarking more than 100 pilgrims must be provided with a medical man licensed by authority in the country of departure, as well as with medicines, disinfectants and articles necessary for the care of the sick. A special place must be arranged on the deck as a hospital. Attendance and medicine will be given gratuitously.

Article 18.—On the arrival of a pilgrim vessel at Camaran or at Abu-Saad, as the case may be, all pilgrims will be disembarked and undergo the usual medical examination. If the condition of the vessel is good, and no suspicious case has occurred during the voyage, the vessel and the pilgrims will undergo five full days' quarantine, and their clothing and effects will be disinfected, but the cargo will be subject to the provisions of the Cholera Regulation of 1867.

Article 19.—The sanitary authority will not allow the departure of a pilgrim vessel from any port in the Empire without assuring himself that it satisfies the followig conditions: viz.,—that the vessel is fit to undertake the voyage without danger; that she is well equipped, well-regulated, well ventilated, provided with a sufficient number of boats; and that she contains nothing on board that is or may become injurious to health or prejudicial to the safety of the passengers; that there are on board suitably stored, besides the provisions of the crew, food, drinking water of good quality and fuel, in sufficient quantity for all the pilgrims and for the entire declared duration of the voyage. This last provision, however, in so far as it concerns food, is strictly applicable only to vessels passing the Straits of Babelmandeb. For all other vessels the Captain is bound to have food only in the proportion necessary for the wants of the pilgrims who may have contracted to be fed on board during the entire voyage. The sanitary authority will refer to the authority to which the vessels are subject for the application of those of the above provisions which do not concern him directly.

Article 20.—Every pilgrim vessel which does not conform to the provisions of the present Regulation will be held to have contravened sanitary rules and be liable to extreme measures regarding quarantine.

Article 21.—Vessels carrying pilgrims are strictly subject to the following instructions concerning the measuring of pilgrim vessels.

Read and adopted in meeting of the Superior Council of Health, the 10th and 22nd December 1891, and amended the 23rd and 25th December 1893, and 27th and 29th October 1894.

Instructions regarding the measurement of pilgrim ships referred to above in Article 21.

1. Only steamers and ships propelled partly by steam and partly by sail are authorised to carry pilgrims on voyages beyond the Straits of Babelmandeb or beyond the Suez Canal.

2. The space to be given to each pilgrim irrespective of age or sex shall be at least 9 superficial feet and 54 cubic feet, between decks. No passenger shall be accommodated in the ship's hold; and the deck, free of all goods, shall be reserved for the use of the crew and the passengers travelling between decks.

3. Any ship which can produce an official certificate furnished by the authority on which it is dependent, proving its capacity with regard to the number of passengers that can be embarked, shall not be liable to a second measurement, except in the event of the size, capacity and arrangements of the ship being found by the sanitary authority not to be in accord with the number of passengers shown in the certificate.

4. Any ship sailing under the Turkish flag, which is unable to produce an official certificate of measurement, shall be measured by a competent officer of the Imperial Marine, to be named by the local authority, with the assistance of the sanitary authority of the port where the ship happens to be; the service rendered by the sanitary authority in such a case is gratuitous.

As regards ships belonging to a foreign marine and not possessing official certificates of measurement, the sanitary authority shall give them the opportunity of producing the documents required in communication with their respective Consuls. The Consul can, if he so desires, cause the measurement in question to be made by the competent local authority in accordance with the requirements of Article 2 above.

5. The Sanitary authority shall refuse to give a Bill of Health to any ship which has embarked pilgrims without the necessary certificate.

Read and adopted in meeting of the Superior Council of Health, the 10th and 22nd December 1891.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 315*Med.*—The 22*nd January* 1895.—In supersession of the notification, dated the 23rd July 1887, published at pages 188 and 189, Part IB. of the Calcutta Gazette of the 27th idem, it is hereby notified for general information that, under clause 2, section 252 of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884, as amended by Act IV of 1894, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to prescribe the following rules for the examination of, and grant of certificates to compounders:—

Rules for the Examination of Compounders.

RULE 1.—Examinations for compounders' certificates will be held during the first week of April and the first week after the Durga Puja holidays at the Campbell Medical School, Calcutta; the Temple Medical School, Patna; the Dacca Medical School, Dacca; the Orissa Medical School, Cuttack, and at the head-quarters of the district of Darjeeling for the students of the compounder's class attached to the Church of Scotland Mission, Kalimpong.

RULE 2.—The precise date will be fixed by the Superintendent of the Medical School at which the examination is to be held. In the case of Darjeeling, the date will be fixed by the Civil Surgeon.

RULE 3.—The examination at each Medical School will be conducted by a Committee, consisting of the Superintendent of the Medical School as President, and two of the teachers as members. At Darjeeling the Committee shall consist of the Civil Surgeon as President, with the Resident Medical Officer of the Eden Sanitarium, and the Civil Hospital Assistant attached to the charitable dispensary as members.

RULE 4.—Candidates will be examined in Materia Medica, Pharmacy, the reading of prescriptions, and the writing in English of directions contained in prescriptions.

RULE 5.—Intending candidates must forward to the Superintendent of the Medical School (or at Darjeeling to the Civil Surgeon), an examination fee of Rs. 3, at least one week before the date fixed for the examination.

A fresh fee must be paid each time that the candidate wishes to be examined; but any candidate who, after payment of the fee, is unable through illness to attend the examination, will be allowed, on producing a satisfactory medical certificate to that effect, to attend the next examination without payment of a fresh fee.

Exception.—This rule does not apply to students of the compounders' classes of the vernacular medical schools. Students of those schools will, on entering the institutions, be required to pay a consolidated fee of Rs. 5.

RULE 6.—Each candidate must, before being examined, produce a certificate showing—

(a) that he has for one year attended the compounder's class at one of the aforesaid medical schools or at Kalimpong;

(b) that he has for three years been an apprentice in one of such chemists' and druggists' establishments, managed by legally-qualified medical men, as may be recognised by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, for this purpose; or

(c) that he has for five years assisted at the dispensing of drugs at the sadar dispensary in a civil station.

The certificate must be signed by the Superintendent of the Medical School, the Medical Missionary in charge of the class at Kalimpong, the legally-qualified manager of the chemists' and druggists' establishment, or the Civil Surgeon, as the case may be.

Exception.—Any person who, at the time of the extension of section 252 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884 as amended by Act IV of 1894 to any municipality, shall have acted as compounder for the seven years preceding in any shop or place of the kind referred to in the above section shall, on producing a satisfactory certificate to that effect, be exempted from producing a certificate of the kind referred to in this rule.

RULE 7.—A register in the following form will be kept at each of the aforesaid vernacular medical schools and in the office of the Civil Surgeon, Darjeeling:—

1. Serial number.
2. Name of candidate.
3. Address.
4. Father's name.
5. Father's address.
6. Name of medical officer giving the certificate.
7. Address of medical officer giving the certificate.
8. Amount of fee deposited.
9. Date of deposit.
10. Initials of officer receiving the fee.
11. Result of examination.

RULE 8.—Should the candidate pass, he will, as soon as possible, receive a certificate in the following form signed by the President and Members of the Examining Board stating that he is qualified to practise as a compounder:—

Certified that of has been examined by us, and that we are of opinion that he has a sufficient knowledge of Materia Medica, Pharmacy and English to enable him to satisfactorily compound and dispense European medicines.

President.

—MEDICAL SCHOOL, Member.

The 189 . Member.

RULE 9. Exemptions.—Persons who have passed the following examinations or who possess the following qualifications shall be exempted from passing the compounder's examination, and shall be held to be qualified to compound and dispense medicines under the Act:—

All persons who have passed the first M.B. or L.M.S. examination of the Calcutta University.

All persons who possess certificates from any of the recognised pharmaceutical societies of Great Britain, the Colonies, or such foreign societies and schools as may from time to time be approved of by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal.

All persons who have passed the Calcutta Medical College examination as passed hospital apprentices.

All persons who possess a vernacular license to practise medicines from the vernacular medical schools.

All persons who have passed the military medical examination as hospital apprentices or as hospital assistants.

All locally entertained native doctors who possess certificates of having passed a professional examination before Civil or Military Medical Committees convened by a Medical Department.

RULE 10.—Any person desiring to practise as compounder in any shop or place registered under section 252 of Act III (B C.) of 1884 as amended by Act IV of 1894, shall first register the certificate granted to him under Rule 7 at the Office of the Municipal Commissioners.

RULE 11.—The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals is empowered to cancel the certificate of any compounder proved before a court of law to have made a serious mistake in the dispensing of medicines either through ignorance or carelessness.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

No. II OF 1895.

THE following Bill was introduced and read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th January, 1895, and is hereby published for information, together with a Statement of its Objects and Reasons:—

A Bill to further amend the Suburban Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Police Act, 1866.

WHEREAS it is expedient to further amend Bengal Act II of 1866 and the Calcutta Police Act, 1866; It is enacted as follows:— Preamble.

1. This Act shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General. Commencement.

2. After section 41 of Bengal Act II of 1866, as section 41A, and after section 68A of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, as section 68B, the following section shall be inserted:— New section to follow section 41, Act II (B.C.), 1866, and section 68A., Act IV (B.C.), 1866.

"Whoever, in a public place, solicits any person to immorality shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding eight days." Penalty for solicitation in a public place.

3. In section 43 of Bengal Act II of 1866, after the word "Act," the words "other than an offence described in section 41A" shall be inserted. Amendment of section 43, Act II (B.C.), 1866.

4. In section 72 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, after the word "Act" the words "other than an offence described in section 68B" shall be inserted. Amendment of section 72, Act IV (B.C.), 1866.

5. After section 43 of Bengal Act II of 1866, as section 43A, and after section 72 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, as section 72A, the following section shall be inserted:— New section to follow section 43, Act II (B.C.), 1866, and section 72, Act IV (B.C.), 1866.

"Any police officer, above the rank of native constable, and such other officer as the Local Government or the Commissioner of Police may specially appoint in that behalf, may arrest without warrant any person, who in his sight and in a public place solicits any other person to commit an act of immorality, if the name and address of such person be unknown to him, and cannot be ascertained by him then and there." Arrest without warrant for solicitation.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THERE is no provision in the Calcutta or Suburban Police Acts for dealing with solicitation in public places on the part of prostitutes or touts to commit an act of immorality; and as there can be no doubt that such solicitation exists in certain parts of the town of Calcutta to a degree which demands interference, this Bill is introduced to remedy, under proper safeguards, the present defect in the law.

GULF OF ADEN, NORTH SHORE—ADEN ANCHORAGE.

Intended lights and system of buoyage.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 679 of 1894) that, on 15th January 1895, the undermentioned alterations will be made in the lights, Aden anchorage:—

A new light-vessel (Marbut shoal), painted red, and carrying a red ball at her masthead as a daymark, will be moored in a depth of 22 feet at low water springs, in lieu of the present south-western Marbut buoy; and in a position S. 82° W., distant half a cable, from that buoy. This light-vessel will exhibit two red lights, placed vertically, 3 feet apart (the lower elevated 20 feet above the sea), visible in clear weather from a distance of 8 miles.

Approximate position, light-vessel, lat. 12° 47′ 5″ N., long. 44° 58′ 10″ E.

Also, that on or about 15th January 1895, the buoyage of Aden Inner harbour will be arranged in accordance with the Conical light buoys, painted red, and showing red lights, will mark the starboard side of the channel, entering from seaward.

Can light buoys, painted black, and showing green lights, will mark the port side of the channel.

EMBANKMENT AND DRAINAGE REPORTS FOR 1893-94.

No. 141*I*.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 19th January 1895.

READ—

The Embankment and Drainage Reports for 1893-94.

THE reports submitted by Superintending Engineers deal not only with embankments, but with all drainage and other miscellaneous irrigation works which are not dealt with in the Canal Revenue Report, and they cover the expenditure of the year shown in the statement following:—

	Rs.
I.—Embankments, class A, in Orissa	1,06,469
Ditto „ B, Schedule D and other Government embankments	2,31,463
Ditto „ C maintained under contract ...	97,839
Ditto „ D maintained by annual apportionment of charges	10,616
II.—Works carried out by civil officers	51,943
III.—Works undertaken under the provisions of the Drainage Act	23,699
IV.—Drainage works carried out at the cost of Government	35,922
V.—Drainage works carried out under the Embankment Act	12,662
Total ...	5,70,613

I.—Embankments maintained by the Irrigation Department.

2. The public embankments in Bengal are divided into two classes:—

First.—Embankments the property of Government, which are maintained at the public expense.

Second.—Embankments maintained by Government officers at the cost of the persons interested.

In the first class there are—

A.—The embankments in Orissa, which are maintained under Act XXXII of 1855.

B.—The embankments enumerated in Schedule D of Act VI (B.C.) of 1873, among which are included those of the Burdwan Raj estate taken over in 1804, and some additional lengths, which have at various times been added to the schedule under the provisions of section 43 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882, as also three short lengths of embankments in the Pabna, Bogra and Bankura districts.

Embankments of the second class are situated in several districts, the most important being those on the banks of the river Gandak in the Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Saran districts, and those in the Midnapore district. These, again, are divided into two classes—

C.—Those in which the cost of maintenance is recovered from the persons interested by the payment of a fixed annual charge under a contract extending over a term of years not exceeding 30, as provided for in sections 63—68 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882.

D.—Those in which the cost of maintenance is recovered from the persons interested by an annual apportionment of the actual charges.

Lengths of embankments.

3. The lengths of embankments in each class are shown below:—

Embankments.	Length.
	Miles.	Feet.
Embankments maintained at the expense of Government—
A.—In Orissa	797	1,971
B.—Schedule D and other Government embankments.	1,109	1,239
Embankments not maintained at the expense of Government—
C.—Maintained under contract	470	3,622
D.— Ditto by annual apportionment of charges.	77	1,055
Total for 1893-94	2,454	2,607
Corresponding total for 1892-93	2,471	3,111
Difference, decrease	17	504

A reduction of 4 miles 824 feet has occurred in the total length of embankments in Orissa (Class A) owing to a revision of the list. In class B embankments there is a reduction of 14 miles 5,175 feet on account of the abandonment of three lengths of the Selye right and left embankments, aggregating 15 miles 255 feet in length, in the Midnapore district. The Chota Manika embankment in the Bogra district, (360 feet in length), which was shown under class D in 1892-93, has now been included in Class B. There was a net increase of 2 miles 215 feet in the length of embankments in class D. The additions to this class of embankments during the year were (1) the extension of the Turki embankment in the Muzaffarpur district for 2 miles 1,320 feet along the Tetaria road, (2) an embankment 1,660 feet long constructed in the Purnea district to join the ends of the Panwar and Kosi embankments, and (3) an addition of 1,320 feet to the Tolly's Nala embankment. The following embankments in class D were abandoned during the year—(1) a short length of 10 feet in the Gaya district, (2) the Chota Manika embankment in the Bogra district, 360 feet long, transferred to class B, and (3) the Kolia embankment in the Birbhum district, 3,715 feet in length, omitted, as it is under the charge of the Collector.

Floods.

4. The floods in the Orissa rivers were of an ordinary character, but there was a cyclone in May 1893 in Orissa, which did much damage to the embankments, causing several of them to be breached. In the South-Western Circle the year was an eventful one for floods. The Cossye was in constant flood from 23rd June till the middle of September 1893, the highest reading registered at Midnapore being 91·70 on the 23rd June. The embankments in the Midnapore district on both banks of the river were breached in several places. The floods in the Rupnarain were higher than in the preceding year, and the right embankment was breached in many places. The floods in the Hooghly were higher than any on record during the last five years, but they did very little damage to the embankments. There were high floods in the Damodar. Out of a total length of 700 feet, about 625 feet of the line of spurs at Lakra on the Damodar right embankment were washed away, and the embankment breached. A second breach occurred at Bangacha in the Damodar right embankment. The floods in the various rivers crossed by the Orissa Coast Canal, viz., the Subarnarekha, the Panchpara, the Burrabullong, and the Muttai, were frequent and high, and did much damage to the canal banks. The floods in the Sone and Gogra were of an ordinary character. There were several high floods in the Gandak, and extraordinary floods occurred in the rivers Teor, Boor Gandak and Bagmati during the year. The highest Gandak flood occurred on the 21st October, and caused a considerable amount of damage to all the protective works at various points along the river, but the embankments on both sides were not injured. Great damage was done to the protective works on the Turki embankment, and especially to the new extension of the embankment along the Tetaria road, which was breached in several places and the new earthwork considerably damaged.

Original Works.

5. The Champaran and Tirhut embankments have hitherto been separated by a short break, through which a considerable volume of water used to flow from the Gandak into the Bya nala in the flood season. An estimate amounting to Rs. 12,465 was sanctioned in Bengal Government's letter No. 26T.—I., dated 19th May 1893, for closing the break and building a sluice in the nala. The work was nearly completed at the end of the year. The Golaghat sluice in the 24th mile of the Champaran embankment was remodelled. The inspection bungalow at Champadanga was rebuilt on an estimate sanctioned by Government on the 21st December 1893. Spurs costing Rs. 8,062 were constructed for the protection of the Rampur Boalia embankment. In the Purnea district the village road situated between the ends of the Panwar and the Kosi retired embankments was raised above flood level.

Maintenance.

6. (a) Ordinary repairs.—The ordinary repairs to the embankments in the Orissa Circle cost Rs. 46,863, as against Rs. 57,794, in the preceding year, and Rs. 69,693, the average of the nine years ending with 1892-93. The reduced expenditure is mostly due to the works in the Puri Division not having been completed during the year. In the South-Western Circle the sum spent on ordinary repairs amounted to Rs. 1,56,673, against an expenditure of Rs. 1,65,357 last year. In the Sone Circle extensive repairs had to be carried out to the protective works on both sides of the river Gandak on account of the serious damage done to them by the floods of October 1893.

(b). Breaches and retired lines.—The cost of repairs to the river protective works in the Orissa Circle was Rs. 45,539, against Rs. 54,586 in 1892-93. and Rs. 43,342, the average of the nine years ending with 1892-93. The main expenditure was on retired lines, due to the floods of 1892, the work being carried out and paid for in 1893-94. There was also considerable expenditure on revetment work, due to revetting the river bank at Kendupatna in place of maintaining spurs. In the South-Western Circle the expenditure in filling breaches and making good other damages, caused by the cyclone and floods of May and June 1893, to the embankments in the districts of Midnapore and Hooghly, amounted to Rs. 22,315 and Rs. 18,933 respectively. In the 24-Parganas the expenditure under the same heads was Rs. 17,800. The expenditure on retired lines in the South-Western Circle was Rs. 19,256 as compared with Rs. 26,621 in the previous year. In the Sone Circle a retired line 1½ miles in length was constructed in the 17th mile of the Tirhut embankment at a cost of Rs. 2,815 in consequence of the encroachment of the river on the main bund.

7. The cost of repairing the Burdwan Raj estate embankments, in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum, Hooghly, and Midnapur, was Rs. 1,09,445, against Rs. 85,803 in 1892-93. The increase is mainly attributable to the heavy repairs necessitated by the cyclonic storm of May 1893. The repairs were executed in the year under review.

Financial.

8. The cost of repairing the Orissa embankments (Class A) during the year amounted to Rs. 1,06,469, which, for a total mileage of 797 miles 1,971 feet, is at the average rate of Rs. 133·52 per mile as against Rs. 147 in 1892-93. The Class B embankments, whose aggregate length is 1,109 miles 1,239 feet, cost Rs. 2,31,463 to repair, giving an average rate of Rs. 208·66 per mile, against Rs. 181 in the preceding year.

As regards embankments maintained by Government under contract with the persons interested (Class C), the actual cost of repairs amounted to Rs. 97,839, or Rs. 207·86 per mile, against Rs. 92,996, or Rs. 197 per mile in the preceding year. The sums payable under contract, compared with the maintenance charges, including book charges for establishment and tools and plant, are shown in the following table, together with the amount recovered during the year, and the balance remaining to be recovered:—

It will be seen from these figures that Government is a loser by Rs. 48,281 on the results of the year, and that the outstanding balance to be recovered amounts to Rs. 38,097. The loss to Government in 1892-93 was Rs. 37,926, and the average annual loss for the nine years ending with 1892-93 was Rs. 24,061.

As explained last year, the outlay incurred by the Public Works Department on embankments of Class D cannot be brought on the books of the Civil Department as recoverable until it has been accepted by the Collectors concerned, the unavoidable result being a heavy arrear balance on the books of the Public Works Department. The actual outlay of the year is stated by the Superintending Engineers concerned (Appendix C) to have been Rs. 12,069, while the recoveries of the year (Appendix C, column 7), were Rs. 10,773, the arrear balance at the close of the year being Rs. 12,593, inclusive of amounts not yet accepted by Collectors. Comparing these figures with those submitted by the Board of Revenue (Appendix B), it will be seen that the recoveries of the year (column 17) amounted to Rs. 18,645, instead of Rs. 10,773, as reported by the Superintending Engineers. No explanation of this discrepancy has been given. The figures in the Board's return only include amounts which have been accepted and apportioned by the Civil Department, and hence no comparison between the "advances" and "outstanding balances," as here reported and as given by the Superintending Engineers, can be made.

The figures supplied by the Board (Appendix B) are shown in a more concise form in the statement below. The recoverable amount falling due within the year was Rs. 33,328, out of which Rs. 18,645 were collected, the recoveries thus falling short of the demand by Rs. 14,683—

II.—Works carried out by Civil officers under the grant provided in the Irrigation budget.

9. The administrative sanction of Government is now required in the case of all new works costing more than Rs. 1,000, which are carried out by civil officers, and such works must be approved by the Chief Engineer. The amount provided in the budget was Rs. 60,000, out of which Rs. 51,943 were expended. The distribution of this expenditure by districts is given in the subjoined statement :—

Division.	District.	Expenditure.
		Rs.
Burdwan ...	Midnapore	10,000
Presidency ...	24-Parganas	2,996

10. The nature of the expenditure is shown below:—

	Rs.
Contruction and repairs of embankments	30,938
Excavation of tanks	2,695
Repairs to tanks	1,870
Construction of wells	1,682
Repairs to wells	1,591
Excavation of water-courses	2,470
Repairs to Irrigation channels, &c.	5,294
Construction of culverts	83
Establishment	1,130
Expenditure in the Sadar subdivision of the Gaya district, of which no details have been given	4,190
Total ...	51,943

The chief instances of repairs to embankments were (1) the Kutubdea embankment in Chittagong, which cost Rs. 5,225; (2) the Majnamutha embankment in Midnapore, which cost Rs. 5,408; and (3) the Dowlatpore embankment in the 24-Parganas, which cost Rs. 1,461. Of the expenditure of Rs. 5,294 on irrigation channels, &c., Rs. 3,604 were spent in Gaya, Rs. 1,343 in Shahabad, and Rs. 347 in Cuttack. New wells were constructed in the Patna, Gaya, and Shahabad districts at a cost of Rs. 760, Rs. 622, and Rs. 300 respectively. The expenditure on the excavation of water-courses was mainly in the Midnapore and Gaya districts.

III.—Works undertaken under the provisions of the Drainage Act.

11. These works (five in number) were all undertaken with a view to the drainage of the swamps in the southern part of the Hooghly district. Four of the schemes have been completed; the fifth (the Ampta scheme) has not yet been sanctioned, the expenditure so far on it being confined to preliminary expenses. The following account of the expenditure incurred to date is given by the Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle: the figures relate to expenditure on construction only, and include charges for establishment and tools and plant—

			Rs.
1.	Dankuni drainage works	... ...	3,96,236	Completed.
2.	Howrah ditto	... ...	2,59,463	Ditto.
3.	Rajapur ditto	... ...	8,50,152	Ditto.
4.	Burrajulla ditto	... ...
5.	Ampta ditto	... ...	2,083	Not sanctioned.

These figures do not agree with the figures supplied by the Accountant-General. The Superintending Engineer has been asked to reconcile the discrepancies.

12. The cost of maintenance of the Dankuni drainage channels during the year was Rs. 6,762, against the average assumed annual cost of Rs. 4,390, on which the capitalization was based.

13. The apportionment of the cost of the Howrah scheme was completed during the year. The entire demand will be made in one bill. The maintenance charges have been capitalized for Rs. 50,000. The total amount to be recovered, including original cost, is Rs. 5,24,924. Of this sum, Rs. 4,37,149 represents principal, and Rs. 87,775 interest. The expenditure on the maintenance of the Howrah drainage works during the year was Rs. 1,320, against Rs. 2,000, the basis of the capitalization.

14. The total cost, including the maintenance charges, is reported to be 13·3 times the estimated annual increased value in the case of the Dankuni works, and only 8·7 times in the case of Howrah.

15. The cost of the Rajapur scheme up to March 1894 is reported by the Accountant-General to be Rs. 9,48,996, including the expenditure by the Civil Department. The surveys for the apportionment of the cost were in progress during the year, and are expected to be shortly completed. Some modifications were made in the previous year's survey arrangements in order to reduce the cost, and make the work more efficient. Mr. Todd's services were dispensed with, and the work is now being done directly under the Director of Bengal Surveys. The cost of maintenance of the Rajapur and Burrajulla drainage works during the year amounted to Rs. 3,371 and Rs. 804 respectively.

Efficiency of the Drainage Works.

16. The last year was a year of unprecedented and continual rain during the months of May, June and July, and the drainage works were thoroughly tested as to their ability to do the work expected of them. Paddy, which was twice transplanted, was twice destroyed, and it was not till the middle and end of August that the level of the water in the different drainage basins was sufficiently reduced and the transplantation completed for the third time. The result was bumper crops in the Howrah and Rajapur basins. The crops in a portion of the Dankuni basin are reported not to have been so good, as the sluices are said not to have worked properly.

Up till 1893 doubts were entertained whether the drainage works, especially in the case of Rajapur, which is the most important and costly, had not been made unnecessarily large. The following remarks, which are taken from Mr. Duke, the Collector of Hooghly's 4th Annual Report on the drainage works in the Hooghly district during 1893-94, sum up the conclusions to be drawn from the past year's experience:—

"So far the Rajapur drainage scheme may be considered a complete success. In a year of ordinary rainfall the capacity of the sluice may be considered more than sufficient, but in an unusual year, like the year under review, it would have been impossible to drain out the flood-water if the sluice gate had been smaller. If the rainfall had been as great in August and September as in previous months, there would have been no chance of the transplantation of paddy. The sluice alone, so long as the rainfall continued excessive, failed to reduce the level."

Mr. Duke's statement, that the sluices in connection with the Dankuni scheme did not work properly, and that the Dankuni basin suffered more during the last rains than any other drainage basin, is being investigated, with the view to the adoption of such remedial measures as may be found necessary.

Orders have been issued for the preparation of detailed plans and estimates for the improvement of the drainage of the Ampta basin.

IV.—Drainage works carried out at the cost of Governemnt.

17. Under this head two original works were in progress during the year, the cost being charged to provincial agricultural works—

Name of Work.	Expenditure up to March 1894.	Expenditure of year.	Completed or in progress.
	Rs.	Rs.
Balliagahi drainage works	1,88,569	20,010	Completed.
Constructing datum blocks in the bed of the Protapkhali khal.	909	909	Ditto.

The Balliagahi drain was open throughout the year, and was largely used as a navigation channel by the exporters and traders of the Balliagahi Bazar, the prescribed tolls being paid from July 1893. The traffic receipts amounted to Rs. 4,131 from 3,187 boats.

The Protapkhali khal was cleared of silt. The khas tahsil drainage khals in the Balasore Division and the Balli bhil drainage works were maintained at a cost of Rs. 5,871 and Rs. 9,132, respectively.

V.—Drainage works carried out under the Embankment Act.

18. Only two small works were constructed under the Embankment Act—(1) pipe sluice at Haral in embankment No. 84, schedule D, at a cost of Rs. 921, and (2) a tunnel sluice at Dhosa in embankment No. 81, schedule D. An expenditure of Rs. 9,616 was incurred during the year for the acquisition of land for the Churial khal drainage works, which were completed in the year 1890-91. The Churial khal drainage works and the irrigation sluice and connecting channel at Kumrool in the 50th and 51st mile of the Damodar left embankment were the only works maintained during the year.

Order.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of its appendices (A to C) be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette, and submitted to the Government of India, Public Works Department, for information.

Ordered, also, that copies of this Resolution and of its Appendices (A to C) be forwarded to the Secretaries to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue and Financial Departments; Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; Commissioners of the Patna, Bhagalpur, Rajshahi, Presidency, Burdwan and Orissa Divisions; Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, Sone, and Northern Circles, and Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. ODLING,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 19th of January 1895.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 22nd January 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 19TH OF JANUARY 1895.

At the close of the previous week a feeble form of low-pressure area covered Bengal. This was intensified on the 12th, or the first day of the week under review, when pressure had fallen briskly over Bengal, and a distinct barometric depression existed, while winds also showed a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation in connection with it. Hence temperature and humidity were high, and excess amounts of 8° to 10° were recorded in the night temperatures at such stations as Patna, Gaya, Saugor Island and Berhampur. On the 13th pressure had begun to rise slightly in Bihar and Chota Nagpur, while it fell moderately to rapidly at the eastern and northern stations in the province, and a very decided barometric depression again existed in North Bengal. Temperature and humidity conditions continued practically unaltered in Bengal, and the night temperatures were usually about 5° to 9° in excess. On the 14th pressure had again risen briskly to rapidly in Bengal and Assam, and the depression had to a great extent disappeared, but temperature in Bengal still continued excessive. Rather general rain had also been received in Bihar and Chota Nagpur in connection with this depression, and very numerous rain-showers were reported on the morning of the 15th in the western and northern districts. On the 15th, though pressure continued to rise in Bengal, while temperature also fell slowly, yet conditions were far from settled, for a cyclonic circulation of winds commenced in the North-Western and Central Provinces, and this was apparently connected with another feeble low-pressure area, which began to pass eastwards through Bengal on the 16th, causing a brisk to rapid fall of pressure, particularly in the western districts, and causing a large increase in the cloud proportion with fairly general rain in Bihar, and somewhat numerous but usually light rain showers in Chota Nagpur. Temperature, on the other hand, began to fall slowly to rapidly. On the 17th pressure continued to fall slowly over Bengal, and the province was still rather largely influenced by the depression, so that skies were overcast over a very considerable area, though the rainfall had to a great extent ceased, but temperature had again risen briskly at the great majority of stations. On the 18th pressure began to rise in Bengal, and the depression was hence disappearing; temperature therefore commenced to fall briskly, the decrease in the mean temperature at many stations equalling 5° and 6°; cloud proportion and humidity also began to decrease, and only one or two local showers were reported. On the 19th, or the last day of the week, pressure had again risen moderately to briskly, and the effects of the depression had quite disappeared, temperature had again fallen considerably, and had become decidedly low and below the normal, while a dry northerly current was blowing over the whole of Bengal, skies were almost cloudless, and no rain had fallen. Hence, at the close of the week, fine settled weather of rather strongly developed north-east monsoon character obtained over the province.

Pressure.—The variations of the mean pressure from the normal have been decidedly irregular, and in several cases at neighbouring stations they have been of opposite character. At the great majority of stations, however, the average pressure has been in slight to moderate excess, but the variations have usually not been larger than 0·03°.

Temperature.—The distribution of temperature has also been decidedly irregular; and thus while the average mean temperature in Orissa shows an excess of 2·3°, East Bengal one of 1·8°, and South-West Bengal one of 0·7°, in the remaining Divisions small defects have been recorded. For the whole province the mean temperature for the week has been 0·5° in excess.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variations from the normal temperature of the present season are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The variations, it will be seen, have been large in the day or maximum temperatures, which have been in excess at about half the stations by about two to three degrees, while they have been in defect at the others. On the other hand, at most stations the night or minimum temperatures have usually been in large excess, the excess ranging up to from 3° to 5° at such stations as Patna, Calcutta, Chittagong and Cuttack :—

Rainfall.—Chota Nagpur has received an average fall of 0·27 inch and Bihar one of 0·28 inch. A few unimportant showers have also been received in North and South-West Bengal and in Orissa.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 19th of January 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 0h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION—No. 566For.

The 28*th January* 1895.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 31 of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules for the Protected Forest in the districts of Singhbhum, Lohardaga, Palamau, Hazaribagh and Manbhum in the Chota Nagpur Division:—

I.—Persons who are bonâ fide residents of villages in the said forest (hereinafter referred to as "villagers") may do any of the following acts, free of charge, within the limits of their respective villages, namely:—

(1) cut, convert and remove to their homes for their own private use, but not for sale or barter, any green trees or timber not of a reserved species as defined in Notification, No. 3589-For., dated the 17th July 1894, any dry trees or timber of whatever kind, and any other forest produce;

(2) cut, convert and remove such green trees of any reserved species, excepting Mohua (Bassia latifolia), Kohua (terminalia arjuna), and Hara (terminalia chebula) trees, and trees whose girth at four feet from the ground is less than two-and-a-half feet, as may be required for the construction or repair of their houses, or for the manufacture or repair of articles for their own domestic use or of implements of agriculture or other industry for their own use:

(3) pasture any cattle (other than sheep or goats) which are bonâ fide their own property:

Provided as follows:—

(a) sheep and goats may be pastured within such areas as may be allotted by the Deputy Commissioner;

(b) the Deputy Commissioner may, in order to promote tree-growth, close any area to the pasturing of cattle, for any period not exceeding five years, when there is, in his opinion, sufficient grazing ground available elsewhere, not too inconveniently situated with reference to the villages concerned.

II.—If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner that the area within the limits of any village cannot produce the timber or other forest produce reasonably required by the villagers for their own private use, or cannot afford proper pasturage for cattle, bonâ fide the property of the villagers, and that the area within the limits of some other village can supply the deficiency in addition to supplying the wants of the inhabitants of such other village, he may, by order in writing, authorise the said villagers to do any of the acts mentioned in rule I within the limits of such other village.

III.—(1) Licenses may be granted by the Forest Officer—

(a) to any inhabitant of a town or village in the vicinity of the said forest, authorising him to take trees, timber or other forest produce for his own use; or

(b) to any person, authorising him to fell or remove trees or timber or other forest produce from the said forest for the purposes of trade; or

(c) to any person, authorising him to pasture cattle in the said forest.

(2). Every such license shall provide for payment by the licensee at the current rates for all trees, timber or other forest produce taken, or for any right of pasture conferred, thereunder.

IV.—No person shall cut, convert, or remove from the said forest, or otherwise deal with, any tree, timber or other forest produce of the said forest, or pasture any cattle therein, except as provided by rules I, II and III.

V.—If any green trees of any reserved species should be cut, converted or removed by villagers otherwise than as provided by rule I, clause (2), the Deputy Commissioner may, by order in writing, prohibit the cutting of any tree of any reserved species until the written permission of the Forest Officer has been obtained and the trees permitted to be cut have been marked by such Forest Officer.

VI.—No person who is authorised by or under these rules to cut, convert or remove trees, timber or other forest produce shall injure or wastefully use any tree of any reserved species, whether in the course of collecting forest produce or in any other way: Provided that this prohibition shall not extend to the lopping of Asan (terminalia tomentosa), Kusum (Schleichera trijuga), or Paras (Butea frondosa) trees for the collection of cocoons or lac which may have formed on them.

VII.—Any person who fells a green tree under these rules shall cause the same to be cut as level with the ground as may be feasible.

VIII.—No land in the said forest shall be cleared or broken up for cultivation or any other purpose without the written permission of the Deputy Commissioner.

IX.—No person who is authorized by or under these rules to do any act shall use fire in the collection of forest produce, in the clearing of land for cultivation, or for the improvement of pasturage lands.

X.—Nothing in these rules shall be held to permit any infringement of the rules for the time being in force in the "Protected Forests" of Bengal for the regulation of hunting, shooting and fishing.

XI.—The Deputy Commissioner may, by order in writing, delegate to the Forest Officer all or any of the powers conferred on himself by these rules, and may, by a like order, resume any powers so delegated.

COMPLAINT OF ASSAULT AGAINST MR. BEATSON BELL, OFFICIATING DISTRICT MAGISTRATE AND COLLECTOR OF KHULNA.

NOTIFICATION—No. 553J.

The 28th January 1895.—The following correspondence is published for general information.

H. J. S. COTTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1146, dated Simla, the 20th October 1894.

From—H. LUSON, Esq., Under-Secy. to the Govt. of India, Home Department,
To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I AM directed to say that Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India desires to be furnished with a report upon the case in which a complaint of assault was laid against Mr. Beatson Bell, Officiating Magistrate and Collector of Khulna. I am to ask that a report may be submitted at an early date, and that it may also deal with the action of the Deputy Magistrate before whom the complaint was made. I am further to enquire whether His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor saw reason for taking any, and if so what, notice of the conduct of Mr. Beatson Bell and of the Deputy Magistrate concerned.

No. 4228J., dated Calcutta, the 12th November 1894.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, Esq., C.S.I., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1146, dated 20th October 1894, intimating that Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India desires to be furnished with a report upon the case in which a complaint of assault was laid against Mr. Beatson Bell, Officiating Magistrate and Collector of Khulna, and also enquiring whether His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor saw reason for taking any, and if so what, notice of the conduct of Mr. Beatson Bell and of the Deputy Magistrate before whom the complaint was made.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor called upon Mr. Bell at the time for a full explanation of his conduct, and I am to enclose a copy of the report then received for the information of the Government of India and the Secretary of State. Sir Charles Elliott, upon a careful consideration of this explanation, was unable to hold Mr. Beatson Bell to have been very seriously to blame. Mr. Bell received extreme provocation and lost his temper, and then struck the offender with a small cane which could not do any serious injury. In doing this he was unquestionably wrong, and he has borne the consequences of his intemperate action. The case against him was eventually compromised by his paying to the complainant Rs. 350 as compensation for damages and all costs incurred. This and the exposure and annoyance which he has suffered were, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, quite sufficient punishment, and His Honour considered it unnecessary to do more than censure him for his hot-headedness. He is an excellent officer, and this single act is opposed to the whole tenor of his life and character, which has been marked by unusual kindness to, and sympathy with, the people of the country.

3. As regards the misconduct of the Deputy Magistrate, Babu Satish Chandra Bose, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor can only attribute his action to the fact that he had not properly recovered his health, and that his brain was still affected by the cerebral attack under which he had been suffering when compelled to take leave three months previously. I am to enclose a copy of a letter No. 3426J., dated 14th August 1894, addressed to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, in which the Lieutenant-Governor's views are expressed, and to add that the Deputy Magistrate is now on four months' medical leave in pursuance of the orders then passed. Babu Satish Chandra Bose is an officer who has hitherto borne a high reputation, and as his name happened to stand according to seniority first for promotion from the sixth to the fifth grade of Deputy Magistrates, His Honour saw no sufficient reason for passing him over when a vacancy occurred, and he was accordingly promoted in his turn on the 14th September last.

THE FACTS ABOUT THE CHUKNAGAR CASE.

1. It is true that on 20th July I assaulted a muharrir at Chuknagar. I have afterwards heard that his name is Keshob Lal Mittra. I struck him several times with a small cane which I produce (sent by parcel post). It is absolutely untrue that he fainted, and equally untrue (as the accompanying evidence will show) that he was ill with fever in the village for several days. There is not a word of these assertions in the sworn evidence before the Deputy Magistrate upon 30th July. They seem to have been added as a futile attempt to explain the fact that no action was taken for ten days, and the very day when my back was turned, a criminal petition was filed before the Deputy Magistrate, a notice of a civil case (damages Rs. 10,000) was sent to me, a letter written to the Lieutenant-Governor, and a letter written to the Commissioner. The present proceedings in the High Court have not been taken to secure a further enquiry: the Sessions Judge was willing to pass such an order, as the complainant well knew. I had myself asked him to do so. Neither were the proceedings taken in order to secure compensation: I myself made a full offer of apology and pecuniary reparation before the motion was filed. The proceedings in the High Court were instituted with avowedly political objects.

2. To explain the actual facts, it is right that I should begin from the beginning. My first visit to Chuknagar was on 10th June 1894, before I had been a fortnight in the district. My servants arrived in the course of the afternoon, and I arrived at sunset. My servants made vain and repeated attempts to secure the help of the cutcherry people in obtaining provisions for my dinner and a little straw for my horses. My khansamah tells me that he actually saw the naib and offered to pay for everything he secured, but the naib said:—"I can give you no help." The khansamah then asked him to depute one of his servants to point out the house of the chaukidar. But the naib answered:—"You can go and look for it yourself." He finally found it after a long search, but the chaukidar was not at home. When I arrived I found that not a particle of straw had been got for my horses, and that only one fowl and a few eggs had been procured, and they were got from another village beyond the river. I was very angry, especially when I found that the naib had disappeared with the obvious intention of still further insulting me. I finally obtained a little straw for my horses through the chaukidar, two fowls through an official who called himself the dewan of the cutcherry, one fowl through a servant of the sub-over-seer, and some eggs direct from the raiyats. For every one of these things I paid in full, and produce my accounts in support of the same. Not only so, but the dewan demanded double the proper price for the fowls, i.e., eight annas instead of four annas each. I sent for the raiyats from whom he had got them, and they accepted four annas for each fowl. So it appears that the dewan attempted to do me out of eight annas, and probably to cheat the raiyats also. I have noted these facts in full as an interesting comment upon the assertion sworn to the High Court:—"The petitioner according to time-honoured custom purchased the fowls and eggs, and did not ask for or accept payment for them." I am personally most anxious to pay for everything I take. I have even thrown money upon the road in front of a cutcherry rather than not pay at all. I can produce zamindars to prove that I have again and again returned fowls and eggs when they have come in a "dolly."

3. My treatment upon this first visit to Chuknagar was so scandalous that even the zamindar became ashamed, and had an enquiry made by his mukhtear, at which my chaprassi gave evidence (I have just heard). The result was that the mukhtear came to me and apologised, and said they had dismissed the naib. I begged them not to do so, and said that I desired the man no ill. The mukhtear answered that they had other matters against him apart altogether of his treatment of me. I am not aware whether they actually dismissed him. On neither of my visits has the naib given me the pleasure of his society. The mukhtear ordered that he had given orders for my proper reception on next visit.

4. My next visit was on 20th July. On that day (which was hot and close) I rode straight through from Khulna to Satkhira, a distance of about 40 miles. One of my horses was at Chuknagar, which is almost exactly half way, in charge of my syce, Kakhun. He arrived on the previous day, and told the cutcherry people that I wanted some milk next morning at 8 A.M. He offered to pay in advance, but the naib (whom he says he saw) said he would settle with me when I came. I never asked for fowls or eggs, and my syce assures me that neither did he. I wonder if any one expected that I should eat a living fowl while my saddle was being changed from one horse to the other! After what had happened on my last visit, and after what the mukhtear had said to me, I naturally expected that there would be no difficulty in getting a drink of milk upon the 20th. I was tired and simply parched with thirst. Judge, then, of my surprise when informed by my syce that the cutcherry people had up till then secured me not a drop of milk, and that the naib as before had disappeared. This was between 8 and 9 A.M. The bazar was filled with cows. I asked some of the people about if I could get some milk from them. The first answer given was that these cows could not give milk; the second answer was that no one knew how to milk them. I came to the very natural conclusion that I was again the victim of a conspiracy to insult me. Such a thing had admittedly happened shortly before in this very village. I went over to the cutcherry. I saw some fowls and eggs there; but no one ever said, to the best of my recollection, that they were for me. The fowls were hung up with string to their legs in a grossly cruel manner. Before going any further I had them cut down by a bystander, and made some vehement remarks about cruelty to animals, which no doubt served to work up my indignation against the cutcherry. Then the muharrir, Keshob Lal Mittra, came out. I asked him for milk, and he said that no milk could be got in the village. I see he has stated that he had cows in the cutcherry ready to be milked for me. This is quite untrue. I asked him where the naib was, and he said he had gone to Khulna. I asked him where the peon was, and he said he had gone to bring milk. I did not believe a word he said. I thought he had conspired with the naib to insult me and to gloat over my thirst. I accused him of disregarding not only the Collector, but his own landlord (referring to what the mukhtear had said to me). I fairly lost my temper and struck him several times with the cane which I produce. The cane being small and juicy probably did more harm than I intended. The man certainly never fainted, nor did he look the least like doing so. I then got on my horse and rode away. When I came to a river ten miles further on, I was so overcome with thirst that I stooped down and repeatedly drank the water with my hands. I met an old woman on the further bank selling milk. I bought a glass of milk from her and paid her a full rupee, for which she was very grateful.

5. I returned from Satkhira through Chuknagar two days afterwards. While chatting with the villagers (and drinking some milk procured for me by an up-country servant of the sub-overseer) I was informed that the muharrir had left the village immediately after my last visit, upon the very same day. They said he had gone to Khulna to bring the naib. I reached Khulna that day (Sunday) at 11 A.M. I did my work all that week and went to Bagerhat on 30th July. All through the week no communication or complaint of any kind was made to me by the muharrir. But, as already stated, the very day my back was turned, he launched a shower of petitions in all directions. Hearing a rumour of this at Bagerhat, I immediately wrote a letter to the Sessions Judge, and also went personally and explained matters to the Lieutenant-Governor upon his arrival. I had up to this time not seen any of the petitions.

6. I do not in the least seek to justify myself for committing the assault. It was quite wrong for me to do so, and I am ready to apologise and make reparation. I only stipulate that my version of what occurred shall have the same publicity as the story of the complainant. I see it stated that I should have apologised much earlier. I freely admit that to have done so would have been a highly honourable action: I therefore wish I had done so. At the same time I do not think there are many people who, if they struck a man in a moment of anger, thinking (rightly or wrongly) that he had grossly insulted them, can honestly say that they would seek him out, although ignorant even of his name, and insist on making an apology which he had never even suggested that he desired.

7. I have heard to-day for the first time that two hours after I left Chuknagar some milk turned up at the cutcherry. I give full prominence to this, as it goes to show that the conduct of the cutcherry officials upon my second visit may have been not intentionally rude, but only careless and inconsiderate. My impression that I was being insulted with malice aforethought may therefore have been erroneous, although perfectly bonâ fide.

N. D. BEATSON BELL.

KHULNA,
The 8th August 1894.

Statement of Kakhnu Mian syce (warned that he must speak the truth even if it goes against his master).—I reached Chuknagar at 8 A.M. on 19th June along with the sahib's horse. I tied the horse at the inspection bungalow and went to the zamindar's cutcherry. This was the first time I had been there. There was a man there whom people called the naib, and another whom they called the muharrir, and one or two others. I said to the man whom they called naib that the sahib would come next morning at 8 A.M., and that he wanted milk. I did not ask for any fowls or eggs. They asked if I wanted them, and I said:—"No, only three seers of milk." I offered to pay either then or to let them get the price when the sahib came. The naib said he would settle with the sahib when he came. He said the milk would be supplied. I said to the naib:—"Give me some straw for the horse." The naib said:—"You will get it in a little." I returned to the bungalow.

Nothing came up to noon, and I then returned to the cutcherry. I then saw the muharrir and heard that the naib had gone away somewhere. I did not see the naib again; I got no straw from the cutcherry. I finally got some thatch from the roof of the inspection bungalow to use as bedding for the horse. The sub-overseer gave me this. The roof of the inspection bungalow was being amended, and I got some of the old roof. After that, about 6 P.M., the chaukidar came with a little straw. Perhaps he got it through the cutcherry. He did not ask anything for it, and I did not give him anything. It was worth, perhaps, six annas. I asked the chaukidar for milk. He asked who would pay, and I said I would. He then said he would bring it at 8 A.M. I asked him to bring it at 6 A.M. I had also asked the naib to bring it at 6 A.M. After that I went again at evening to the cutcherry, and asked the muharrir whether he would supply the milk, or whether I should make arrangements elsewhere. He said :—"I shall be able to get a whole maund for you at 6 A.M."

I again went to the muharrir at 7 A.M., and the muharrir said :—"I have sent the chaukidar for the milk." I said :—"The sahib is coming: I am going to the ghat to look along the road. When the milk comes, send it quickly." The sahib came at 8-30 or 9 A.M., but no milk had yet arrived. I went over in the ferry boat to meet the sahib. He asked me whether I had made arrangements for milk, and I answered :—"The people here do not listen. No milk has turned up." The sahib asked me if the naib was there, and I said :—"The naib is not here, the muharrir is. The naib has gone away. The people here all say that whenever a sahib comes the naib flees away." Then the sahib went towards the cutcherry, and I went to the inspection bungalow to change the saddles of the horses. I did not see what happened at the cutcherry. After one hour I went to the cutcherry, having heard that the sahib had much beaten the muharrir, and I went to see him. The muharrir was sitting on the chowki inside, and two or three Bengalis were sitting beside him. The muharrir was not senseless: he was talking to the other people. The only marks I saw on the muharrir were two marks on his side where the skin was broken. People said that he had been struck 17 times, but that the skin was only broken at two places. I afterwards heard that the muharrir had gone away in a boat to his own home. This was before 12 noon that very day. I did not actually see him going. When the sahib returned on the Sunday, he got some milk from the servant of Kartik Babu (sub-overseer) and paid him 4 annas. The peon of the naib was also there with milk, but the sahib said :—"I have already drunk milk: what is the use of your milk? You people are great budmashes." It was then not 7 A.M. I have served Mr. Bell for more than one-and-a-half years. He has never once struck me or given me gáli.

TRUE COPY OF DR. JAGANNADHAM'S STATEMENT.

On the evening of Monday, the 30th July 1894, when the Magistrate, N. D. Beatson Bell. Esq., was at Bagerhat, Babu Keshob Lal Mittra was brought over to me for examination of his person and the granting of a medical certificate. On examination I found to the best of my recollection three scars on the outer aspect of the left arm and three transverse bruises on the outer aspect of the left half of the back. The scars were white in colour and the bruises black. The man was in good health, and before he exposed his person I could not spot the injured man. The man complained to me of no illness he had had, or any fever he had suffered from. From the examination of the wounds, their position, and the appearance of the individual I should not infer that he had fainted or suffered much after the infliction of the wounds. The wounds had healed, and needed no treatment. The man was when he came to me in excellent health.

I granted him no certificate, as he had brought no form, but told him to bring me one when I would do the necessary.

KHULNA,
The 8th August 1894.

No. 3426J., dated Calcutta, the 14th August 1894.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, ESQ., C.S.I., Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

THE attention of the Lieutenant-Governor has been drawn to the reports in the newspapers of the orders passed by the Deputy Magistrate, Babu Satish Chandra Bose, on certain complaints preferred by one Keshob Lal Mittra against Mr. Beatson Bell, the Officiating Magistrate and Collector of the Khulna district.

2. The Deputy Magistrate was Settlement Officer of Midnapore, and as a consequence of hard work and exposure in that district, it was reported in April last that his brain was affected, and the Civil Surgeon then certified that he was suffering from cerebral derangement. He was accordingly allowed the privilege leave of two months and 21 days to which he was entitled, with effect from the 1st May last. While on leave he was transferred to Khulna, and he joined at that district on the 26th July. The complaint of Keshob Lal Mittra was preferred before him on the 30th July. This complaint the Deputy Magistrate dismissed on the ground that the assault complained of was too trivial to take notice of, and that on the face of it it was false. It was his obvious duty to have laid the case, which, under section 443, Criminal Procedure Code, he was not competent to try, before the District Magistrate for orders. The Deputy Magistrate, however, not only dismissed the complaint, but directed that the complainant should be called on to show cause why he should not be prosecuted for instituting a false charge. He also threw unnecessary difficulties in the way of the complainant obtaining copies of the orders passed. The whole of the action taken by the Deputy Magistrate on this occasion is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, inexplicable, except on the hypothesis that his mind has not yet regained its equilibrium, and that he is still unfit to discharge properly the duties of a Deputy Magistrate. His Honour desires therefore that he may be at once relieved of his duties, and be called on to take further leave (if necessary without pay) for such period as may afford him a fuller opportunity of recovering his health. It is to be regretted that he was allowed to resume work without a medical certificate, and he cannot be permitted to rejoin his duties on the expiration of the further leave he is now required to take until he is certified by a Presidency Surgeon in Calcutta to be quite recovered. I am to request that you will give immediate effect to these orders, and report, for the information of Government, the date on which Babu Satish Chandra Bose again proceeds on leave.

No. 56, dated Calcutta, the 26th December 1894.

From—The Government of India, Home Department,
To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

WE have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram, dated the 16th October last, requesting us to enquire into the case in which a complaint of assault had been laid against Mr. Beatson Bell, Officiating District Magistrate and Collector of Khulna, and after consideration to report our opinion on the subject.

2. In reply, we beg to forward a copy of a letter from the Government of Bengal, and of its enclosures, which we have received in response to a reference* made to that Government, asking for a report concerning the case both as regards Mr. Bell, and also the action of the Deputy Magistrate before whom the complaint of assault was preferred.

* Vide letter to the Government of Bengal, No. 1146, dated 20th October 1894 (copy enclosed).

3. The circumstances under which Mr. Bell committed an assault on the 20th July last upon a zamindar's clerk at Chuknagar, a village in the Khulna district, are detailed in the correspondence received from the Government of Bengal. They have been brought into greater prominence than would otherwise have been the case, owing to the fact that Mr. Bell was, when the assault was committed, holding temporary charge of the office of Magistrate of the Khulna district. Mr. Bell had at the time served about 4½ years in India, and had acquired the reputation of being a sympathetic and promising officer.

4. The fact that he had, on a previous visit to Chuknagar, been treated with a want of courtesy, and the suspicion that he was, on the occasion of his second visit, being subjected to similar treatment, appear to have irritated him when after a long and hot ride he arrived at the village. It does not appear that there was on this occasion any intention of being disobliging to him, and he might, had he not been impatient, have speedily discovered this. It was Mr. Bell's plain duty, when he recovered his temper, to have sent for the zamindar and expressed to him his regret for what had occurred. Had he followed this course, he might probably have heard nothing further about the matter, and it was not till a week after the assault, during which time he was at his head-quarters, with the zamindar within call, that the complaint was made in the Deputy Magistrate's Court.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor thought it his duty, as explained in Mr. Cotton's letter, to censure Mr. Beatson Bell for his hot-headedness, but considered that it was, in the circumstances, undesirable to add, by punishment or public censure, to the annoyance which the publicity involved in the institution of proceedings against him in the High Court had caused to an officer of meritorious service who had apologised for his conduct and paid considerable compensation. It is possible that this silence has been misconstrued, but we do not think that the circumstances of the case are such as to require that any further notice should now be taken of Mr. Bell's conduct.

6. Turning to the conduct of the Deputy Magistrate, Babu Satis Chandra Bose, it appears that the complaint of assault was preferred before him on the 30th July, and that he not only dismissed it on the alleged ground that it was trivial and false, but also directed that the complainant should be called upon to show cause why he should not be prosecuted for instituting a false charge. He also threw unnecessary difficulties in the way of the complainant obtaining copies of the orders passed. The Local Government attributes this action to the fact that the Deputy Magistrate, who had been suffering from a cerebral attack had not properly recovered his health. He had been compelled on this account to take three months' leave, and had only returned to duty four days before the complaint was laid in his Court. The Deputy Magistrate's proceedings appear to us to be such as might be expected in a man suffering from mental derangement.

7. The Deputy Magistrate was required to take further leave on medical certificate on 14th August. He is, as explained by the Government of Bengal, an officer who has hitherto borne a high reputation, and during the second period of his absence on leave he became the Senior Deputy Magistrate in the sixth grade. Promotion from the sixth to the fifth grade is made according to seniority, and on a vacancy occurring in the fifth grade on September 14th, the Lieutenant-Governor did not consider that there were sufficient reasons for passing over Babu Satish Chandra Bose in favour of an officer junior to him. While we see no reason to question the intention of the Local Government in promoting the Deputy Magistrate, we think that his peculiar proceedings in this case and the fact that he had been recently declared by the Local Government to be still unfit to discharge the duties of his office, rendered it inexpedient to promote him until his fitness had been further tested.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,—BENGAL.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The 28th January 1895.

No. 29.—Notification.—Whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that land in the district of Hooghly is likely to be needed for a public purpose, namely, for the extension of the Tarkeswar-Mugra Steam Tramway from the Mugra Station of the East Indian Railway to Tribeni Ghat, through or by the villages of Kola, Amudghata, Baghati, Basdebpore and Tribeni, notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern that, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act I of 1894, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has authorised the Engineers for the time being engaged in this undertaking to enter upon and survey lands, and to do all other acts required for the proper execution of their work as provided or specified in the said section.

THE ELLIOTT PRIZE FOR SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH.

WITH reference to Notification No. 5058F. in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th December 1892, Part I, page 1172, the Prize for Scientific Research will be given this year to the author of the best original essay, giving the results of original research or investigation in Chemistry, composed during the year 1895.

Any native of Bengal, including any Eurasian or domiciled European residing in Bengal, may compete for the prize.

The essays of competitors must be sent in to the President of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, on or before the 31st December, 1895. The prize will be adjudged to the best competitor, and awarded publicly at the Annual General meeting of the Asiatic Society in February 1896.

Preference will be given to researches leading to discoveries likely to develope the industrial resources of Bengal. In the case of no essay being deemed by the Trustees to be of sufficient merit, no prize is to be awarded, but the amount is to be retained, so that in any future year two or more prizes may be given, or the prize enhanced in the case of an exceptionally good essay.

For the Trustees,
A. CROFT,
Vice-Chancellor of the Calcutta University and Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

UNDER Rule 34 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the following Bill is published with the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 15th January 1895.

A Bill to provide for the Maintenance of Records of rights in Bengal, and for the recovery of the cost of Cadastral Surveys and Settlements.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the maintenance of records of rights and of settlement records in Bengal, and for an alternative method of recovering the cost of cadastral surveys and settlements; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

1. This Act may be called "The Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895."

Short title.

It shall come into force only in Districts or parts of Districts in which a survey and a record of rights have been made under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act, or under any other law for the time being in force, to which the Lieutenant-Governor may, from time to time, extend it by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette;

Extent.

and thereupon this Act shall commence and take effect in the Districts or parts of Districts named in such order on the day which shall be in such order provided for the commencement thereof.

Commencement.

2. In this Act the words and expressions "estate," "tenure," "tenure-holder," "landlord," and "Collector" shall have the meanings attributed to them, respectively, in the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885.

Interpretation clause.

By the term "record of rights" shall be understood the documents called khewat and khatian.

PART I.

Registration of Mutations.

3. The Registrars and Sub-Registrars appointed under Act III of 1877 shall, within the districts and area to which this Act is extended, be Registrars of Mutations for the purposes of this Act.

Registrars of Mutations.

4. (1) Every person acquiring any proprietary right in any estate or revenue-free property, and every manager in charge of such estate or revenue-free property, who within four months from the date of such acquisition, or assumption of charge, gives

Report of acquisition of proprietary rights to Sub-Registrars equivalent to application for mutation of names under Act VII (B.C.) of 1876.

notice of the mutation to the Sub-Registrar of the sub-district in which the estate or property is situated, in such form as may be prescribed by the Board of Revenue, shall be considered to have complied with the provisions of the Land Registration Act, requiring him to apply to the Collector of the District for mutation of names.

(2) Notice of such application for mutation given to the Sub-Registrar shall, after it has been recorded by him, be forwarded by him to the Collector, and shall be held to have been filed before the Collector within the meaning of section 12 of the Land Registration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1876; and on receipt of such notice the Collector shall (unless the case is one provided for in section 43 of the Act) proceed in the manner prescribed in section 47 and the following sections of that Act. The Collector shall inform the Sub-Registrar of every mutation ordered by him under sections 52 and 55 of the Land Registration Act, and on the receipt of such information, the Sub-Registrar shall record the same in the Register of Mutations.

Exemption under section 43 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 conditional on registration before Sub-Registrar.

5. Any exemption granted under section 43 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 shall be conditional on registration of mutations being effected in the Sub-Registrar's office.

Periodical statements of changes to be filed in Sub-Registrars' offices.

6. Every holder of an estate or tenure shall file in the Sub-Registrar's office, at such time and in such form as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, prescribe, a statement showing the changes, if any, which have occurred in the record of rights in each village included in the estate or tenure.

Transfer of, and succession to, tenures, under-tenures, rayati holdings at fixed rates, and occupancy holdings, to be reported to Sub-Registrar.

7. (1) Any person transferring his right as tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates or occupancy raiyat, or any person claiming by reason of such transfer, or by inheritance, to have acquired the status of a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates or occupancy raiyat, in possession, shall, within four months from the date of such acquisition, give notice of such mutation to the Sub-Registrar of the Sub-district in such form as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, prescribe.

(2) Such notice shall be treated as a document presented under Part VI of the Indian Registration Act, and shall be subject to the provisions of that Part regarding the admission and execution of documents:

Provided that in the case of any person claiming to have succeeded by inheritance, a notice shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in the village calling on any objector to appear before the Sub-Registrar within 15 days and prefer his objection.

(3) A notice given under this section when accompanied by payment of the prescribed fee shall be held to be a sufficient compliance with the provisions of sections 12, 15, 18 and 73 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

(4) It shall be optional for a non-occupancy or under-raiyat to give notice of a mutation under this section.

Duties of Sub-Registrar.

8. It shall be the duty of the Sub-Registrar to notify the fact of such reported transfer to the landlord of such person, and to cause the landlord's fee, if any, to be paid to him in such manner as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, prescribe; and to call upon the landlord to state whether he admits or refuses to admit the mutation; and the Sub-Registrar shall record not only the fact of the transfer, but also whether the consent of the landlord in writing, in person or by agent, has, or has not, been given to the transfer of the holding, in an appropriate column of the Register described in section 11.

Presumptive force of mutation entry in rent suits.

9. In any suit for rent any entry of a mutation recorded by a Sub-Registrar under section 7 or section 8, and certified by him to have been duly registered under the Indian Registration Act, and assented to by the landlord, and in the case of a transfer between living persons by both parties thereto, shall be presumed to be correct till the contrary is proved.

Specification required in mutation notices.

10. All notices of mutation under section 4 and section 7 shall contain a specification of the rights as recorded in the khewat, or the survey numbers of the lands as entered in the khatian in respect of which mutation is to be effected, in such form or manner as may be prescribed by rules made under this Act.

Registers

11. The Sub-Registrar shall, in his capacity as Registrar of Mutations, keep such Registers as shall, from time to time, be prescribed by the Local Government, including, for every village within the limits of the Sub-district, two Registers of Mutations, in one of which there shall be recorded changes affecting the entries in the khewat, and in the other, changes affecting the khatian of that village, and containing such particulars as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, with the sanction of the Local Government, prescribe.

Registration of instruments effecting transfer of proprietary and tenant-right and simultaneous registration of mutations.

12. A Sub-Registrar, registering an instrument effecting a transfer of proprietary or tenant-right, or under the provisions of sections 64 and 65 of the Indian Registration Act, receiving a memorandum of a transfer of property or tenant-right, shall proceed as follows:—

(a) If the instrument or memorandum effects a mutation of proprietary right, he shall notify the same to the Collector of the District, as if it had been a notice under section 4 of this Act.

(b) If it effects a mutation of tenant-right, he shall issue notices as if he had received a notice of mutation under section 7 of this Act.

(c) When the prescribed procedure is completed, he shall, as Registrar of Mutations, take cognizance of such transfer, and make the necessary entries in the Register of Mutations as required by section 11.

13. It shall be the duty of all Courts to forward to the Sub-Registrar concerned a memorandum, in such form as may, from time to time, be prescribed, of every decision affecting proprietary and tenant-right in land.

All Courts to forward memoranda of decisions as to land.

14 (1) Any person giving notice as required by section 4 or section 7 of this Act shall be bound at the same time to tender such fee in cash or in stamps as he may be bound to pay under sections 12 and 15 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, or any other enactment for the time being in force, together with such fees as may be, from time to time, prescribed by the Board of Revenue for the service of processes.

Fees.

(2) On payment of the fees necessary, a copy of the entry in the Register of Mutations, or such extract therefrom as may be necessary, certified by the Sub-Registrar to be correct, shall be given to any applicant.

(3) The records in the Sub-Registrar's office shall be open at all reasonable hours without fee to the inspection of all persons interested.

(4) All fees leviable, and all fines imposed under this Act, shall be credited to the Registration Department.

15 (1) No person entitled, or required, to give notice, of a mutation to the Sub-Registrar under section 4 or section 7 shall, after the expiry of the period of four months therein mentioned, be entitled to sue for, or recover, the rent of any land the subject of the mutation, unless at the time of the institution of the suit he files in court a certified copy of the entry in the record of rights and of the entry in the Register of Mutations, if any, relative to such land, or shall adduce such other evidence as shall satisfy the court that notice of mutation was duly given.

Disability consequent on failure to register mutations.

(2) No landlord shall be bound to receive rent from, or recognize as his tenant, any person who has acquired a tenure, raiyati holding at fixed rates or occupancy holding by reason of any transfer or by inheritance, unless notice of the mutation has been given to the Sub-Registrar under section 7.

16. Whoever being required by this Act to give notice of having acquired any proprietary right, tenure, or holding, shall omit to give such notice within the prescribed time, shall be liable to such fine not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector may see fit to impose, and to a further daily fine not exceeding five rupees for each day during which he shall omit to apply for such registration after a date fixed by the Collector in a notice requiring him to apply for such registration. Such fines shall be credited to the Registration Department.

Penalty for failure to register mutations.

PART II.

Recovery of costs of a survey and preparation of a record of rights.

17. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, instead of proceeding under section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to recover, from all or any of the landlords and tenants in any District or part of a District, either in one year or several years, and in the manner specified in the sections following, their shares of all costs declared by the Local Government to be recoverable from proprietors and tenants, which have been incurred in making a survey and record of rights and a settlement of rents under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, such costs not having been incurred for the purposes of a settlement of land revenue.

Recovery of costs of initial survey, &c.

18. From and after the commencement of this Act, all land situated within any District or part of any District in which this Act may, from time to time, be in force, shall be liable to the payment of a cess (hereinafter called "The Survey-Settlement Cess") to be applied in defraying the costs mentioned in the last preceding section.

Levy of a cess for recovery of costs.

19. The Local Government shall, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, notify the total expenditure incurred in any District or part of a District on account of the settlement-survey, and the amounts (in such proportion as may, from time to time, be determined by the Governor General in Council) which shall be paid by the proprietors and tenants and owners and occupants of rent-free tenures and holdings respectively in such District or part of a District, and the date from which the survey-settlement cess shall take effect; and shall specify the rate per acre to be paid by the holders of estates, and by tenure-holders and raiyats and owners of rent-free tenures and holdings. The distribution of this cess shall be made under rules to be framed, from time to time, by the Board of Revenue, with the sanction of the Local Government.

Rate of Survey-Settlement Cess.

20. The amount leviable from the holders of estates shall be paid annually, with the instalment of land revenue due on 28th March, in as many instalments as the Collector shall determine, and shall be recoverable as an arrear of land revenue.

Payment of cess by holders of estates.

21. The amount leviable from tenure-holders and raiyats shall be paid by them to the Settlement Officer, on receipt of the copy of the khatian to which they are entitled; or, if not paid then, it shall be paid with an addition of 20 per cent. as collection expenses to the holder of the estate, in as many instalments as such holder pays his share in; and in case of default, it shall be levied by the holder of the estate as an arrear of rent, and the same amount, less the additional 20 per cent. levied as aforesaid as collection expenses, shall be paid by the holder of the estate into the Government treasury, with the instalment of land revenue due on March 28th, and shall be recoverable from him as an arrear of land revenue.

Payment of cess by tenure-holders and raiyats.

PART III.

Miscellaneous.

22. (1) Every Registrar and Sub-Registrar appointed under this Act to be a Registrar of Mutations, and every person appointed temporarily to discharge the duties of any such office, shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, and all official records and papers kept by any such officer under this Act shall be held to be public records and the property of Government.

Registrars of Mutations to be public servants, and their records public records.

(2) Every order passed by an officer engaged in the registration of mutations in any District shall be appealable to the Collector of the District.

Appeals.

23. Every order pased by the Collector of the District under this Act shall be appealable to the Commissioner of the Division within two months of the date of such order, and the decision of the Commissioner shall be final.

Power to make rules for selection, etc., of Sub-Registrars.

24. (1) The Local Government or the Board of Revenue, with the sanction of the Local Government, may, from time to time, make, repeal and alter rules consistent with this Act—

(a) regarding the appointment, control, discipline, and payment of all Registrars' and Sub-Registrars' establishments;

(b) prescribing the method and periods for making entries of mutations in the record of rights, preparing new editions of such records, and republishing them from time to time, or otherwise making them available for public information;

(c) the distribution of the cess;

(d) generally for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

(2) The Local Government may, from time to time, alter any fee prescribed by this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to provide for the maintenance of the record of rights, framed in the course of a survey-settlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act, by making it compulsory, in areas so surveyed and settled, to register all mutations of proprietary rights, and of the rights of tenure-holders and of raiyats at fixed rates, and occupancy raiyats. The registration of transfers of the right of non-occupancy and of under raiyats is left optional.

2. The system of registration is modelled on that prescribed by the Indian Registration Act. The Sub-Registrars will keep up registers in which all mutations, after being duly executed and verified, are to be entered; and in order to ensure that these registers are complete and that all mutations the registration of which is compulsory are reported, self-acting disabilities consequent on the failure to give notice of such mutations, as well as direct penalties, have been inserted in the Bill.

3. In Part II of the Bill a system is provided, supplementary to that laid down in section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, for facilitating the recovery of the cost of a survey-settlement by a temporary cess to be levied rateably per acre from proprietors and tenure-holders, raiyats, and owners of revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings. The cess will either be paid up at once, or will be recoverable in instalments from the proprietors, who are empowered to recover the share due from other persons holding on their estates, with an additional charge for collection expenses.

GULF OF ADEN, NORTH SHORE—ADEN ANCHORAGE.

Intended lights and system of buoyage.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 679 of 1894) that, on 15th January 1895, the undermentioned alterations will be made in the lights, Aden anchorage:—

A new light-vessel (Marbut shoal), painted red, and carrying a red ball at her masthead as a daymark, will be moored in a depth of 22 feet at low water springs, in lieu of the present south-western Marbut buoy; and in a position S. 82° W., distant half a cable, from that buoy. This light-vessel will exhibit two red lights, placed vertically, 3 feet apart (the lower elevated 20 feet above the sea), visible in clear weather from a distance of 8 miles.

Approximate position, light-vessel, lat. 12° 47′ 5″ N., long. 44° 58′ 10″ E.

Also, that on or about 15th January 1895, the buoyage of Aden Inner harbour will be arranged in accordance with the Conical light buoys, painted red, and showing red lights, will mark the starboard side of the channel, entering from seaward.

Can light buoys, painted black, and showing green lights, will mark the port side of the channel.

On the above date the smaller channel will probably have been dredged to a depth of 26 feet at low water springs.

NEW MEMBERS.

The Hon'ble Mr. Romesh Chunder Dutt and the Hon'ble Maulvi Muhammad Yusuf Khan Bahadur took their seats in Council.

RECRUITMENT OF ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENTS OF POLICE.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

Whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to the announcement which has appeared in the newspapers to the effect that a competitive examination will be held under the orders of the Madras Government for the recruitment of Assistant Superintendents at which Natives of India will be allowed to appear?.

Will the Government reconsider its decision excluding Natives of India from the competitive examination for the recruitment of the superior staff of the Police Service in Bengal, and pass orders similar to those of the Government of Madras?

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton replied:—

"The Government has not received any information on the subject of the newspaper statement referred to, and it is not known whether it is correct or not. In any case the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to reconsider the decision which was communicated to the Hon'ble Member in August last, that Natives of India will not be appointed to the higher offices in the Bengal Police by competitive examination, but will as a rule be promoted by selection from among Inspectors of Police.

"The orders of the Government of India approving and confirming the decision of the Government of Bengal have lately been transmitted to the Committee of the Indian Association, who submitted a memorial on the subject, and those orders enunciate the policy by which the Government of Bengal is guided in the selection of Natives of India for appointment to the higher ranks of the Police."

PROCEEDINGS IN THE CASE OF CHUNDER KISHORE MUNSHI.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

Whether the attention of the Government has been called to the following remarks made by the High Court in connection with certain proceedings on the part of Mr. Beatson-Bell, late Subdivisional Officer of Serajganj, in the case of Chunder Kishore Munshi:—

"We cannot conclude this judgment without expressing our unqualified disapproval of the high-handed and overbearing conduct of Mr. Beatson-Bell in this matter as disclosed in his own evidence; his novel but apparently illegal method of replenishing the Lady Dufferin Fund is not before us, and we say nothing about it. A copy of this judgment will be forwarded to the Local Government."

Will the Government state what notice it has taken of the remarks of the High Court, and in what way it has marked its disapproval of these proceedings on the part of Mr. Beatson-Bell?

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor caused a copy of the judgment of the High Court to be sent to Mr. Bell; but, after a careful consideration of the whole case, he came to the conclusion that it was not necessary for him further to interfere in the matter."

ASSAULT BY MAGISTRATE OF KHULNA.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Whether the attention of the Government has been called to the case of assault instituted by one Keshab Lal Mitter against Mr. Beatson-Bell, late Magistrate of Khulna? Whether the Government is aware that the charge was withdrawn on an apology being tendered by Mr. Beatson-Bell, who practically admitted the charge? Does the Government approve of these proceedings on the part of Mr. Beatson-Bell? If not, what action has the Government taken to mark its disapproval of Mr. Beatson-Bell's conduct in the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON replied:—

"The attention of Government was drawn to the case referred to when it occurred. If the complainant had confined himself to memorialising the Lieutenant-Governor for redress, suitable notice would have been taken of Mr. Bell's conduct. As, however, Keshab Lal Mitter preferred a complaint before the Criminal Courts, the Lieutenant-Governor considered it sufficient to leave the vindication of justice in the hands of the Courts before which the case was brought."

CONDUCT OF DEPUTY MAGISTRATE OF KHULNA.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Whether the attention of the Government has been called to the proceedings of Babu Satish Chunder Bose, late Deputy Magistrate of Khulna, who summarily dismissed under section 95 of the Penal Code the case of assault instituted by one Keshab Lal Mitter against Mr. Beatson-Bell, although the substantial truth of the charge was subsequently admitted by Mr. Beatson-Bell? Is the Government aware that the said Deputy Magistrate put off under various excuses the granting of copies of the proceedings asked for by the complainant, for which expedition fee had been paid, and finally issued notice upon the complainant to show cause why he should not be prosecuted under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code? Is the Government aware that these proceedings have been condemned by the High Court? And is it the case that, notwithstanding these proceedings, the Deputy Magistrate was soon after promoted. If not, what action has the Government taken to mark its disapproval of his conduct?

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON replied:—

"The proceedings of the Deputy Magistrate referred to came under the consideration of Government. This officer was formerly Settlement Officer of Midnapore, and, as a consequence of hard work and exposure in that district, it was reported in April last that his brain was affected, and the Civil Surgeon then certified that he was suffering from cerebral derangement. He was accordingly allowed the privilege leave of two months and 21 days to which he was entitled, with effect from the 1st May last. While on leave he was transferred to Khulna, and he joined that district on the 26th July. The action taken by him in dealing with the complaint preferred by Keshab Lal Mitter on the 30th July was, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, inexplicable, except on the hypothesis that his mind had not regained its equilibrium, and that he was still unfit to discharge properly the duties of a Deputy Magistrate. He was at once relieved of his duties, and called on to take further leave for such period as might afford him a fuller opportunity of recovering his health, and it was directed that he should not be allowed to rejoin until he was certified by a Presidency Surgeon in Calcutta to be quite recovered.

"Babu Satish Chunder Bose is an officer who has hitherto borne a high reputation, and as his name happened to stand, according to seniority, first for promotion from the sixth to the fifth grade of Deputy Magistrates, His Honour saw no sufficient reason for passing him over when a vacancy occurred, and he was accordingly promoted in his turn on the 14th September last."

EMPLOYMENTS OF MUHAMMADANS IN BURDWAN DIVISION.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABDUL JUBBAR KHAN BAHADUR asked—

Whether the Government is aware that the remarks of Mr. R. C. Dutt, the Officiating Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, that "in fact the Muhammadans in this Division are mostly cultivators, labourers and traders," under the heading "Employment of Muhammadans," paragraph 5, section 118 of the General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division for 1893-94, published in the supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th October last, do not accurately represent the social condition of the Muhammadans of that Division, and whether in justice to the Muhammadans of the Burdwan Division, the Government will ascertain the fact that in Bengal the Burdwan Division contains the largest number of respectable Muhammadan families for whose maintenance the Mogul Government granted Aima lands, which exist nowhere except in the Burdwan Division and in the district of Murshidabad, and that 50 years ago the Muhammadans of that Division were not only largely employed in offices under the British Government, but held in Bengal more than a moiety of the posts of Principal Sadar Ameens, which were the highest judicial appointments then open to the natives?

The Hon'ble MR. DUTT replied:—

"The remarks quoted by the Hon'ble Member occur at the end of paragraph 118 of the Commissioner's Divisional Report, and are based on the remarks of District Officers quoted in the preceding portions of the same paragraph, and assert a fact, which is undoubtedly correct, that most of the Muhammadan population of the Burdwan Division live by cultivation, trade and labour. This fact is not inconsistent with what is stated by the Hon'ble Member, viz., that the Burdwan Division contains a large, possibly the largest, number of respectable Muhammadan families of high social standing, holding Aima lands from olden times. This is well known to Government, and it is not necessary therefore to ascertain it by further enquiry. Nor does the Government think it necessary to ascertain what percentage of appointments under the British Government, and of the posts of Sadar Ameens, was held by the Muhammadans of this Division 50 years ago. Government has always desired that the Muhammadans of this and other divisions should qualify themselves by education for obtaining their fair share of appointments in all offices, and the Hon'ble Member will find from paragraph 108 of the Burdwan Divisional Report that the Commissioner and the District Magistrates under him, are carefully noting the progress of education among Muhammadans from year to year."

STATEMENT OF THE COURSE OF LEGISLATION.

THE HON'BLE the PRESIDENT said:—"When the Council closed its Session in the last autumn, there were three Bills before it which were referred to Select Committees. Those Bills were the amendment of the Revenue Sale Law Act, the amendment of the Public Demands Recovery Act, and a Bill to facilitate Sanitary Drainage.

"In regard to the Revenue Sale Law's amendment, I have to announce to the Council that the Government has resolved to withdraw that Bill from its consideration. It will perhaps be remembered that the main principle which underlay that Bill arose out of a suggesiton which the High Court made in the course of the discussion of the amendment which originated in Mr. John Beames' time, and which had been pending for many years. It was to the effect that at present a proprietor whose estate is sold for arrears of revenue could make an objection to the Collector, then appeal to the Commissioner and then to the Board, and then start again on a new series of litigation by taking his case first to the Munsif and then appealing to the Subordinate Judge, or to the Judge of the District, and then again to the High Court. It was pointed out that this multiplicity of litigation was an evil in itself, and a state of things which should be avoided, and the High Court were ready to agree that all reference to the ordinary Civil Courts should be barred if we could assure them that the notices given to the proprietors, that their estates would be sold in default, could be made quite certain to reach them, so that no complaint could be made that their estates had been sold without their knowledge and at prices extremely incommensurate with their values. That suggestion seemed to me an extremely reasonable one, and one that it was highly desirable to adopt, and we set ourselves to work to frame a series of provisions to secure that the notice should be served under the conditions and in the manner suggested by the High Court, so as to ensure absolute certainty that the notices would reach their destination. When the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, it was circulated to a large number of officials and non-officials, and the criticisms which we have received from those authorities have been of a very destructive character. It has been shown satisfactorily that the attempt made in the Bill to provide for an efficient service of notice would be in the last degree laborious and difficult, and could not be declared to be absolutely certain of success, and we have received advice from all quarters to abandon that portion of the Bill. This seemed to me to be the most important part of the Bill, and if it was abandoned, the result would be that there would be little left of any great importance which could be laid before the Council as a Bill which was worthy of their consideration. The criticisms which were received attacked also some other suggestions of amendment, and these also seemed to have considerable weight. I have decided, therefore, that it would be better to withdraw the Bill.

"It will be a matter for further consideration whether at a later date the Government should redraft such portions of the Bill as are not open to similar criticism, and which seem important enough to deserve the attention of the Legislature, and if so, a fresh Bill may possibly be laid before you; but there is nothing definitely settled at the present moment.

The other two Bills—the Drainage and the Certificate Act Amendment Bills—are before Select Committees of the Council, and I trust they will now be able to resume their sittings and carry on the consideration of these measures.

"In the present Session we have to introduce several Bills, one of which is of considerable importance. It is a Bill to provide for the maintenance of a record of rights in districts in which there is a cadastral survey, and it is a Bill which will presently be introduced by the Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND. That Bill we propose both to introduce and to read in Council to-day, and at a future meeting to refer it to a Select Committee.

We also propose to introduce to-day a Bill to amend the Suburban Police Act and the Calcutta Police Act, so as to penalise the offence of improper solicitation on the part of public women or their touts, and with this Bill also I trust two steps will be taken to-day, and that the Select Committee stage will be reached at the next meeting of the Council.

"There are a few other Bills which are not yet quite ready to be presented, but which I hope will be brought under consideration during the present Session. One is a Bill to introduce the Bengal Tenancy Act, with some slight alterations, into Chota Nagpur, one of its provisions being to regulate the procedure for the commutation of services which are still largely rendered there in lieu of the payment of rent. We consider it desirable that these services should be commuted. We have been in communication with the Government of India on this subject for a long time. Sanction for the introduction of the Bill has not yet been received, but I trust it will not now be long delayed.

"There is another Bill, also belonging to the Revenue Department, for an amendment of the law of partition in regard to which there have been discussions going on for a long time, but which I trust we shall be able to introduce during this Session.

"A small Bill to provide for the segregation of lepers will also be laid before the Council at the next meeting. We have just received intimation that the Government of India has sanctioned the introduction of this Bill, but we have not yet received an official communication on the subject, and we have therefore postponed its introduction to the next meeting.

"There are two other little Bills, one of which is to facilitate and regulate the establishment of works connected with the use of electricity for the lighting of Calcutta and for other purposes, and the other is a Bill to make some small amendments in the Calcutta Port Act, both of which have been hanging fire for some time. These Bills do not involve any matters of great importance, and I hope we shall receive sanction to introduce them before the close of the Session.

"I propose on the present occasion to suggest that, after introducing in the two Bills, which will be introduced and read in Council to-day, we shall adjourn for about a month to allow time for these Bills to be considered by the public, and to enable us to receive any suggestions and criticisms that may be offered, and when we next meet we shall put these Bills forward a stage, and take such steps as it may be possible to take with regard to the Drainage Bill and the Certificate Act Amendment Bill, according to the progress which the Select Committees may make during the interval."

THE LAND RECORDS MAINTENANCE BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the Maintenance of Records of Rights in Bengal, and for the recovery of the cost of Cadastral Surveys and Settlements. He said:—"In moving for leave, Sir, I may mention that by the Lieutenant-Governor's orders and under Rule 34 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Business of this Council, this Bill has already been published in the Calcutta Gazette of last Wednesday. It has been possible therefore to place the Bill at once in the hands of Hon'ble Members of Council, who will find, in the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached thereto, a brief description of the aims and intentions of Government. I should perhaps at this point make a few observations on the history of this measure, and I will make them as briefly as possible.

"It is well known to the Council that the survey and settlement of North Bihar has been for some time in progress, and that other large settlements are also being conducted in other parts of the country. In the discussions that have taken place regarding field surveys and the framing of records of rights ascertained at settlements, there has been a general consensus of opinion that an effort should be made to maintain the records which are prepared with great labour and expense, corrected in such a manner that they may not become obsolete, but may be readily available for ascertaining titles and interests in land, for the prevention of litigation, or for its despatch when undertaken. I will not pause to prove elaborately this consensus of opinion, but I will content myself with one quotation from the Secretary of State's despatch of 5th July, 1894, in which the following words occurred:—

'It has been regarded by the Home Government and by the Government of India as essential that the village record of rights, when once prepared by the Cadastral Survey, should be maintained and periodically corrected up to date.'

"It may also be within the knowledge of the Council that various schemes have from time to time been put forward for this purpose. Those who are curious in such matters will find some account of the discussion on the subject recorded in paragraphs 96 and 99 of the Summary of the Bengal Administration Report for the year 1893-94. It is only necessary for me to say here that the discussion was closed by the Secretary of State's despatch of the 5th July, 1894 already mentioned, which was published in the Supplement of the Calcutta Gazette of the 3rd of October, 1894. The decision then arrived at by the Secretary of State was that a Bill should be introduced into the Legislature for the maintenance of the records of rights in Bengal, and that the scheme of the Bill should provide for increasing the number of Rural Registrars, and for compelling, by various disabilities, landlords and the tenants of various degrees to register all changes of rights and occupancies as they occur. The Secretary of State approved also of the adoption of such sanctions and safeguards as might be considered expedient, but without the imposition of any fresh tax beyond a moderate fee on registrations. The Bill now before the Council has been prepared in conformity with this authority of the Secretary of State. It has been prepared with the assistance of the Board of Revenue and some of the most experienced Settlement Officers of the province, and the sanction of the Government of India has been given to its introduction into this Council in its present form.

"Presuming that Hon'ble Members have been able to glance over the brief Statement of Objects and Reasons, I will now proceed to give a more detailed account of its provisions. The Bill is to apply only to the districts or parts of districts in which survey-settlements have been carried out under the Tenancy Act, or any other law, to which the Lieutenant-Governor may extend its operation. The Record of Rights has been defined to mean the documents called the khewat, which records proprietary interests, and the khatian, which records the tenants' interests. The Bill, it will be observed, is divided into three parts, of which Part I—Registration of Mutations, and Part III—Miscellaneous, contain the main provisions required for the Maintenance of Records of Rights. It is intended that the Registrars and Sub-Registrars appointed under the Indian Registration Act shall also be Registrars of Mutations of the proprietary and tenants' rights indicated in the Bill, and shall keep such registers as may be prescribed. In one of these registers all changes affecting the entries in the record of proprietary rights, and in another all changes affecting the record of tenants' rights, are to be entered by the Registrars of Mutations under certain procedure.

"As the Sub-Registrars are necessarily stationary and not peripatetic officers, it is necessary to secure that the mutations which they have to register shall reach them at their offices. It has therefore been provided that information of mutations having taken place shall reach these officers in the following manner. All persons acquiring proprietary rights are to be allowed their option of giving notice of the mutation to the Sub Registrar, instead of applying to the Collector under the provisions of the Land Registration Act for registration of their names and interests: the Sub-Registrar is to forward the notice to the Collector, and when the Collector has ordered any mutation of names under the Land Registration Act, and has communicated the fact of such mutation to the Sub-Registrar, the latter is to record it in one of his Registers of Mutations.

"All persons transferring their rights as tenure-holders, raiyats at fixed rates, and as occupancy raiyats, and all persons claiming to have acquired the status of such tenants, are to give notice to the Sub-Registrars; and such notice is to be treated as a document under the Indian Registration Act. The Sub-Registrar is to notify the fact of such reported transfer to the landlord, and to record the fact of the transfer, and of the landlord's consent or non-consent thereto, in the other of his two Registers of Mutations.

"It might be hoped that these provisions would provide for the registration of all changes of proprietary and tenants' interests; but it is considered desirable, as a matter of precaution, to provide other means of giving completeness to the scheme. For this reason power is taken to direct holders of estates or tenures to file in the Sub-Registrar's office periodical statements of changes in the record of rights in each village. I notice that the Bill as drawn contains no penalty for failure on the part of the holder of the estate or tenure to comply with this direction, and it will be necessary to insert one. Moreover, all Sub-Registrars to whom, when acting under the Indian Registration Act, instruments or memoranda of transfers of proprietary or tenant rights in land are presented or forwarded for registration under the provisions of that Act, will be required to proceed to take steps as if the above mentioned notices of mutation had been made to them as Registrars of Mutations, and to have entries made in their Registers of Mutations. Also, the Civil Courts are to be required to keep the Sub-Registrars informed of every decision affecting proprietary and tenant rights in land.

"Bearing in mind the want of complete success which has attended the working of the Land Registration Act in the case of proprietary titles, it would perhaps be too much to expect that the very considerable extension of registration work now aimed at could be completely successful. On the other hand, it has been brought to my notice by a high authority on the subject that, in one of the Bihar districts at least, although the landlords have not largely availed themselves of the provisions of the Land Registration Act in the past, the days when the automatic sanction of that Act was a failure are passing away. I am informed that there is no such apathy among the transferees of tenures; and that there is not a rent case in the district where this special ground (of non-registration of title) is not invariably taken, so that the pettiest shareholders are beginning to register their names with the Collector before they attempt to sue. To ensure then that the provisions of the Bill which require the registration of mutations shall be as fully observed as it is possible to ensure anything by foresight, some sections, numbered 15 and 16 in the Bill have been inserted, which will entail on the parties what may be called self-acting disabilities, as well as direct penalties for failure to give notices of mutation either of proprietary or tenant rights in land. The principle of these disabilities in the case of proprietary rights is not new, as it is borrowed from the Land Registration Act, to which I have referred, and it will now be extended to tenants' rights.

"The Miscellaneous part of the Bill contains provisions of the usual character, namely, for appeals and for taking power to make and alter rules, with which I need not trouble the Council further at this moment.

"Part II of the Bill refers to a different subject, which is only brought in here because legislation is now being undertaken. I have hitherto been dealing with the question of maintaining the records of settlements. Part II, as Hon'ble Members will see, relates to the recovery of costs of a survey-settlement, i.e., of a survey and preparation of a record of rights. The principle that the expenses of survey and settlement operations shall be defrayed by the landlords and tenants of lands in the local area under survey-settlement in such proportions as the Local Government, having regard to all the circumstances of each case, may determine, is now the law, as contained in section 114 of the Tenancy Act of 1885. Such expenses have already been recovered in several cases under orders of apportionment issued by the Local Government. In paragraph 74 of his minute of the 20th of September, 1893, the Hon'ble Sir Antony MacDonnell stated that the provisions of this section 114 have been found in practice to be in some cases defective. He mentioned certain conditions and objections to the method now provided by law as indicating the desirability of devising some means for improving the method of recovery of the costs of a survey and settlement by a transitory cess. The idea which then found favour was that a temporary cess for this purpose should be levied after the manner of the Roads and Public Works cess, which has long been familiar in Bengal. But when the Secretary of State's orders were received with regard to the apportionment of the expenditure in the North Bihar Survey in certain definite shares between the State, the zamindars, and the raiyats, it soon became apparent that it would be impossible to maintain any close approximation to the apportionment so sanctioned if the method of the Roads and Public Works cess was observed. That method has, therefore, with the concurrence of the Board of Revenue, and with the cognizance of the Government of India, not been reproduced in the present Bill. It is now proposed to provide a system supplementary to section 114 for facilitating the recovery of the cost of the survey-settlement by a temporary cess, to be levied rateably per acre from proprietors and tenants as well as owners and occupiers of revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings. It will be open to all parties to pay up their shares of the cost either in one payment or by instalments. As regards proprietors, a promise was made to them in 1892 that, when the cost imposed on any single estate is large, payment should be facilitated by taking it in instalments, and this condition will be carried out by the Bill. As regards tenants, their share of the cost is small, and it is conceived that they will usually pay when the extract from the khatian which contains the records of their rights is presented to them: if not they also will be allowed to pay in instalments, but in this case they will have to pay an additional sum of 20 per cent., which will be retained by the proprietors as cost of collection. Under the Road Cess Act the proprietors receive nothing for the expense and risk they incur in collecting their share of the cess from the tenants, and the present provision has been made to prevent objection being taken to the imposition of this duty on the landlords as being an additional burden on them from which they derive no advantage. But it may be safely anticipated that the burden will not be a serious one in any individual case.

"At the beginning of my remarks, I stated that the Bill has been published in the Gazette. As it is a short Bill, and hon'ble members have presumably been able to make themselves generally acquainted with the intentions of Government, I trust that the motion which now stands in my name will be carried, so that the Bill may be read in Council to-day. It is not proposed to proceed further with it in Council for some weeks. Meanwhile, the Bill will be circulated to certain Commissioners and District Officers in the parts of the country where extensive settlement operations are in progress, and the leading Associations of the country, which are specially interested in survey and settlement matters, will be further consulted without delay. It is hoped that their reports will be received in the course of a month, and that the Bill may then be referred to a Select Committee.

"The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND introduced the Bill to provide for the maintenance of records of rights in Bengal, and for the recovery of the cost of cadastral surveys and settlements."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR LUCHMESSUR SINGH BAHADUR of Darbhanga said:—"I wish to reserve my remarks on this Bill until such time as a motion is made to refer it to a Select Committee, but certain remarks have fallen from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, in consequence of which I desire to say a few words.

"The Hon'ble Member said that under the Road Cess Act the proprietors receive nothing for the expense and risk they incur in collecting their share of the cess from the tenants, and the present provision has been made to prevent objection being taken to the imposition of this duty on the landlord as being an additional burden on them from which they derive no advantage. But it may be safely anticipated that the burden will not be a serious one in any individual case. But I think that in many cases, although you are allowing him 20 per cent. for cost of collection, the zamindar will suffer very considerably if you make him, against his will, liable for arrears unrecoverable from raiyats. I know of one case in which a zamindar has for a long time been paying the Government revenue and cesses punctually, though tenants default and disappear. Only the other day he was unable to pay a small portion of the road cess that was due from some of his raiyats, and his property was sold in consequence. The case is now being fought out in the Board of Revenue. For the last two years he has been kept out of possession of his property. I consider that a very serious case for that particular landlord. I think that if this record of rights is really so beneficial to the tenants as it is expected, the raiyats will of their own accord come forward to pay their portion, and I think zamindars should not be made liable for the collections, except in those cases in which they themselves specially desire it. It is true that according to the Road Cess Act, zamindars are liable for the payment of their raiyats' share of the road cess, but because the sin has been committed once, it is no reason why it should be committed a second time. I do not think one man should be made liable for the debts of another person. Then, as regards the last paragraph of the Hon'ble Member's speech, I see that it is proposed to ask the opinions of certain Commissioners and District Officers, as well as Associations of the country, and I think we ought to be thankful to the Government for having given us the opportunity of laying our views before them on the present Bill, but if I might do so, I would suggest that this Council should also ask for the opinions of District Judges and the High Court Judges. I had the honour of serving on the Select Committee of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and I can assure you that we derived very great assistance from the opinions of the District Judges and the Judges of the High Court. In conclusion, I again thank the Government for allowing us one month's time to put forward our opinions. When the matter comes to the Select Committee stage, I shall be in a position to express an opinion from the zamindar's point of view."

The Hon'ble MAULVI MUHAMMAD YUSUF KHAN BAHADUR said:—"I do not, at the present stage, desire to offer any opposition to this Bill or to discuss at any length the principles and details relating to the same. I may be allowed to state that I have seen the Bill for the first time in the Council Chamber to-day, and I have therefore not been able to familiarise myself with the provisions it contains, and I know nothing at present with certainty and precision regarding a subject of such vast importance except such general information as I have been able to glean casually from the public press. I have not seen the Bill in the Calcutta Gazette, and I am not therefore in a position to make any useful observations in regard to the same. I submit that a sufficiently long period should be fixed in order that public criticism might be obtained, and it appears to me that one month might be sufficient for that purpose. As regards the persons from whom criticisms should be invited, I perfectly agree with THE HON'BLE MAHARAJA SIR LUCHMESSUR SINGH OF DARBHANGA that District Judges and the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court should also be requested to submit their opinions on the subject of this Bill. I hope there will be no objection to this course being adopted."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RAVANESHWAR PROSAD SINGH BAHADUR of Gidhour said:—"I beg to support the proposal made by the Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR LUCHMESSUR SINGH OF DARBHANGA. In my humble opinion an important measure like the cadastral survey and the maintenance of the record of rights which concerns a large body of land-holders and tenants should not be rushed through. The opinion of the different land-holders' associations and members of the Judicial Service and of the Bar should be taken before the Bill is referred to a Select Committee. This, I humbly submit, appears to me to be the right course to adopt in regard to a measure of such vital importance as the Bill before us."

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND said:—"I think I understood the Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR LUCHMESSUR SINGH OF DARBHANGA to say that he offered no serious opposition to this Bill being introduced, and that he reserved his remarks until the Bill reached a further stage and was referred to a Select Committee. It is not therefore necessary for me to detain the Council by replying on this occasion to what the Hon'ble Member has said."

The HON'BLE the PRESIDENT in closing the debate said:—"On the part of the Government, I shall be very happy to accept the suggestion which has been made by my hon'ble friends who have spoken that District Judges and the High Court should be included in the number of those who should be consulted on the provisions of this Bill. I should explain that what is referred to here is a circular to be sent out by the Government, not by this Council. It will be in the option of the Council or of the Select Committee to consult any one they like; but the idea in our minds was that we should save a certain amount of trouble and expedite business by circulating the Bill and asking opinions beforehand, so as, if possible, to get the opinions before a Select Committee is appointed and begins its sittings. But it will be entirely in the power of the Select Committee when they begin to sit to take any steps they wish and to call for further opinions. Nothing done by the Government at this stage can bind the Committee or check their action in this matter.

"With reference to what fell from the Hon'ble MAHARAJA SIR LUCHMESSUR SINGH about the incidence of the cost of the cess upon the tenants, I agree with him, in the hope that in almost all cases the cess which falls on the tenants will be paid by the tenants themselves immediately when the extract from the register, which is the record of their rights—the khatian as it is called, is delivered to them. In private settlements, and in settlements of wards' estates, it has been found as a rule that payments have been made in this way. But there are of course cases in which payments have been refused or deferred, and it is to meet such cases that the provision which has been referred to by the Maharaja has been made, namely, that the cess should be recovered through the landlords, who would retain a percentage of 20 per cent. to cover the risk of recovering the cess from their tenants and the expenses consequent thereon. When it is remembered that the average cost of a survey-settlement is expected to be about 8 annas, and I think nowhere, even under the difficult circumstances in the northern parts of Bihar and Bhagalpur, does it exceed 10 annas per acre, and that the tenants' share of that is $\frac{5}{16}$ths, or $2\frac{1}{2}$ annas—$2\frac{1}{2}$ annas being an extremely small proportion of the average rent which in Bihar we take to be from Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 per acre—it does not seem to me that the addition of $2\frac{1}{2}$ annas per acre upon a rental of from Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 per acre is likely to prove a material source of distress to zamindars, or a sum which is not likely to be recovered on the rare occasions referred to by the Maharaja, when tenants default or disappear. It seems to me that the trouble and risk would be covered by the 20 per cent. commission which we have allowed.

I should like to make one further remark in addition to what was said by the Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND in introducing the Bill. I wish to point out that in framing this Bill we have attempted to achieve an end which has been long sought for, and which to my own knowledge has been aimed at in the provinces of Northern India, but which has not been attained hitherto. Under the present system, when mutation of proprietory rights occurs either by sale or mortgage, or any transfer which involves a deed, the successors have to undergo two different operations. They have first to go to the Registry Office to obtain registration by depositing their deeds; they then go to the Collector's office to obtain mutation of names, which is ordinarily known as dakhil kharij. It has always seemed to me, and the point was mentioned long ago in one of Sir Henry Maine's minutes, that an undue amount of trouble is imposed upon the parties by compelling them to carry out these two different operations in two different places, and I think we may claim to have conferred a benefit upon the proprietary body by the proposal which this Bill contains, namely, that by one and the same operation we carry out the two results. They will now be able to go with their deeds to the Sub-Registrar—a course which will ipso facto have the effect which, under the former procedure, required two operations, namely, a second journey to the Collector's office to effect mutation. At one and the same time the registration of the deed will be accomplished and the mutation of names recorded in the Collector's office, and thus a considerable saving in trouble and expense will be effected."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND applied to the President to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business to enable him to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"If I am in order, I may be permitted to enquire why the Rules of Business should be suspended in this case, and in fact it is proposed to suspend them also in connection with another Bill on the agenda to-day. The same procedure was followed with regard to two or three Bills last year. The Council has got a body of rules, and they ought not to be departed from, except in a case of extreme urgency, and up to this time the ground has not been made out for a case of extreme urgency as far as the Bill now before the Council is concerned."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"The Rules of the Council provide that the President, for sufficient reason, whether on the application of a member or otherwise, may suspend any of the rules for a particular purpose.

"The object of suspending the Rules on this occasion is to avoid the necessity of calling the Council together on Saturday next simply to forward this Bill by a single stage. It appears to me that no sufficient object will be gained by putting hon'ble members to this inconvenience. I declare the rules suspended."

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND then introduced the Bill, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT, 1880, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND moved that the Hon'ble MR. WILKINS be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, in the place of the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, retired.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE ACTS, 1866, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR JOHN LAMBERT moved for leave to introduce a Bill to further amend the Suburban Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Police Act, 1866. He said:—"The amending Bill has been rendered necessary on account of certain representations which were made to the Government by persons of influence, both natives and Europeans—persons to whose influence and to whose representations the Government have considered it right to attach considerable weight. They approached the Government on the ground that in many parts of the town considerable annoyance is caused to residents and to passers-by by solicitations to immorality made in the public streets. Speaking for myself I am not prepared to say that the evil complained of has reached any very considerable growth in the Town of Calcutta, when regard is had to the area and the population of the Town of Calcutta and the Suburbs. But still it is a matter of notoriety that in certain parts of the town the annoyance complained of does exist, and the Government are anxious that relief should be given by the grant of powers to the Police which they do not now possess. The local Acts to which I have referred, and which regulate the powers of the Town and Suburban Police, contain no provision enabling the Police to deal effectually with offences of the nature to which I have drawn attention; therefore the only course which is open to the public or to the Police is to proceed by summons, and to deal with these matters as public nuisances, and to prosecute under the provisions of the Penal Code. But in such cases the Courts require independent evidence, and I think the Council will agree with me in considering that respectable persons who have a substantial grievance of this sort should not be put to the annoyance and trouble of appearing in open Court and making a public statement of the facts which constitute the grievance of which they complain. This, I think, is the view which the Government take, and it is on these grounds that it is proposed to vest the Police with powers which they do not now possess.

"Turning to the Bill, which is in the hands of hon'ble members, it will be seen that it is proposed to amend the Suburban Police Act as well as the Calcutta Police Act. But if this is done, it is not proposed to set the Police in motion indiscriminately in all parts of the Town and Suburbs, but only in those localities where complaint has been made and where it is known that a real and substantial grievance exists. The Council will also see that safeguards have been provided in the Bill by enacting that only officers above the rank of constable and other selected officers will be permitted to exercise the new powers, and further that summary arrest is prohibited whenever the name and address of the offender are known or can be at once ascertained. Turning to the section which provides punishment, it cannot, I think, be contended that the punishment provided in the Bill is more severe than is necessary to act as a deterrent in the majority of cases which will come before the Courts. The offenders who have to be repressed are chiefly male touts who act on behalf of women, and I think it cannot be said that such punishment will be regarded as excessive in the case of such persons. As regards women who cause annoyance by open solicitation, I think their number is not very great, and I am of opinion that as soon as it is known that summary powers have been granted to the Police, the cause of complaint in this direction will be very largely diminished. With these remarks I move for permission to introduce a Bill to amend the Suburban Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Police Act, 1866."

The Hon'ble MAULVI MUHAMMAD YUSUF KHAN BAHADUR said:—"I for my part support this motion most unhesitatingly, and if I am at liberty to say so, the Hon'ble Sir John Lambert has placed the general public under a deep debt of gratitude by introducing this measure. This Bill is a step in the right direction, and I have no criticism to make on the principle of the Bill. The only question which may be raised is whether it has gone far enough to remedy the evil which it is the object of the Bill to prevent. With regard to the powers proposed to be conferred upon the Police, it is not necessary to offer any opinion at present, and therefore I reserve my remarks to the next meeting of the Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR JOHN LAMBERT applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business to enable him to introduce the Bill, and to move that it be read in Council.

The Hon'ble the President having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble SIR JOHN LAMBERT introduced the Bill, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

BENGAL SANITARY DRAINAGE BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. LYALL moved that the Hon'ble MR. R. C. DUTT be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to facilitate the construction of drainage works for improving the sanitary condition of local areas.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 29th January 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 26TH OF JANUARY 1895.

FINE settled weather of rather strongly developed north-east monsoon character prevailed over Bengal at the close of the previous week, and these conditions continued at the beginning of the week under review. On the 20th pressure and temperature were falling slowly over Bengal, and while pressure was generally slightly above the normal, temperature was in rather large defect, the deficiency at many stations equalling from 4° to 6° in both day and night temperatures. On the 21st a deepish barometric depression had formed in the Punjab, while a second and more feeble depression was passing through South Rajputana and Central India, but they were still too far distant to affect Bengal, where pressure was rising slowly and the temperature changes were small and variable. On the 22nd the depression in the Punjab had filled up, while the depression from Central India had advanced into the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces and Bhagalkhand. Pressure, however, on the 22nd began to fall over practically the whole of Bengal, the fall being largest in the western districts, and the warm wave of air in front of the depression affected the province largely, an increase of the mean temperature of from 5° to 8° occurring at many stations, while skies became heavily clouded at many stations, particularly in the west of the province. On the 23rd the depression had advanced over Bengal, where pressure had generally fallen briskly, and temperature had again risen by 4° and 5° at many stations. The skies were also almost overcast, and fairly general rain was received, but the falls were usually not heavy. On the 24th the depression had either broken or filled up, or had passed eastwards away from India, and hence pressure had risen briskly in Bengal, while a rapid fall in the temperature occurred, the fall at many stations equalling 6° and 7°. A few showers had again been received in the eastern districts, but skies were beginning to clear rapidly. On the 25th and 26th, again, fine settled weather of rather strongly developed north-east monsoon character and with falling temperature and humidity set in over Bengal, and the skies became practically cloudless, while rainfall entirely ceased. At this time, indeed, some decidedly low minimum temperatures were registered, and some stations in South-West Bengal, North Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur registered night temperatures of about 43° and 44°.

Pressure.—The general average pressure for the week has been very distinctly above the normal. The distribution of the excess has, however, been rather variable, and the largest excess amounts of about 0·04″ to 0·06″ have been recorded at several of the western stations, such as Arrah, Chapra, Bankura, Midnapore and Krishnagar, while on the other hand at other stations the excess has been less than 0·01″.

Temperature.—The average mean temperature of the whole province for the week has been 2·2° below the normal, and this excess has been tolerably equally distributed in all divisions.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variations from the normal temperature of the present season are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The variations, it will be seen, have been large in the day, or maximum, temperatures, which have been in defect at most stations by about two to three degrees, while they have been in defect at others by 4° and upwards. At most stations the night, or minimum, temperatures have been in moderate defect, usually less than 2°, while on the other hand two stations report slight excess amounts:—

Rainfall—Has been more general during the past week than in any week since the commencement of the cold season. The amounts falling have, however, on the whole been small, and in no large division does the fall average as much as a fifth of an inch; usually, indeed, the falls have been between a tenth and fifth of an inch. The smaller districts, which have received the largest average falls, have been—Burdwan (0·71 inch), Bankura (0·30 inch), Saran (0·31 inch), Monghyr (0·36 inch), and Palamau (0·36 inch).

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 26th of January 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION—No. 441.

The 5th February 1895.—In exercise of the power conferred by clause (1) of section 18 of the Indian Factories Act XV of 1881, as amended by section 16 of Act XI of 1891, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to issue the following revised Rules 17 and 18 and revised Form B in supersession of the corresponding rules and Form B published under Notification No. 1315, dated the 30th April 1892 :—

Rule 17.—Every Inspector, including the District Magistrate, shall keep a file of Inspection Reports of factories in Form B attached to these rules, on which shall be recorded all orders and remarks made by him at the time of each inspection.

Rule 18.—Every Inspecting Officer, if not the Magistrate, shall send two copies of each Inspection Report to the Magistrate of the District, who shall forward one copy with his remarks to the Manager of the Factory, and file the other copy in his office. A third copy of the Report shall be made in the Magistrate's Office and sent to the Commissioner. Any remarks made by the Commissioner shall be forwarded by him in the form of a memorandum to the Magistrate, who shall communicate them to the Inspector concerned, and, if necessary, to the Manager of the Factory, and shall also copy them in the copy of the Inspection Report kept in his office. In Calcutta the two copies of the Inspection Report shall be sent to the Commissioner of Police (instead of to the Magistrate of the District), who shall forward one copy with his remarks to the Manager of the Factory, and file the other copy in his office.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.
BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of J; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.
